JOHNSON METHODS.

Fredericks discussed his views on the Railroad Commission, civil service and labor, and took occasion to expose the methods adopted by Johnson and his "Progressive" leaders to spread false reports. The Republican candidate for Governor also reiterated the demand he has been making for two weeks that Johnson prove a statement he made at San Rafael to the effect that a public service corporation had been assessed $125,000 as a contribution to the Republican campaign fund. Since Fredericks called his bluff, Johnson hasn't repeated the charge, nor cared to talk about it.

Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, candidate for the United States Senate, spoke from the same platform with Fredericks. He took up national issues and ably presented his public record, on which he seeks election to the upper house of Congress.

Francis V. Keesling, who opposed Capt. Fredericks for nomination at the primary and who now is chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, presided at the meeting, which was opened by Col. Albert W. Castle, chairman of the County Committee. Short speeches were made by Col. W. J. Barrett, Keesling, Castle, Sam T. Breyer and Louis Pels.

Two submarines and several aero- planes are reported to have been sent to Constantinople through Bulgaria.
An action between German torpedo boats and hostile submarines was re- ported in the Baltic near Rugen Island, off the Prussian coast, but has not been confirmed.
COMMENT ON THE SITUATION.
"We are holding our own." Such is the gist of the French official re- port issued last night to cover the war in Western Europe. The French statement then goes over the ground of the official Petrograd report of operations in Eastern Europe. Thus the official report of Russian opera- tions usually gets in the papers twice the same day, but with different date lines. All of which is some victory for the press agent. If Petrograd would only return the compliment and give out details of what is going on in France, the world would have a better notion of the actual situa- tion. Both Petrograd and Paris agree that the Germans are fleeing from the Warsaw region. Berlin intimates that there has been no change in that part of the country.

The reader will not depend wholly upon the foregoing digest of it is, but will take in the complete news reports, which are carefully summarized, epitomized or classified.

INVADERS FORCED TO RETIRE; BELGIANS FIGHT DESPERATELY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

FROM THE BATTLE FRONT (via Paris) Oct. 21.—Despite the bom- bardment of the allied positions by the German heavy artillery, the Bel- gian army today forced the invaders to retire nearly five miles.

King Albert's forces, with the Eng- lish Channel on their extreme wing, are showing a marvelous fighting spirit, despite their long, hard cam- paign and grief over the loss of Ant- werp and other large cities.

In the terrific open struggle which has been in progress along the fron- tier for several days, the Belgians with the allied French and British, have repelled with the greatest energy in- cessant German attacks.

On the Lys, the French were close- ly engaged with general success. Three French sharpshooters performed a brilliant feat in defending a bridge, the possession of which was of great- est strategical importance to both.

The Germans made a cavalry dash in an effort to seize the passage, but the Frenchmen, behind a mill seventy- five yards away, poured their maga- zine fire into the Germans until the latter retired, leaving the bridge in the hands of the allies.

Around Lille, where the British are in action, there has been fierce fight- ing, particularly in the neighborhood of La Bassee, which threatens the German possession of Lille. Street fighting has been very severe between the long lines of houses connecting the sister towns of Roubaix and Tour- coing. In a bakery one of the Ger- man troopers was found in an oven, almost suffocated.

Along the center the artillery ac- tion continued today without great change, but several of the men in the trenches were captured.

ALLIES WILL LOSE ADVANTAGE IF GERMANS WIN AT NIEUPORT.

BY AN ASSOCIATE EDITOR OF "THE ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL."

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—The fighting along the Belgian border is still undecided, but the advantage of the last two days lies with the allies. By the advances to Roulers, twelve miles northeast of Ypres, they show a strength that makes possible their further success in pushing back the right flank of the Germans. Neither side has yet had time to construct ex- tensive systems of trenches, bomb proofs and covered passages, such as those that strengthen the line in France. If the allies wish to retain the advantage of movements in the open field they must carry out an active campaign so as to push the Germans back before they have brought sufficient force to this part of their line to construct and hold a continuous line of intrenchments.

In considering this retreat of the Germans to Roulers, it must be re- membered, however, that their main line of defense lies along the Lys River, via Courtral and Ghent. It is not likely that any advance of the allies in their field will for some time seriously affect the German cam- paign in France. The immediate re- sults can only be the forcing back of the Germans from the seacoast with the consequent moral relief to the British populace. While the advance of the allies to Roulers gives them an advantage, they will lose this and more unless they are successful in withstanding the vigorous attacks that are being delivered by the Germans at Nieuport and Dixmude. If the Germans can press home their flank- ing maneuvers they will enforce the hasty retreat of the allies from their advanced position.

FIGHTING IN RUSSIA.

In Russia the fighting is developing on a scale that rivals that in the western campaign. When the Rus- sians were confronted with the danger of the loss of Warsaw, due to the rapid advance of the German invasion from Silesia, they hastily rushed to the defense of the Polish capital part of the forces that were carrying on the campaign against the Germans in East Prussia. This weakening of the Russian army in the northern theater of operations forced them to give up their aggressive campaign. They took up defensive positions and for the last few days have been withstanding the attacks of the Germans. This fight- ing is practically part of the general battle in Poland, the object of the Germans being to keep the Russians so occupied that they cannot divert from this field any more troops for the defense of Warsaw.

Meanwhile at Warsaw the first Ger- man attack has failed. The Russians have been able to fall upon the flanks of the German army and to force them to fall back for twenty miles. Meanwhile the Germans are rushing forward forces from Thorn and Mlawa that should strengthen their northern flank and enable them to hold their ground.

Further to the south the Germans are concentrating their forces in the effort to gain a crossing of the Vistula River. By making an advance along the Galician border they will bring to bear upon the Russian army in Galicia the same pressure that has already forced them to make the re-

PARIS, Oct. 21, 11 p.m.—The official statement issued by the French War Office reports a violent battle on the left wing with the allies' forces holding their ground everywhere. The text follows:

"On our left wing from the North Sea as far as La Bassee, on the several fronts from Nieuport to Dixmude, from Ypres to Menin and from Warneton to La Bassee, a violent battle has been fought during the day.

"According to the last advices the allied forces were holding their ground everywhere.

"There is nothing to report regarding the center or the right wing.

"Russia:—The German army, which had advanced on War- saw, was forced yesterday to beat a precipitate retreat, the enemy abandoning the positions which he had established for defense. The Russians are in pursuit and have captured a number of pris- oners."

The French official communication given out this afternoon says that the attacks yesterday of the enemy in Nieuport, Dixmude and La Bassee, all were repulsed by the allies.

The text of the communication follows:

"During the day of yesterday the attacks of the enemy were particularly violent at Nieuport, Dixmude and La Bassee. They all were repulsed by the allied armies with great loss. At all other points the situation is without any notable change."

BERLIN.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN (via Amsterdam and Lon- don, 6:10 p.m.) Oct. 21.—An official announcement given out by the Ger- man military headquarters today says:

"Severe fighting continues on the Yser Canal. The enemy's artillery was supported from the sea northwest of Nieuport.

"The fighting of Lille continues. Our troops, taking the offensive, repulsed the enemy at several points.

"In the eastern theater of war no decision yet has been reached."

LONDON.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 22. 12:04 a.m.—The official press bureau issued the fol- lowing statement at midnight:

"Throughout yesterday the enemy made a vigorous attack against the al- lies' front, but was beaten back, suf- fering considerable losses. The Bel- gian army in particular distinguished itself by its spirited and brave defense of its position.

"In regard to the last part of the above announcement by the War Of- fice, the press bureau has received from an authentic source the follow- ing description of the Belgian army's work:

"'For the last four days the Belgian army has been in the trenches hold- ing a line some thirty kilometers (18½ miles) with the greatest deter- mination against heavy odds.

"'On several occasions the Belgians have made brave and successful coun- ter attacks against the German forces and have shown the soldier-like qual- ities that have distinguished their army during the long period they have been fighting against superior forces of the enemy in their country.'

"The statement from German sources that there has been a rebel- lion in British Somaliland and that Berbara, with all the British officials, have been taken, is entirely without foundation. The situation in the pro- tectorate remains unchanged since the outbreak of the war."

PETROGRAD.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, Oct. 21.—The Rus- sian official statement issued tonight says:

"The German troops which had oc- cupied the roads leading to Warsaw, in the region of the River Pilitsa, have been repulsed and are now in full re- treat, leaving their wounded on the battlefield.

"The Germans have abandoned the positions they had fortified in advance.

"The Russian troops are energetic- ally advancing along the whole front.

"The enemy is still occupying the left bank of the Vistula south of the Pilitza and as far as Sandomir.

"The Russians, who had been gal- lantly holding for eight days the re- gion of Kozenitz under the most un- favorable conditions and heavy artill- lery fire, achieved considerable suc- cess on October 20, and their position on the left bank of the Vistula is now secured.

"The attempts by the Austrians to cross the river San below Przemysl have been checked and the Russians are assuming the offensive there.

"In the region south of Przemysl are found the remains of all the Aus- trian corps defeated in prior fights in Galicia. Here the Russian troops are energetically checking the advance of numerous bodies of the enemy.

"There is no essential change in East Prussia. We are at present in touch with the enemy on a front over 400 versts (about 267 miles) from the lower Bsoura to the slopes of the Car- pathian Mountains."

NISH.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

NISH (via London,) Oct. 21, 10:20 p.m.—The following official statement has been issued by the Servian gov- ernment:

"On the night of October 17-18, at- tacks by the enemy were repulsed near the Losnitza customhouse and the principal positions on the Drina River to the south of that town. The same night the enemy bombarded Banovia from the Bejania heights, and also Topchidelsko, the Bardo bridge across the Save and the two Singalia islands. None of these op- erations met with success.

"On October 18 fighting took place along the whole front, occupied by our troops in Bosnia, and all the attacks made upon them were repulsed, with heavy losses to the enemy.

"On the same day the enemy direct- ed an attack against our right wing in the direction of Montchevo and against Erninova. Both these attempts were repulsed, as well as one against the Servians near Belgrade on the left bank of the Save. On the remainder of the front there is nothing of impor- tance to report."

LONDON, Oct. 21, 7:30 p.m.—Fierce attacks and counter-attacks, delivered almost continuously for a week or more by the allies and Ger- mans, have so far failed to decide the titanic battle in West Flanders and Northern France.

The Germans' supreme effort is de- clared to be directed against the al- lies' left beyond Lille, while the movements along the coast so far are believed to be in the nature of a recon- noissance.

The French War Office in its state- ment declared tonight that the allies are everywhere holding their ground, although especially violent attacks had been made during the day on their lines from the North Sea as far as La Bassee.

At Lille the Germans hold the two important roads out of that city—one northerly to Armentieres and the oth- er southerly to Fournes. They also have occupied the bed of the partly- finished Grand Canal du Nord, which is sixty miles long and gives complete protection for the movement of vast bodies of troops. This canal runs by Roye and Arras and so far every ef- fort of the allies to dislodge them has met with failure.

Aided by British warships which have bombarded villages held by the Germans, the allies are reported to have caught the Teuton force advanc- ing along the coast between two fires and to have forced them back to with- in six miles of Ostend. An uncon-

Verdun Doomed to Fall—the French Position said to be Weakening.

Entrance of the Correspondent into St. Mihiel Interpreted as Indicating that the Allies are in a Less Favorable Situation—British Endeavoring to Conceal Their Losses from the World.

BY JAMES F. J. ARCHIBALD.

[BY WIRELESS AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ON THE GERMAN FRONT, Oct. 20 (by wireless via Berlin and Sayville)—At St. Mihiel today, with the American navy officer, Lieutenant-Commander Gherardi, I saw the marvelous work of some German and Austrian batteries. It was scientifically accurate.

In all my experience I have never seen such splendid spirit and confidence among any troops. There is no thought even to the last man but of victory. The French, both townspeople and peasants, are apparently quite happy and are most friendly with the soldiers. The shell fire is always deadly and accurate. The treatment accorded by the military authorities is extremely liberal. They hide nothing and allow photographing everywhere.

An automobile escort was supplied for us this morning and a staff officer presented to me copies of the latest London and American papers in strange contrast with London, where the truth is not permitted.

The British reports from this district are absurd. They are endeavoring to hide their losses.

Yesterday I saw a French aeroplane attempt to scout the German position. It was driven back by the shrapnel—a wonderful sight. The new problem is handled wonderfully by the Germans. French aeroplane work cannot compare with that of the Germans, who have destroyed one French machine nearly every day. German efficiency is shown everywhere. The whole war machine is working with an uncanny and silent perfection. There is absolutely no excitement and no confusion. The horse has been practically eliminated by automobile transports.

It is believed here that Verdun is sure to fall very soon. Some of the outer forts have already been reduced. The French position is weakening as my entrance into St. Mihiel proves.

ANTI-GERMAN OUTBREAKS LIKE RUSSIAN POGROM.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Oct. 21.—The military expert of the Kreutz Zeitung estimates the losses of the French, the British, the Russians and the Belgians, in killed, wounded and prisoners, at least three-quarters of a million men.

BLAME YELLOW PRESS.

With reference to the recent anti-German demonstrations in London, there has been given out in Berlin an extract from the London Daily News, in which these outbreaks are compared with the Russian pogroms against the Jews. This paper lays the responsibility on the "yellow" press. The Daily Chronicle, another London paper, says it is evident that these assaults on Germans were carefully planned beforehand.

BERLIN INDUSTRIES ACTIVE.

According to reports from the industrial districts of Germany, made public in Berlin, German local industries are again in full activity, so much so that in a number of factories overtime is often being paid for.

The Aftenposten of Christiania publishes a report from London that the British iron and steel industries, with the exception of the arms factories, are without orders.

PRISONERS WELL TREATED.

Sven Hedin, the Swedish geographer and explorer, has published an article in the Stockholm Aftenbladet in which he declares that French prisoners in Germany are grateful for the humane treatment being extended them. He relates that he found German officers fair-minded concerning France in the present war and he expresses the conviction that Germany never would have attacked France if she had not been forced to against her will.

PROTEST FRENCH CRUEL.

The imperial government has sent a formal protest to France and to neutral nations concerning alleged violation of the rules of the Geneva convention by French franctireurs (sharpshooters) and regular troops.

It is declared in this protest that "the French have killed or mutilated wounded German soldiers; that they have fired on ambulances filled with wounded and bearing the Red Cross flag; that they had invaded German hospitals, robbed the hospital staff and stolen from the hospital equipment; that they have fired on German doctors who were gathering or attending to the wounded, killing some of these medical men and taking others captives, and that they have captured a German field clergyman whom they treated as a common criminal.

"This protest is accompanied by fifteen affidavits from various German sources, physicians and Catholic field priests which support the allegations made therein."

COME ON WITH THE FOOD.

The German government has informed the American Embassy that it has no objection to the importation of provisions for Belgian civilians.

FRENCH DRAGOONS DRIVE GERMANS FROM ROULERS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM (via London) Oct. 21.—The Telegraaf learns from Sluis that the allies were successful after a bombardment of Roulers in West Flanders that lasted throughout Tuesday night. It is said that the allies now occupy the town. The Telegraaf correspondent says that 40,000 Germans last week captured Roulers and later marched to Nieuport and Dixmude to strengthen the German army in that section. A guard of only about 100 was left to hold the town.

On Sunday 200 French dragoons from Ypres appeared and chased the German guard out of Roulers, where the dragoons took possession. Several thousand reinforcements soon came up and built barricades in the streets and posted artillery.

A German force hastily dispatched from Bruges and Ghent later swept down on the town and heavy fighting commenced. Supported by artillery, German troops gained an entrance and fierce street fighting followed, the French being forced to retreat. Once again the Germans occupied the town and burned down many buildings to open a way for their artillery.

Many of the inhabitants, the correspondent says, must have lost their lives in the cellars, where they sought refuge.

On Tuesday reinforcements for the allies arrived with heavy guns and after an all-night bombardment the allied troops were successful. They are now reported to be in possession of the place.

STATE MAY AID BELGIANS TO COLONIZE CALIFORNIA.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Belgian colonization on the Pacific Coast, especially in California, probably under State aid, will be attempted by bankers, capitalists, railway magnates and merchants, who formed themselves into a committee here today to that end. The meeting was under the auspices of the California Development Board.

Dr. Thomas Forsyth Hunt, dean of the University of California, and Robert Newton Lynch, president of the California Development Board, were appointed a committee to call upon large land owners of the State and learn where such lands are located; upon what terms they could be secured for colonization and upon what terms they could be rented with option to purchase.

A second committee was appointed to investigate the question of State aid in the matter and to find the status upon which a State mortgage bank could be founded.

On a committee appointed to act for the public were named Robert Newton Lynch, chairman; Gavin McNabb, lawyer; John S. Drum, banker; Dr. Thomas Forsyth Hunt; R. B. Hale, merchant; Mortimer Fleishhacker, capitalist; William Sproule, railway magnate, and a number of other men of affairs.

The sense of the meeting was that the actual purchase of land in California must follow some preliminary tenure on a rental basis.

GHENT AND BRUGES ESCAPE DAMAGE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Oct. 21 (via The Hague and London)—The cities of Ghent and Bruges, in Belgium, having been occupied by the Germans without fighting, they were in no way damaged. The churches and museums are intact.

When last month a bombardment was feared the famous art treasures in the two cities were moved to places of safety.

These include Michael Angelo's statue of the Madonna, which was in the Church of Notre Dame at Bruges, and art treasures and pictures in the Hospital of St. John, near the Church of Notre Dame. Some of the pictures were placed in a safe deposit vault. The mausoleum of Charles the Bold in Notre Dame was not damaged.

CHARITY BALL TO AID BELGIANS.

SHIPMENT OF CLOTHING FROM LOS ANGELES WILL BE SENT TODAY.

A charity ball will be given on November 6 at Payne's Dancing Academy, Orange street, near Alvarado street, by the Belgian War Relief Fund, for the benefit of the Belgian war sufferers. This has been made possible through the generosity of Col. Henry Laub, who has donated the hall, music and refreshments.

The first shipment of clothing collected for the Belgian war victims by the promoters of the "Belgian War Relief Fund" will be made from Los Angeles today. It will be consigned to the Belgian Consul-General in New York, who will forward it to the association in London. The committee, which is headed by James Moorkens, president of the organization, appeals to all those charitably inclined to aid their unfortunate compatriots by donating either clothing or money. Clothing will be received at Charles Winsel's seed store at No. 211 South Main street.

BRITISH MOTIVE IS MADE CLEAR.

Oil Ships Seized to Prevent Germans Getting Fuel.

Three American Steamers now Held by English.

Immediate Action Taken by State Department.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Great Britain's determination to keep from Germany cargoes of illuminating oil, which might be turned into fuel for army motor trucks, as well as for dreaded Zeppelins and aeroplanes, caused the seizure of American Standard Oil steamers by British cruisers.

This fact was developed today in conferences following the State Department's request through Ambassador Page at London for the immediate release of the tanker John D. Rockefeller.

President Wilson and Counsellor Lansing, acting Secretary of State, discussed the seizure of the ships, and later Mr. Lansing conferred with the British Ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, who called, seeking information concerning the attitude of the American government.

The Standard Oil Company has asked the State Department to secure the release of three of its ships, the John D. Rockefeller, Brindilla and Platura, which were captured by British warships while bound from American ports to neutral countries, carrying illuminating oil.

Only in the case of the Rockefeller, however, has the department felt warranted in taking immediate steps. This ship was under the American flag before the European war began, and therefore is not subject to any of the questions which might arise in connection with the other two vessels which were changed from foreign registry under the recept act of Congress.

The understanding at the British Embassy is that illuminating oil has been regularly declared contraband by the British government, but that the notice has not yet reached other powers. Therein the case resembles the commandeering of the copper-laden ship, which was taken into a British port in advance of notice to maritime natiohs that copper had been declared conditional contraband. In that case the United States did not abandon its contention that neutral cargoes in neutral bottoms passing between neutral ports were exempt from seizure. A sharp issue was avoided, however, through an understanding between the British and Dutch governments that the Dutch embargo would extend to copper.

It is suggested that a similar arrangement will be sought by the British government regarding petroleum and its products, not only with Holland, but with Denmark and Sweden and Norway.

NEED EIGHTEEN THOUSAND MEN FOR OUR NAVY IN CASE OF WAR.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—How 18,000 additional men would be needed by the American navy to man all its ships for war was explained in a statement issued tonight by Acting Secretary Roosevelt, supplementing Secretary Daniels's recent reply to published criticisms of the navy's preparedness.

While admitting that twelve of the thirty-three battleships cannot be put in service on account of the shortage of men, Mr. Roosevelt declared that in regard to ships and equipment the navy is in excellent shape.

Like Secretary Daniels, the acting Secretary maintained that battleships are still the paramount factors "in any war in which the belligerents are separated by great distances of water." The value of submarines in their present state of development for coast defense purposes and for offensive attacks within short radius was conceded.

"In regard to the numbers of the officers and men of the navy," Mr. Roosevelt said, "there has never been an attempt to hide the fact that although the numbers are recruited up to the limit allowed by Congress, we have only sufficient men to man, in an adequate manner, a portion of the vessels already built.

"At the present time three second-line battleships, two armored cruisers, four first-class cruisers, one second-class cruiser, two third-class cruisers, twenty-one destroyers, three monitors, five submarines, one gunboat, three fuel ships, and two vessels of special type are in commission in reserve; that is to say, they have on board only 25 to 50 per cent. of the crews necessary to man them in case of war.

"There are also six second-line battleships, one armored cruiser, one cruiser, second class, and fourteen torpedo boats which are in the condition technically called 'in ordinary.' These vessels are manned by from 10 to 20 per cent. of their regular complements, just enough to prevent them from rusting to pieces.

"To provide a proper complement for all vessels of the navy which could still be made useful for war purposes would require an addition to the present force allowed by Congress of about 18,000 men.

"Meanwhile the problem is becoming more difficult as time goes on, because of the vessels under construction, which must shortly be provided with crews. For instance, during the coming year two battleships, the Oklahoma and Nevada, will take their places with the fleet. Each of these vessels will require a complement of nearly a thousand men each.

"On paper the navy possesses at the present time ten battleships of the first line, and twenty-three battleships of the second line. Actually, however, only the ten battleships of the first line and eleven battleships of the second line can be placed in commission for service because of the shortage of men.

"In regard to the material of the navy, that is to say, ships and their equipment, matters are on the whole in excellent shape. As units, the vessels in commission are well built, well designed, and well cared for, and compare in all types very favorably with the vessels of other powers. In fact, I believe they are better. In a few particulars, such as the lack of sufficient torpedoes, there is room for great improvement. Also in regard to the lack of certain auxiliaries and the insufficient number of scouts, much can be done to make the fleet better balanced."

RUSSIA.

With the death grapple in Northern France at its height, Petrograd tonight lifted the veil that has shrouded in mystery the operations in the eastern theater of the war by announcing that the German troops menacing Warsaw have been repulsed and are now in full retreat, leaving their wounded on the battlefield. The official statement declares that although the Germans are still occupying the left bank of the Vistula, south of the Pilitza and as far as Sandomir, the Russian troops are advancing along the whole front, which is 267 miles in extent. The German report declares no decisive result has been achieved in the fighting in Russia.

The report seems to show that the Germans have concentrated a strong force of artillery in front of Kocienice, just across the river from the important fortress of Ivangorod. It adds that the Russians are holding this district under most unfavorable conditions.

GALICIA.

Of the progress of the battles in Galicia, the Russian and Austrian reports again are in direct conflict. The Russians say the Austrians have failed to cross the San River and that the Russians are taking the offensive, while near Przemysl the Russians repulsed numerous bodies of Austrians.

The Austrians, on the other hand, claim that their attacks are progressing and that the Russians have been driven out of several places. It is thought possible here that the Austrian report refers to a battle taking place further to the south of Przemysl but that it must be part of the general operations to get the Russians out of Galicia and threaten their flank.

In East Prussia the situation seems to be unchanged.

The Servians again report successes for their arms over the Austrians in the sphere of operations in the south.

FRANCE.

According to the French communication, the Germans made attacks on the allied lines today at Nieuport, Dixmunde and La Bassee. The German General Staff declares fighting continues on the Yser canal and that the Germans, taking the offensive west of Lille, have repulsed the French at several points.

The report seems to contravert optimistic accounts appearing in English newspapers from correspondents who claimed they were in West Flanders and who stated that the Germans had been driven back.

The Germans, however, are believed here to be fighting under a great disadvantage, especially along the coast, because the British ships which have been assisting the allies' land forces have longe-range guns capable of seriously menacing German troops and men in the trenches, as well as the ammunition trains and supply convoys which must remain in the immediate rear of the troops.

While no official information is available as to the ships which are being used for this purpose, it is probable that they are the three monitors which were being completed in England for the Brazilian government when the war broke out and which were bought by the Admiralty.

These monitors, which have been renamed Mersey, Humber and Severn, draw less than nine feet of water and could take up positions not far from shore from which their six-inch guns and 4.7-inch howitzers, of which each vessel carries two, would be able to throw shells nearly four miles across country, the range being given them by airmen.

The vessels assisting the allies have not been allowed to carry out their operations in peace, for German submarines have followed them down the coast and attacked them while they were shelling German positions. These attacks, however, were made futile by the presence of British destroyers. One account says the submarines suffered losses, but this statement has not been confirmed.

It has been remarked that the submarines and aeroplanes, which, in times of peace, have proved themselves the most dangerous arms of the army and navy service, have suffered little loss since the war commenced, and have been doing splendid work, traveling thousands of miles.

The battles on land are being contested with fury and tenacity, which would indicate that strategic importance is attached to the positions held by the opposing armies. When a town is reached street fighting generally develops, such as that which took place at Ypres last week. One side gains an advantage, only to lose it when the other side brings up reinforcements.

Thus far the allies have been able to hold Ypres, which is considered an important point, as it supports the allied force thrown out toward Roulers and seemingly endangers the rear of the German army advancing toward Dixmunde and the coast.

The Germans are striking hard at the French line in the vicinity of La Bassee, and have made counter attacks against the force which for many days has been endeavoring to relieve Lille.

Along the rest of the line from west to east the French communication says there is no notable change. The German staff also ignores that part of the battle front in its statement. These reports doubtless mean that neither side has made any considerable advance. It is not believed here that there has been a cessation in the fighting either on the Meuse, where the French are trying to drive the Germans away from St. Mihiel and Camp des Romains, or at Beifort, which the Germans are attacking.

Naval activities continue in different parts of the world. The German cruiser Emden again has been busy in far eastern waters, despite the capture last week of her supply ships. She has sunk four British steamers and a dredger, and captured two other vessels—the steamers Exford and Saint Egbert. The Saint Egbert was allowed to proceed to Cochin, British India, with the passengers and crews of the vessels the Emden sank. The report of the operations of the Emden does not say what was done with the Exford, which flies the British flag, and was bound from Yokohama for New York.

In the Adriatic, where the allies' fleets are attacking Cattaro, there has been fighting between the French cruiser Waldeck-Rousseau and Austrian submarines and torpedo boat destroyers. According to the Austrian account of the fight, the warships "escaped safely." Austrian submarines also have raided Antivari, Montenegro, and destroyed some magazines.

In the Baltic it is reported there has been an engagement between torpedo boat destroyers and submarines. No details of this fighting have been received here.

Italy has decided to remain out of the war, but she has notified the powers that she may find it necessary to occupy Avlona, Albania, owing to the chaotic conditions prevailing in that country.

A revolutionary outbreak occurred in Portugal today, but was promptly surpressed. It was learned from an authoritative Portuguese source in London that the Portuguese government had been in close communication with Great Britain and was prepared to employ all her available forces, whenever and wherever necessary, by the side of the allies. The Portuguese Congress meets tomorrow, and, it is expected here, will take some action on this subject.

Belgian refugees are beginning to return from Holland to their own country, especially to Antwerp. German military authorities, it is said, have ordered all German civilians to leave Brussels, owing, it is believed, to shortage of provisions there.

Great Britain is adopting stricter measures against German and Austrian subjects in that country. Many of the men will be sent to detention camps.

GERMAN FLEET ALSO SAID TO BE PREPARING FOR A DASH TO SEA.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 22.—Dr. Armgaard Karl Graves, former personal spy of the Kaiser, predicted tonight that a fleet of Zeppelins would attack London about November 1 and that all the German ships here are preparing for a concentrated dash to sea.

Orders have been received by the Winchester Repeating Arms Company for a hundred million rounds of ammunition, supposedly for use in the European war.

Contingent Leaving San Francisco on Japanese Liner Today said to be Advance Guard of Thousands Determined to Launch Movement to Throw off Yoke in Their Home Country.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—Much speculation surrounds the departure from here of more than 100 Hindus, who recently were refused admittance into British Columbia, and who will sail tomorrow for their native land by the Japanese liner Tenyo Maru.

Following the arrival from Seattle of the East Indians several days ago, rumors were rife as to their intention of hastening back to India by this route, and today the reports crystallized into the suggestion that they are but the advance guard of thousands of Sikhs who are being drawn home for the purpose of launching a revolution against British rule.

Most of the Hindus who have been in this country are schooled in the doctrines of the new revolutionary movement, which has been kept in check through the stern measures enforced by the British government in India. This and the account that the Hindus were disgruntled at being shut out of British Columbia add color to the report that the revolutionary movement may attempt to throw off the yoke of England, now that the home government has its hands full.

The Hindus are well supplied with money, and each paid his passage in the steerage. Upon their arrival here the East Indians were not [illegible] by the immigration [illegible] they were in transit, but a close watch was maintained over them on the ship. In addition to the Hindus in the North, about fifty more, who have been in this part of the country, are also sailing home on the Tenyo Maru. The liner Mongolia, sailing from Seattle, will carry 100 more.

A. Carnagie Ross, the local Japanese Consul, said today he had no [illegible] the Hindus sailing tomorrow on the Tenyo Maru for the Orient, or any intention of [illegible] the ports of Great Britain.

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Oct. 21.—Marked many months ago for assassination, William C. The shooting was carried out with the greatest coolness and precision in the Vancouver Courthouse while Hopkinson stood with his hands in his pockets ready to enter the Assize Court, which was to take up a Hindu case.

ADOO PLAN IS REJECTED.

Federal Reserve Directors Delay Opening Banks.

But Wilson is Determined to Hasten Undertaking.

Declares Confidence Needed to Restore Business.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The governors of the twelve Federal reserve banks refused by two votes today to support the proposal of Secretary McAdoo to open the new banking system for business November 16. By a vote of 37 to 35 they recommended that the opening be set for November 16.

This action has no binding effect on the Federal reserve board or on Mr. McAdoo, for the currency law gives the Secretary authority to open the banks when he believes they are ready to do business. It was evident tonight that members were not particularly pleased with the recommendation of the board, and it is possible that a meeting of the board within the next few days will develop sufficient sentiment to bring a vote asking the Secretary to name an earlier date.

The discussion of the opening date was taken up immediately after the bankers returned from the White House, where President Wilson declared his belief that the best thing for the country was to open the banks at the earliest possible date.

Republican party all over the United States and help the party in the interests of the people? When the battle is fought and won, we, as a part of the party that is in power, will be able to ask the government for our share of the benefits, and get them.

"I am perfectly willing to take up what Johnson says are the issues of this campaign. I have a list of them here in this book, the 'Progressive' campaign book. I am not going to read all of this book, but, my friends, in it they claim credit for everything good that came to California except the Ten Commandments and the climate. In their platform they have followed this book. If this was got out as a piece of fiction it is all right, but as a contribution to political history it has 'Gulliver's Travels' beaten 100 miles. First, they started out to control the Republican party. Then they started a new party, and that was abandoned. Now they are crying non-partisanship. Did you hear anything about non-partisanship until about three months ago, when the party they attempted to build failed to materialize?

"They claim they gave us woman suffrage. As a matter of fact, woman suffrage was given by the male voters of all parties when the constitutional amendment was carried. Hiram Johnson was opposed to woman suffrage.

"They claim they gave us the direct primary law. Hiram Johnson was nominated on direct primary. The direct primary law came by reason of the battle that has been going on for years against the old political machine.

"In the big bible here they claim they gave us the pure-food law. That law was passed in 1907, before Johnson took office.

"They claim the child-labor law.
The child-labor laws of California were passed in 1905 and 1907. Every time they attached an amendment they claimed the authorship of the entire law.

"The women and children laws were given to us in 1907.

"They claim the purity of election laws. The purity of election laws were first given to us in 1903, amended in 1905, made better in 1907 and 1909.
We had splendid purity of election laws two years before Johnson went into office."

Fredericks went right on down the list until he came to the statement made that he was not in sympathy with labor.

"There is one matter I want to take the opportunity to discuss fully tonight," the captain announced,
"and that is the attempt Hiram Johnson is making to have labor believe that I am against the man and woman who toils. Johnson does not openly say that I am opposed to labor.
He does it in a roundabout way. He makes it appear by innuendo and whis-perings that because I prosecuted the McNamaras I am an enemy of the laboring man.

"Now, I prosecuted the McNamaras because it was my duty to do so as the District Attorney of Los Angeles.
Two men came into the city of Los Angeles and dynamited a building, taking the lives of twenty-one innocent men. The McNamara brothers were arrested. And labor throughout the country went to their defense, not because labor believed in murder, but because it believed the McNamaras innocent. I knew they were guilty and it developed that I was right.

"I don't believe there is an honest laboring man who wouldn't have done as I did. I challenge Hiram Johnson or any other man to prove that I ever have by word of mouth or action indicated that I was opposed to labor.
On the contrary, I always have had and now have the deepest sympathy and liking for the man who toils. In that great contest in Los Angeles I gained an insight into both sides; I learned the character of labor and capital. And, as a result of what I learned, I believe that I can work out the solution of industrial troubles and do much to bring about industrial peace.

"Hiram Johnson has said that I am opposed to civil service," Fredericks declared. "Well, I am opposed to his kind of civil service. The civil service of California is a stench in the nostrils of the people. Now, I believe in civil service. I don't believe that it should be used as a cloak to hide political machinations. I want to say this: Any man or woman employed by the State under civil service who has been doing his or her duty need have no fear of me when I am Governor. There will be no politics in civil service. But those men and women who have been neglecting their work to do politics for Hiram Johnson had better make up their minds right now that they will have to walk.

"There are now on the stump can-paigning for Johnson civil service employees and employees of the State who are drawing an aggregate of $100,000 a year in salaries. If they have no work to do, let's abolish their jobs. But if they do have duties to perform, let's make them attend to their work."

The Republican standard-bearer called attention to the fact that the flow of outside capital into California had ceased.

"Capital," he said, "is fearful of investing in this State. The socialistic tendencies of the present administration and the things it has done have dryen capital out. The records of the Secretary of State show that the capitalization of corporations in California has fallen off $876,000,000 within the last two years. That is something for us to think about. The conditions that are frightening capital must be done away with."

Fredericks was listened to attentively and was frequently and vociferously applauded when he predicted a landslide for the Republicans in the State.

Saw Steamer Sink.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Oct. 21.—"The steamer Brussels reports that she saw the steamer Cormorant of Cork sink in the North Sea," says a dispatch to Lloyd's from Harwich. It is supposed she struck a mine. Her crew probably was saved by a torpedo boat which was seen to leave her.

Sixty-third Congress.

FINALLY AGREE ON "WAR" TAX.

Consumer Must Pay Rates Assessed Against Wine.

Gasoline Escapes Entirely but the Banks Don't.

Beer, Theaters and Brokers Must Divide Profits.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Agreement on the war revenue bill was reached late today by Senate and House conferees at a sacrifice of from fifteen to twenty million dollars in revenue proposed to be derived. At the last moment the conferees eliminated the proposed amendments to the liquor taxes, rejecting the Senate amendments to increase the tax on beer from $1.50 to $1.75 a barrel and to impose a tax of 5 cents a gallon on rectified spirits.

In sacrificing these amendments, the conferees made no substitution.
Representative Underwood's proposal to restore the tax of 2 cents a gallon on gasoline as contained in the House bill having been rejected by the Senate conferees. This action fixed the estimated annual revenue at approximately $90,000,000 instead of $105,000,000 as contemplated in the Senate bill.

Throughout the day the conferees fought over the liquor tax and gasoline amendments, the compromise proposal having been carried to the President by Senator Simmons and Representative Underwood.

MAY ADJOURN TODAY.

Final agreement, however, paved the way for early adjournment of Congress, and leaders in both houses tonight planned to expedite adoption of the report so that the session might be ended tomorrow night. The agreement will be reported to the House at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and will be taken up in the Senate immediately after the House acts.

Cotton legislation met defeat in the House while the war revenue conference was in progress, the measure to provide for a quarter of a billion additional currency through the issuance of United States notes or Panama Canal bonds being rejected by a vote of 123 to 91.

Lack of a quorum prevented action on the bill to permit national banks to issue circulating notes based on commercial paper up to 100 per cent. of unimpaired capital and surplus and also on the measure to license cotton warehouses. Indications tonight were both of these measures would be "pocketed" in the rush for adjournment tomorrow.

THE FINAL FIGURE.

The war revenue bill agreement fixed the tax on beer at $1.50 a barrel, with the Senate amendment for a 5 per cent. rebate for prompt payment eliminated. The Senate amendment reducing the proposed tax on bank capital and surplus from $2 to $1 a thousand was retained. The Senate proposal to tax domestic sweet and dry wines 5 cents a gallon with a tax of 55 cents a gallon on brandies used in the fortification of wines also was retained. The Senate amendment increasing the tax on tobacco manufacturers and dealers was agreed to with few exceptions and the stamp taxes were not disturbed. Stock brokers will be taxed $30 a year instead of $50. The graduated tax on theaters also was changed slightly, the final rates being as follows:

Theaters with a seating capacity of 250 or less will pay $25 a year; $00 capacity, $50; $00 capacity, $75; more than $00 capacity, $100 a year.

COTTON MEN DIE FIGHTING.

Southern members of the House fought strenuously, but in vain for the bill which would have authorized a deposit in national and State banks in cotton and tobacco States of $250,- 000,000 in government funds.

Chairman Glass of the Banking and Currency Committee, Republican Leader Mann and others in opposition on both sides declared the cotton plan was "utterly unsound" and would contract the credit of the South rather than expand it. The cotton belt members, led by Representatives Henry and Hardwick, insisted that the plan followed past treasury policies and that the treasury often made large deposits of government funds to avert financial stress in the various sections of the country.

CONSUMER PAYS WINE TAX.

The wine schedule in which a large number of Californians are interested, means that the tax will be 8 cents per gallon on both sweet and dry wines with a pro rata on smaller containers than a gallon. This tax is a stamp, which will be affixed to bottles only when sold or offered for sale to retail consumers.

This means that the tax will not fall on wine producers, but on consumers. The tax on brandy used in fortifying sweet wines is 55 cents per gallon.

An almost complete revision was made of the sweet wine law of 1890.
The restriction of 4 per cent. saccharine is removed and the provision limiting the amount of wine spirits to 14 per cent. eliminated.
Sweet wines may be fortified 24 per cent. Wine-makers are not required to be distillers nor to own vineyards.
Commercial grape brandy may be used in fortifying. Sweet wine is defined to be fermented or partiall; fermented grape juice, with allowance of usual cellar treatment.

Drawbacks of the 55 cent tax are allowed on fortified wines exported direct from the winery and makers may recover the spirits and obtain rebate of tax at any time before the wines leave their premises. Sweet wines may be mixed and blended with each other or with other wines and be used in making cordials, liquors and compounds.

Ohio pomace and "fake" winemakers will get no consolation out of this tax, for any addition of water or sugar to wines they make must be done under supervision of pure food inspectors.

Representative Raker today appeared before the conferees and made a strong argument that the conference accept the Senate wine amendment.

PRESBYTERY FAVORS DRYS.

Resolutions Indorsing Movement are Adopted at Sacramento and Day of Prayer is Set Apart.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 21.—Resolutions indorsing the State-wide prohibition movement, commending the work of the California Dry Federation and the Anti-Saloon League; urging the co-operation of the church members with these bodies, and setting November 1 as a day for prayers that the State might be voted dry at the coming election, was the principal work of the Presbyterian Synod of California, now holding its annual session here. The 400 delegates in attendance also listened to an address by Supt. Guy Wadsworth of the Anti-Saloon League and paraded the streets in favor of prohibition.

The Women's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of the synod opened a two-day session here today.
Election of officers will take place tomorrow.

Railroad Record.

BANKERS URGE HIGHER RATES.

Business Needs Psychological Stimulus, They Insist.

Railroad Bonds the Standard of Securities Abroad.

Credit on Firmer Basis than Industrial Concerns.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—The psychological stimulus to business that might be effected by a general 5 per cent. increase in freight rates should be the chief consideration of the Interstate Commerce Commission, it was declared today in the commission's hearing on the renewed application of the eastern railroads.

Stress on the psychological aspect of the situation was laid by Lawrence Chamberlain, a New York banker, who spoke for the Investment Bankers' Association.

Mr. Chamberlain said he knew nothing about freight rates; his testimony was devoted to a detailed discussion of the railway bond market.

"This question ought to be settled, not on the basis of the railroads and shippers," he asserted, "but on the contention of the bankers that the country needs saving. Raising rates is the greatest thing that can be done to relieve the situation psychologically."

The position of the witness was instantly challenged by Commissioners Clements and Clark.

"Is it the general understanding of the bankers," asked the former, "that this commission has carte blanche to do anything it wants to do to meet a psychological condition? We had supposed this was a government of law; not of the caprice of a commission."

"We will not take any other position in any brief we file in this case," hastily interposed Morris Rosenthal, counsel for the intervening bankers.
"We make no other contention."

"We come before you when, in our opinion, the credit condition of the country is paramount," Mr. Chamberlain interjected. He added that the bankers had taken no part in the previous controversy between railroads and shippers over rate advances.

The entire day was devoted to hearing the testimony of bankers. The cross-examination of Frederick Straus was concluded, the witness reciting facts tending to show that railroad bonds were the standard of American securities abroad and that they were falling in favor because of increased cost of operation and taxation, which made the margin of net earnings over net operating expenses too small to insure their marketability.

Counsel for various shippers' organizations and special counsel for the commission took sharp issue with the witness on the question of the relative attractiveness to foreign investors of railway bonds and the securities of public service corporations and industrial concerns. They drew from Mr. Chamberlain admissions that at present the "yield of industrial securities is 1 per cent. higher than that of railway bonds, and of public service securities half of 1 per cent. higher."

The "yield," it was explained, indicated the rate corporations were compelled to pay for borrowed money, and showed the credit of the railroads still to be better than that of other concerns.

AUSTRIANS OUTWITTED; CAPTURED BY RUSSIANS.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, Oct. 21 (via London.)—Correspondence from Warsaw giving the details of the recent capture of an Austrian battalion in the region of Stry, Galicia, relates how the Austrians, bearing branches of trees heavy with foliage to screen their movements, advanced at nightfall. The Russians, feigning ignorance of their approach, lessened the musketry fire, allowing the Austrians to draw near, but meanwhile bringing their machine guns and light artillery into position.

In the morning, so the story goes, the Russians opened an unexpected and deadly fire on the Austrians, who after a momentary hesitation, surrendered without resistance before a Russian bayonet charge. Among the prisoners taken were fifteen officers.
Six machine guns were captured.

A correspondent on the East Prussian front says that activity has been resumed along the entire line from Suwalki to Lyck, where the Germans have been reinforced. German assaults were repulsed and sharp Russian counter-attacks made. The Germans are engaged in skirmishing and foraging and appear to have no intention of advancing in force.

Refugees from Russian Poland have brought information concerning a secret telephone system of which the Germans have made extended use.

They relate that when German troops enter a town in Russian Poland some officer at once asks to be directed to the home of a non-Polish resident, giving the man's name. In the house invariably there is found a telephone and the cellar is stocked with benzine or gasoline, canned soups and other provisions. By the telephone the Germans establish communication with the rear. They inform headquarters of their exact whereabouts and even seek from villages ahead of them information as to the best roads.

The Russians are taking steps to destroy this system.

WANT ALBANIANS TO FIGHT SERVIA.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, Oct. 20, 7 p.m.—The Gior-nale d'Italia says the Young Turks are conducting a campaign in Albania designed to make the Albanians fight the Servians. This, the paper says, is a violation of the neutrality of Albania, guaranteed by the conference of London. The only country now in a position to enforce the agreement of the conference of London is Italy, owing to her neutrality and the newspaper urged that the government take measures to prevent any further violation of Albania's neutrality.

The Tribuna, discussing the same subject, remarks that France and Great Britain, with a view to respecting the neutrality of Albania, did not occupy any part of her coast as a base of operations, thereby sacrificing their own interests. The newspaper adds that if Italy occupies Avlona for humanitarian reasons, this must not deter her from meeting the graver problems arising from the European conflict.

Style 1786 — $4

Men, we offer you this "English" model as a supreme four dollar "Korrect Shape". It combines quality and appearance— its supremacy is apparent— it will impress you the minute you see it. Which'll it be— tan or dull calf, lace or button?

Another great $4 "Korrect Shape" is the "Freak".... built broad and roomy, for solid comfort. The "Freak" has probably relieved more foot troubles than all the other "Comfort Shoes" combined.

Three Pretty Hats

The first model is designed by Waters of Newport—a "Napoleon." Made of black hatter's plush, with a plain band and pointed rosettes of black moire ribbon. Worn just as Napoleon wore his hat on the battlefield, it is striking.

The next is an all-silver hat from Maurice of New York. The brim is trimmed with green ostrich and edged with velvet of the same shade. Pink and silver roses hide among the ostrich. A pleasing hat for the theater.

A purple Gainsborough designed by us is edged with ostrich shaded from taupe to white. The straight-edged brim is finished with silver cord. Small bunches of variegated flowers give the final touch. A hat that compares well with our imported models, with the balance of price in its favor.

ANTI-KAMNIA TABLETS FOR

Locomotor Ataxia

In a very interesting article on Locomotor Ataxia, Dr. Henry C. Story says that drugs have practically no beneficial effect in these cases. He says that rest should be insisted upon, and there should be no worries or troubles. Plenty of fresh air and moderate exercise must be insisted upon, but over-exertion is injurious. The use of tobacco and alcohol should be strictly forbidden, and over-eating is dangerous, especially when the food is poorly masticated. The food must be of the most nourishing kind, and the quantity and variety must be changed so that the patient will not lose his appetite. The most annoying symptom in these cases is the pain which at times is almost unbearable. Dr. Story says that he finds two Anti-kamnia Tablets repeated in an hour if necessary, gives prompt relief and rest to the patient. These Tablets can be obtained at all druggists in any quantity desired. Ask for A-K Tablets.

Also unexcelled for headaches, neuralgia and all Pain.

GARRISON & SON

THE MISSION GROCERY STORE—It's fine to think that in these days of striving after the elusive dollar, men should believe they have more worthy things to seek to do, and in the doing take pride. Messrs. Garrison & Son are men-pioneers in the grocery business and their best objective is to supply their patrons with the purest and most wholesome foods. Naturally, in looking over the macaroni market for the best and purest, their first choice fell on GOLDEN EGG PRODUCTS as made by the GOLDEN EGG COMPANY for where else could better Noodles, Macaroni and Spaghetti be made? Nowhere, in fact. Columbus discovered America, but it remained for the GOLDEN EGG COMPANY to discover how to make and dry macaroni products solely by machinery — hands not touching it in the process, this you will perceive gives a Clean, sanitary food product fit to eat, so say all who use it; most nourishing also, for 'tis made of only the best hard durum wheat flour. Garrison & Son sell lots of GOLDEN EGG Noodles, Macaroni and Spaghetti and recently captured a first prize for one of the best window displays of GOLDEN EGG of which they feel rightly proud. AUSTRIANS' SECOND WIND.
The addition of reserves and the opportunity to reorganize their armies seem to have given new fighting force to the Austrians. The raising of the siege of Przemysl must also have been a great encouragement to their forces.
On the Russian side conditions should now be much more favorable than they were at the beginning of the week. They should have every advantage of numbers and position. In Poland they have five lines of railway by which they can bring to their front supplies and reinforcements from all parts of Russia, and they have occupied Galicia long enough to prepare the four lines of railroad there for similar service. The Germans, though, have just made their advance through a district in which the railroads have recently been destroyed. They must depend almost entirely upon wagons and auto truck service for furnishing their armies with supplies and long-continued rains have made the country roads well-nigh impassable. The German army must then be facing a serious shortage of food and ammunition.

U.S. STEEL CORPORATION IS CALLED LAW-ABIDING.

Counsel Declares It Was Never Intended to Restrain Trade and that its Organization Toned up and Steadied the Industry in the United States.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—That the United States Steel Corporation is a law-abiding institution, that its organization has had a beneficial effect on the business life of the country; that it has toned up and steadied the iron and steel industry of the country; that it has built up a wonderful foreign trade, and that it was not formed to create a monopoly or to suppress competition, are some of the things counsel for the corporation today told the four judges who are hearing arguments in the Federal District Court on the government's suit to dissolve the billion-dollar concern.
Richard V. Lindabury of Newark, N. J., spoke for five hours in defense of the corporation after Jacob M. Dickinson, chief counsel for the government in the present case, had concluded his opening address, which had consumed more than six hours. Mr. Dickinson went into the question today of interlocking directorates. He said that directors of the steel corporation at various times were directors of railroad companies which controled about half the railroad mileage in the United States. He gave instances taken from the records of the case, where steel directors sitting as railroad directors had an apparent influence in steering business in the direction of the steel corporation.
Mr. Lindabury, in opening for the defense, went into the history of the iron and steel industry exhaustively, giving a picture of the uncertain conditions in the business before the coming of the steel corporation. He contended that the formation of the corporation was a natural development of conditions in the industry, and that there was no thought of monopoly or of restraining trade when the big corporation was chartered in New Jersey in 1901.
There was no thought in the mind of Andrew Carnegie when he sold his interest in the Carnegie company to the new corporation that a monopoly was to be created, Mr. Lindabury said.
"Mr. Carnegie's offer to sell his interest," counsel added, "was not based upon a desire to enter a combination, but upon a desire to retire from business and devote his life and means to philanthropic purposes."
Mr. Lindabury expects to conclude his argument tomorrow, when he will be followed by Henry E. Colton, special assistant to the Attorney-General, who will speak on the acquisition by the steel corporation of the ore lands in the Northwest.

DELEGATES ARE SELECTED.

President Wilson Names Nine Mining Men to Attend Seventeenth Annual Congress at Phoenix.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—President Wilson has named nine delegates to attend the seventeenth annual session of the American mining congress at Phoenix, Ariz., December 7. The compulsory arbitration of industrial disputes is the principal subject up for discussion, and men of radical views on both sides of the question have been asked to speak.
Those are the delegates that were named by the President:
Curtis Holbrook Lindley and Dr. H. Foster Bain, San Francisco; Walter Douglas, Bisbee, Ariz.; Seeley W. Mudd, Los Angeles; Dr. L. S. Ricketts, New York; Dr. William B. Phillips, University of Texas, Austin; Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, director of the bureau of mines; Dr. George Otis Smith, United States Geological Survey, and Hennen Jennings of Washington.

MISS VANDERBILT BECOMES BRIDE.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Oct. 21.—Miss Grace Vanderbilt, daughter of Edgar Vanderbilt of No. 135 West One Hundred and Twenty-third street, was married in the Bretton Hall Hotel last night to A. Hoffman Keese of Pasadena, Cal. The Rev. Dr. Edgar Tilton officiated. The ceremony and the reception and dance that followed took place in the ballroom, which was decorated with autumn leaves and palms.
The bride was attended by Miss Alice Lippincott of Brooklyn and had as bridesmaids Misses Jennie Caldwell, Edith Hand, Richarda Van Santvoord and Estelle Bertine. Dr. Mumford Keese of Syracuse, N. Y., was best man.
The couple were showered with rose leaves, boxes of which had been sent from Southern California. They will live in Pasadena.

Mr. Keese is the son of Mrs. J. W. Keese, No. 117 Madison street, Pasadena.

Appeal.

CATHOLICS IN MEXICO ASK FOR PROTECTION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—An appeal to the American government and people to protect the Catholic clergy and church in Mexico and demand reparation for outrages already committed, was filed with the State Department today by a committee of the American Federation of Catholic Societies.
Describing the political conditions which are declared to be responsible for the present state of unrest in Mexico, the committee asserted the attitude of the Roman Catholic clergy has been one of absolute neutrality, striving only to teach the uneducated classes obedience and respect for constituted authority.
"The revolution which will shortly be in control of the government in Mexico," says the statement, "has proclaimed, as a necessary means for the establishment and working out of its programme, the suppression of three classes which it considers to be insuperable obstacles to its purposes:
"The regular army, the Roman Catholic party and the large landholders."
The statement declared there had been a continuation of outrages against the Catholic church and communicants from the latter part of the Diaz regime to the present day. The activities of Gens. Carranza, Villa, Obregon, Lucio Blanco, Rafael Buelna, Benjamin Hill and others of the revolutionary leaders, it was asserted, had been such that it could not be said that the outrages were committed only by soldiers and without their knowledge.
In conclusion the appeal said:
"We trust the American people will realize that they are in honor bound to defend us, to demand satisfaction for the flagrant violation of the recommendations which were made by them to Carranza and his followers. If this be not done, then the declaration of the Carranzistas will be confirmed that whatever they do, is done with the knowledge and approbation of the Washington government."

CARRANZA MOBILIZES ARMY, AND IS READY FOR VILLA.

BY GEORGE ADDISON HUGHES.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 21.—Carranza has mobilized an army of 20,000 men at Queretaro as a result of Villa's alleged violation of the neutrality of Aguascalientes. Arms and ammunition are being removed from the historic ciudadein for transportation north and the arsenals near Chapultepec are working day and night in the manufacture of war materials.
Queretaro is the base of the contemplated action by Carranza, in case Villa provokes an armed conflict. It is half way between Aguascallientes and the capital, or a distance of seven hours by train. Aguascalientes is about 360 miles from Mexico City. Negotiations for an amicable adjustment of the difficulties between Carranza and the eliminationists began today when Carranza received Gens. Obregon, Chao and Castro to hear arguments why he should attend the Aguascalientes convention. It was officially stated, following this conference, that Carranza must decline to accept the invitation, although, one of the invitation commission, Obregon, is regarded as still loyal to Carranza, as are Gens. Gonzales and Jesus Carranza, representing a total of more than 50,000 men.
Villa has less than 40,000 men. That leaves about 40,000 troops whose choice remains undefined, but whose representatives are at the convention. Gen. Gustavo Aguirre, who burned Laredo, under orders from Huerta, is a prisoner here, as is Guillermo Carricante, until a few days ago chief of the secret police and formerly special agent of Felix Diaz, and Huerta representatives are also reaching here. Authentic sources at Vera Cruz say conditions are most unsettled as a result of President Wilson's contradictory orders. With all of their equipment loaded on the transport, the troops are yet retained on land, and are unnecessarily subjected to untold hardships.
Carranza late tonight received from Aguascalientes a message advising him that he needs no authorization by the convention for any troop movements he may consider imperative.

Withdrawal of Troops from Mexico Foreshadowed.

Convention Agrees to Protect Customs Employees.

But Opposing Forces at Naco Insist on Fighting.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Prospective withdrawal of the American forces from Vera Cruz was foreshadowed today by the approval given by the Mexican national convention at Aguascalientes to the requests of the American government for protection of Mexicans who served the United States, and other desired guarantees.

The State Department received word that the convention had instructed Gen. Carranza to confer with the American government's requests, and a proclamation is to be issued by him covering the various points involved.

The American government considers not only that clericals and Mexicans who supported the American forces during their occupation be free from molestation or punishment, but that taxes and customs duties already collected by the American officers be not reimposed.

It is not known just when the troops and ships will be ordered from Vera Cruz, but it was intimated that officials of the United States would be ready, irrespective of the deliberations of the convention on the question of a provisional government.

Reports that Gen. Villa had massed an army within threatening distance of the convention was not credited by administration officials, who pointed to the fact that only yesterday American Consular Agent Carothers telegraphed that Villa said that he had purposely withdrawn his forces from the vicinity of Aguascalientes so as not to appear to be coercing the assembly, a charge which he said he believed Carranza officials would readily make against him.

HILL REFUSES TO END FIGHTING

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NACO (Ariz.) Oct. 21.—Cessation of hostilities between the Villa and Carranza factions at Naco, Ariz., seems possible only through the physical separation of the two forces out of range of each other's fire.

Gen. Ramon V. Sosa, peace commissioner from the Aguascalientes convention, arrived here early today to settle the trouble between Gen. Maytorena and Gen. Hill, whom he is besieging in Naco.

He secured from Maytorena an agreement to withdraw six miles to a kilometer ten. The Villa commander said he was unable to [illegible] force the provisions of a truce because his officers were [illegible] and continued the [illegible].

Gen. Hill, meanwhile, continued his defensive work and his forces are attacking Yaqui skirmishers. The Yaqui fire resulted in only one wound today.

OBREGON WOULD MOVE CONVENTION

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

EL PASO (Tex.) Oct. 21.—Gen. Obregon, as head of the Constitutionalist commission, has placed a request before the Aguascalientes convention asking for guarantees of safety for all delegates and requesting that the convention be moved to [illegible] place.

This information was received here today in an official message from Mexico City, confirming the fears of the Carranza government that its delegates either have been arrested or threatened with arrest by the Villa faction.

REMARKABLE FALL OF [illegible] SEEN AT HEALDSBURG

Shower of Gelatinous Algae Descends on California Town in Lustrous Metallic Sheets of Silvery Ropes—Smells Like Fish and Looks Like Asbestos.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—A remarkable fall of large quantities of what is described as meteoric matter took place at Healdsburg on October 12. The shower, which began between 7 and 8 o'clock in the morning and reached its maximum at 9 o'clock, was seen by all the inhabitants of the town.

According to an eyewitness, Mr. Madeira, the material was as high in the heavens, by a distance as a mass of stars, lustrous as sheets and silvery ropes. It fell to the earth in various shapes and sizes, ranging from minute particles to sheets twenty feet square. Some of such quantities that long ropes or masses of it hung from the eaves and telegraph wires.

When the substance reached the warm earth it began at once to contract and crumble up into small masses, resembling flour. Analysis though tests proved that it was not that mineral. Most of it was dissipated, though samples were preserved, and sent to Director W. W. Campbell of the Lick Observatory and to Prof. Tito Alippi, director of the observatory at Urbano, Italy.

Immediate tests made by the latter showed that the stuff was gelatinous in substance, had a peculiar fishlike taste, and burned readily. It threw off a slight odor like fish oil, which might indicate great richness.

Stories of the fall of meteoric masses from the sky have been common before, but were ranked by Professor Humboldt among the most remarkable of meteorology. It has been noted that such falls may be due to the very rapid growth of gelatinous algae floating in the

FOR SALE—

JOHN'S FRIEND WENT TO GARDEN ACRES YESTERDAY

Of course, he bought an acre, and so would you if you saw this exceptionally choice piece of property. Forty sales have been made during the past week. This certainly proves the merits of GARDEN ACRES, or why so many sales? Without question GARDEN ACRES is the most popular acreage subdivision ever placed upon the market, and at the present selling rate three to four weeks will see GARDEN ACRES completely sold out.

You can't afford to miss this opportunity of securing a great big piece of ground right at the city's door at acreage prices. PLEASE REMEMBER this is rich, loam, soil without alkali or adobe, that it is but four blocks to a yellow car line, with seven minute car service, and 7½c car fare. Inglewood city water piped upon the streets. There is absolutely no choicer spot around Los Angeles for a suburban home where gardening and the chicken business can be carried on to a profit. GARDEN ACRES is sold in parcels of from $445 up to $1100—$25 and $30 cash, and $10 and $15 a month. Go with us upon one of our excursions leaving our office Thursdays and Sundays at 10:30 a.m., or better still phone now for reservations. SHOULTS & MYERS, Managers GARDEN ACRES.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Parish "High Jinks."

A church bazaar is being given this week at St. Mary's, Fourth and Chicago streets, for the benefit of the parish fund. It also welcomes back the rector, Rev. J. McManus, who has just returned from the war zone.

Flood Control Headquarters.

The County Board of Flood Control Engineers will open offices Monday on the eighth floor of the Hall of Records. Heretofore the board's business has been largely transacted by the members through their private offices.

Boy Scout Masters' Meeting.

A special meeting of scout masters and officials of the Boy Scouts of America will be held in the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association tonight. H. D. Cross, Los Angeles commissioner of scouts, plans to form a permanent organization of boy scouts in this city.

To Talk on Popes.

At the Plaza Church Saturday evening the Rev. J. Tonello, an Italian priest, will lecture in English upon the late and new popes, both personally known to him. He will include some incidents of which he was an eyewitness during the war now going on in Europe. Admission free. All welcome.

Halloween Masquerade.

A Halloween masquerade carnival and ball will be given at Ocean Park Saturday, the 31st inst., under the auspices of the Ocean Park Boosters' Club. The pier will be decorated and novel carnival features arranged during the afternoon. A masquerade dance will be given at night in the dance pavilion on the pier.

Sign of Prosperity.

During the week ended the 9th inst. the Santa Fe moved a total of 30,438 cars of revenue freight, a gain of 1489 cars compared with the same week of 1913. The loading on company rails was 24,656 cars, an increase of 1838 cars, while 5782 cars were received from connecting lines, a decrease of 349 cars, as compared with the corresponding week of last year.

New Cars for Espee.

Bids have been asked by the Southern Pacific, according to advice received here yesterday, for the construction of sixteen passenger coaches, six combination passenger and smoking cars and two combination passenger and express cars, to cost a total of approximately $250,000. The order will be supplemental to large orders placed early in the year for new passenger equipment.

Semi-Annual Police Inspection.

About 500 persons will take active part in the semi-annual inspection of the Los Angeles police department at Exposition Park at 2 o'clock p.m. on the 31st inst. Before the inspection and drill there will be a police parade along Broadway, between Temple and Tenth streets. Invitations have already been sent out by Chief Sebastian, in the name of Mayor Rose and Police Commissioners Morgan and Owen.

Eight Hours and Motor Trucks.

The semi-monthly meeting of the Motor Truck Club of California, to be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Hotel Alexandria, will have, in addition to the usual programme, an interesting debate on the proposed eight-hour law. Thomas W. Williams, Socialist, will affirm the proposition, and Frank G. Tyrrell will oppose it. Any one interested in any way in the commercial car industry, whether a member of the club or not, will be welcome.

At the Knees!

Should it be altar pillows, suggestive of culmination to Cupid's generous play of arrows? Or should pillows made to order be used? The fairest of the city's maids lending them out to the opera, "Patience," for the homeless in war-worn Europe, were in a quandary. Their parts require endless kneeling. The result was "no joke." Their genius, as often happens under pressure, triumphed. Powder puffs! Indeed! And now they all wear 'em—one at either knee!

Pioneer Sheriff Passes.

Thomas Richards, who made many friends and acquaintances in Southern California last winter, died yesterday morning in Missoula, Mont., at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. P. Rowe. Mr. Richards spent several months in Los Angeles and nearby cities, most of the time with his son, J. W. Richards of this city. He was a pioneer Sheriff in Montana thirty years ago, served as County Recorder for several years, and for the past eighteen years was engaged in educational work.

To Give Irish Play.

Under the auspices of the Holy Name Society the Irish drama "Shaun Aroon," by Charles Townsend, will be presented tonight and tomorrow night at the Father Meyer Hall on Grand avenue, near Washington. The performance is to be under the direction of Thomas McDermott, who will play the title role. In the cast are Emmet Mathews, Louis Boiteaux, John Molloy, Harry McCarthy, Charles King, Connie Hennessy, William Dickerson, Misses Helen Bendler, Helen Walsh and May Cox. Prof. Louis A. Cristianer, ventriloquist, will assist at the first performance, and music will be furnished by Busch's orchestra.

Belgian War Relief Fund.

Plans are progressing nicely for the charity ball to be given Friday evening, November 6, at Payne's assembly-room, Orange and Alvarado streets, by the Belgians, for the benefit of the Belgian war relief fund.

Postoffice Clerks' Ball.

A postoffice clerks' ball will be held tomorrow night at Rutherford's, No. 1024 South Grand avenue. The committee is composed of C. R. Van Dingstee, chairman; Robert Daney, Fred Hoffman, Leo Maynard, Otto Zink, Charles Millar and M. Horine.

Celebrate Edison Day.

Edison day, in honor of the inventor, was celebrated here yesterday by the Jovian Electrical League with a dinner at Christopher's. More than 200 were present, including many of the largest electrical men in the Southland.

Five 'n Over Club.

The Hamburger's Buyers' Association will be hosts this evening to the Five 'n Over Club at dinner in the cafe beautiful, fourth floor Hamburger's. Mrs. D. C. McCan, D. A. Hamburger and Baker P. Lee are the speakers scheduled.

Consul of Uruguay.

The collector of customs has been advised that the State Department has recognized James F. L. Moorkens as Consul of Uruguay. Mr. Moorkens is already Belgian Consul, with offices at the Lehman steamship agency on South Spring street.

Convention Ends Today.

The convention of the Grand Lodge of California of the International Order of Good Templars comes to an end this evening in Swedish Hall, Eighteenth and Flower streets. Officers will be elected today. Delegates are in attendance from all parts of the State.

With Hopes Deferred.

While detectives are working on the Lansdon poison mystery, they have slight hopes of finding the person who put the strychnine in the bromo seltzer bottle. Several new clews were run down yesterday to no avail. Mrs. W. E. Lansdon died at her home at Ramona Acres about three weeks ago, after taking two doses of bromo seltzer.

"New England Influence."

The "New England influence" was discussed yesterday at a luncheon given by the New England College Club at the Clark. Fifty members were present. The speakers declared that New England gave America its public school system and many of its ideas of art and culture. Plans for the luncheon were made by Henry W. Mallard, secretary of the club.

Delta Sigma Banquet.

The local Delta Sigma fraternity will give a banquet tomorrow evening at the Clark in compliment to the freshman class in the dental college of the University of Southern California. Short addresses will be made by Dr. I. E. Ford, Dr. W. D. Moise, Dr. G. M. Coe, Dr. H. M. Hunt, Dr. W. G. Gill and Dr. B. B. McCollum. The guests will be entertained with high-class cabaret. Reservations have been made for 125 persons.

SCHOOL BOYS WITH "HOP."

Seven Youths Found with Marihuana They Secured from Woman. No Arrests—Stuff Confiscated.

Investigating a report that some of the boys of the Castelar-street school were addicted to the use of marihuana cigarettes, Inspector Jones of the State Board of Pharmacy made a visit to the school yesterday afternoon and found seven boys with the "makings" on them. One of them is a negro and the others Mexicans. The youngsters had about six ounces of the drug in their pockets. The stuff was confiscated, but the boys were not arrested.

The boys told the inspector they had secured the marihuana from Maria Reyes of No. 626 Aliso street. Upon the woman's premises a large quantity of the drug was found, according to Jones, but she was not arrested.

BUSINESS BREVITIES.
[Advertising.]

Hobart Bosworth and Dist.-Atty. John D. Fredericks are the chief characters in an interesting film entitled "Humanity—The Prison—The Strike," being given at 2:15 and 8:15 p.m., daily this week, at the Mozart Theater, Grand avenue, near Seventh.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Oct. 21.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Local Forecaster.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.83; at 5 p.m., 29.87. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 59 deg. and 65 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 81 per cent.; 5 p.m., 50 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., southwest, velocity 8 miles; 5 p.m., south, velocity 8 miles. Highest temperature, 66 deg.; lowest, 57 deg. Rainfall for season, .30 of an inch. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—Generally fair and moderately warm weather continues over the eastern half of the United States, owing to the sluggish character of the high area. The western area of low pressure moved southeasterly and is slowly breaking up. It caused showers throughout the Pacific Coast from the Canadian to the Mexican boundary. The heaviest rainfall in Southern California, .53 of an inch, occurred at San Bernardino. Other localities in this district averaged a tenth of an inch. San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Los Angeles were the only stations so far without precipitation. Before the western area of low pressure disappears, it will give continued unsettled weather to Los Angeles and vicinity, probably with showers at intervals, during the ensuing thirty-six hours.

LOCAL FORECAST.

For Los Angeles and vicinity: Continued unsettled weather, probably with showers, Thursday; westerly winds.

For California south of the Tehachapi: Unsettled Thursday; probably showers.

STATE FORECAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Forecast: San Francisco and vicinity: Fair Thursday; light west wind.

Sacramento, Santa Clara and San Joaquin valleys: Fair Thursday; light northwest wind.

California south of the Tehachapi: Unsettled Thursday; probably showers; light west wind.

ARIZONA FORECAST.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Forecast for Arizona: Fair in west, local rains in east portion, Thursday; Friday, fair and warmer.

YUMA (Ariz.), Oct. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch from the U. S. Reclamation Service.] Gauge height Colorado River, 16.95 feet.

CARDIFF GIANT AGAIN.

Man Here who was in on Famous Hoax Tells how the Public was Fooled for a Circus.

The discovery of what appeared to be a petrified man on a farm near Albany, N. Y., caused widespread interest about thirty years ago. Scientists came from far and near and the farm was overrun with thousands of visitors. William E. Nash, a business man of Seattle, who is at the Angelus, probably knows more about the famous hoax than any other living person.

"I was in the circus business in those days and was on the lookout for sensations," Mr. Nash declared yesterday. "I have been accused of planning and executing the whole thing. I will admit that I know all about it.

"Cement was not as familiar thirty years ago as it is now. This 'petrified' man was made from the artificial rock. He was of heroic size. The cast was made in New York City. The thing was left buried on the farm for more than a year before it was discovered. The man who found it was not in on the game. He really discovered it, but it was arranged so he could not help it. The find was exhibited in a circus for a long time and made good money. It was known as the 'Cardiff Giant,' being found at New Cardiff, N. Y."

BEATEN, PLANS COUNTER.

Wife of Man Fined for Slapping Her Face Files Divorce Complaint First. More of Fosses' Fussy.

A woman won yesterday in a race with her husband to the divorce court when Mrs. Mae Foss, wife of Oscar F. Foss, who was fined $25 in Police Court Tuesday afternoon for slapping her face, filed a complaint with the County Clerk. She asks for alimony and absolute separation.

While Mrs. Foss was executing the preliminary details to her suit her husband is said to have been preparing a similar document. The fact that she beat him to it will result in his filing a counter suit.

Mrs. Foss charges her husband with habitual intemperance and in her complaint recounts a number of instances in which he is alleged to have threatened her life. On the night of March 10 she says Mr. Foss tried to kill her in their rooms at the Percival apartments. She says he was after her with a long knife when guests of the house ran to her rescue.

Mr. Foss also is charged with calling his wife vile names and making dire threats to her over the telephone.

REVIEW OF THE FINEST.

Invitations Issued for Inspection of Police Department on the Afternoon of Halloween.

Chief Sebastian issued several hundred invitations yesterday to the semi-annual police inspection and review to be held at Exposition Park on the afternoon of October 31. Preceding the exercises there will be a parade in which four companies of patrolmen and a squad of mounted officers will march, led by the police band.

Among those invited are former Mayors and Police Chiefs, city officials, visiting officers and men prominent in club and professional life.

INTERESTING PAPER.

Mrs. P. P. Morrison, treasurer of the Woman's Republican League of Los Angeles, read an interesting paper on "Immigration and Our New Responsibilities" at the civic convention of Southern California, at Blanchard Hall yesterday afternoon. The convention will close tomorrow evening.

Unique Meeting.

SAY WORST IS YET TO COME.

Farmers Point Out Dangers of Eight-hour Law.

Forerunner of Many Other Deadly Measures.

Lay Plans to Kill it Just Before Election.

Indicting the proposed eight-hour law as a measure proposed by Socialists and as calculated to paralyze industry and injure wage-workers "first and worst," 150 men, representing Southland agricultural interests, which yearly pay out $15,000,000 in wages, met yesterday in the basement of the Hollingsworth building at the call of the Farmers' and Fruit Growers' Federation, to discuss means of educating the people to an appreciation of the grave danger with which they are confronted.

As a climax to the meeting, the following resolution, proposed by President D. Eyman Huff of the Agricultural and Commercial League of Orange County, was adopted:

"Whereas, the proposed eight-hour amendment to the State Constitution is pernicious and constitutes a menace to the continued prosperity of the State, and is inimical to the best interests of all and especially to the working class, whose sole capital is their labor, therefore be it

"Resolved, that we farmers and fruit growers call upon the patriotic citizens of Los Angeles and other cities and especially upon the wage earners, to weigh and consider the dangers which are inherent in this initiative measure and to defeat it at the polls."

"I take it that the viciousness of this law is well understood by those who have considered it," said C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, general manager of the Limoneria Company, the greatest lemon-raising concern in the world. "But there are many who do not understand there are seeds inherent in this law which will result in the paralysis of industry, and that it is but the forerunner of other measures aimed to put a deadly blight on the fruit-raising and other interests of this State.

"Do we want to advertise to the world," Mr. Teague continued, with fervor, "that this is the Utopia of the laboring man? Do we want to lure them here with a universal eight-hour law, something that no other State has, and force wages lower and lower, and the percentage of poverty higher and higher? No, in the name of humanity and our State, let us point out the viciousness of this law, that all alike may realize its significance."

COUNCIL OF WAR.

Called to order by H. B. Chase, president of the National Orange Company of Riverside, and vice-president of the Farmers' and Fruit Growers' Federation, the assembly was representative of the 15,000 farmers and fruit growers of the eight Southern California counties. In the assembly sat the officers and many of the committeemen of the organizations which have sprung into spontaneous being from Santa Barbara south to combat the measure.

It was a council of war, or, as one man said, "an eleventh-hour experience meeting," to consider what measures have been most effective in an educational way. Without exception, the newspaper advertising columns were named as having offered the best results, while "circularizing" was almost as unanimously condemned as a waste of money and an undignified means of waging a campaign in which prosperity is at stake.

"Now, if ever, is the time for advertising, for pressing home what advantages we have," said W. L. Hamlin, manager of the Pomona Valley Anti-Eight-Hour Association. "The circular will go to the waste-baskets unread; the advertisement in the newspaper will command attention. Also, I would suggest that letters from our exchanges will help, also personal work."

Similar advice was given by R. C. Allen, president of the San Diego County Farmers' Protective League; C. W. Leffingwell, Jr., president of the Pasadena Farmers' and Fruit Growers' Association; Sherman H. Stow, president of the Industrial and Farmers' League of Santa Barbara; D. Eyman Huff, president, and John A. McFadden, secretary of the Agricultural and Commercial League of Orange county; N. B. Hinckley, president of the San Bernardino County Farming and Commercial League, and George L. Winterbotham, president of the Agricultural and Horticultural League of Riverside county.

REVOLUTIONARY.

"Don't, above all, allow persons to believe that the eight-hour law has even the seeds of humanitarianism in it," said State Senator D. W. Mott of Santa Paula. "It is a plain revolutionary, Socialistic measure, fostered

LOOT BURIED ON CATALINA?

Officers Think Rogers Hid Big Postoffice Haul in Silver Canyon.

Searching parties left Avalon yesterday to hunt in the hills for the bulk of the $25,000 in gold coin which is supposed to have been cached on Catalina Island by Clare L. Rogers of El Paso, the postal clerk who is charged with confiscating a registered package of gold addressed to a New York bank.

From September 16 to September 23 Rogers stayed at the Glenmore Hotel, Avalon. Before the arrival of Inspector Webster of the Postoffice Department, he made several early-morning trips into the hills and frequented the disused mines in the locality of Silver Canyon.

It is believed by the searchers that the money will soon be located, as the ground in the vicinity of Silver Canyon has not been disturbed by miners for several years. About $5000 of the money has been located, but Rogers absolutely refuses to tell where the balance is hidden.

puted to own 750,000 shares of common stock and 225,000 shares of the preferred stock. He was made president and chose Mr. Thede secretary. According to the officials, neither Mr. O'Brien nor the secretary filed with the Secretary of State of California the necessary legal papers nor did they file a bond, as required by law. No report of the company appears to have been filed with the County Clerk here, yet the company is alleged to be doing business in California.

On January 3, 1912, the company obtained a permit from the Board of Supervisors to establish a plant in Tuna Canyon, near La Crescenta. The permit was for four months. At the expiration of that time no new permit was secured. It is alleged no powder is manufactured at the present time.

Mrs. Warren alleges that Mr. O'Brien told her the stock was selling for $2 a share, but he would sell it to her for $1 per share. She is said to have bought $3762 worth. Mr. O'Brien, according to Mrs. Warren, also informed her that the stock paid 10 per cent. dividends. She says Mr. O'Brien did pay her $100 a month for ten months and then ceased payments.

"It is a joke," said Mr. O'Brien last night. "I will be glad to tell the District Attorney the whole story. I had heard that Mrs. Warren was dissatisfied with her purchase of stock, but we can't please everybody. Some of us have got to lose, that's certain."

FEAR DAMAGE BY DROUGHT.

Hotel Men's Association in Resolution Opposes Prohibition.

The following resolution was passed yesterday by the directorage of the Southern California Hotel Men's Association:

"Resolved, that the prohibition movement in California would be most detrimental to the best interests of this State. The laboring classes, farmers, viticulturists, railways, banks and hotels, with their thousands of employees, would not only be seriously injured, but the travel to California would be discouraged by prohibition."

The association includes nearly every hotel of importance in Southern California. Its officers are Walter Raymond, president; Vernon Goodwin, vice-president; Harry Loomis, treasurer, and E. Q. Cason, secretary. The Executive Committee consists of the following: W. J. Colopy, chairman; Walter Brode, John S. Mitchell, C. C. Loomis, H. C. Fryman, W. B. Corwin, Edward Davis, Dwight Hart, C. J. Corwin, B. F. Green, J. H. Holmes, Milo M. Potter.

CRY FROM THE RESTLESS PAST.

David Dare, Famous Exile, Begs to Come Home.

Strange Aftermath to Wreck of San Diego Bank.

President Blew Brains Out; Hundred Thousand Gone.

A bitter prayer for repatriation, cried from the half-forgotten past, went unanswered in the office of United States District Attorney Schoonover yesterday. It was written to the local officials from Athens, Greece, by David D. Dare, who, twenty-three years ago, was vice-president of the California National Bank of San Diego. He and President Collins together looted the institution of $100,000, according to grand jury indictments returned against them at that time. Stockholders and depositors alike were made victims, and many were practically beggared. According to the officers, Collins blew his brains out after his apprehension by a United States deputy marshal, but Dare, who was supposed to have his hands on the lion's share of the loot, escaped and went to Greece. He had left for Europe on the plea of sickness just before the crash came.

Like Philip Nolan, the half-pathetic hero of Edward Everett Hale's "Man Without a Country," who was never allowed to see the American flag again after he had cursed the United States, Dare is now begging in his old age for the privilege of returning to this country. The present status of the indictment, which alleges the embezzlement of a large amount, is a matter of some doubt but the staff of the United States District Attorney's office stands ready to force Dare to trial if he ever comes within their reach.

To enable Dare to return to this country untouched by the law it would be necessary for Dist.-Atty. Schoonover to make a recommendation to the Attorney-General of the United States that the indictment be dismissed. There is no disposition on the part of anyone concerned, however, to do this, and the probabilities are that Dare will die where he has lived for the past twenty years, in the shadow of the Acropolis at Athens.

When Dare first went to Greece he had with him a large amount of money and established himself in the oriental rug business at Athens. For a while he prospered, but more lately times are said to have been hard with him and he is now reported to be eking out a poor living.

The reason Dare was not caught and returned to face trial when first located was that at that time there was no extradition treaty with Greece. He will not, however, be permitted to return to this country and his appeal will be filed with the records of his case in the archives of the United States District Court.

An inspection of these records shows that at the time Dare was indicted the late Matthew T. Allen, who later on became presiding justice of the District Court of Appeal, was United States District Attorney, and George E. Gard was United States Marshal. The indictment was returned in January, 1892, and on July 7, of the same year the bond was fixed at $5000. The return shows that the warrant for Dare's arrest was never served, Marshal Gard saying thereon that Dare was not to be found within the bailiwick.

Old-time bankers in this city clearly recall the circumstances of the California National Bank's failure. Dare, then vice-president, had gone to New York on a trip for his health, supposedly, and while there sent a letter to President Collins enclosing one from his physician which advised a voyage to Europe.

Both bankers, it is stated, were heavily interested in speculative ven-

HOW ABOUT IT, MR. SOLOMON?

Eight Men Settle on Same Land at Same Second; Who Gets Entry?

Eight claimants to the same homestead entry in the Santa Barbara National Forest appeared in the local Land Office yesterday. All of them said they settled on the land at the first second of the first minute of the first hour of the first day that the land was open to entry—that is, at 9 o'clock a.m., August 10. One of them merely tied his horse to a tree, but he alleges that that constitutes a settlement.

Endeavoring to ascertain priority of claim, the land officials learned that one man looked at the sun and guessed at the hour. The next swore that it was cloudy that day. A third said he told the time by an ancient Mexican watch, and a fourth knew he was there at 9 o'clock because he was there from dawn till dark. A fifth claims the land because he has the entry adjoining it.

All the men are poor and all are in deadly earnest. Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell admit they do not know how the case is to be settled.

OVATION FOR FRANCIS.

Thousands Expected to Express Confidence in Returning School Head Despite Factional Attacks.

The return home next Saturday morning of J. H. Francis, superintendent of schools, who has been doing institute work in Idaho during the past few weeks, will be marked by a big reception. D. B. Lyons, chairman of the Francis Committee of One Hundred, said last night he expects several thousand persons to take part in the ovation.

More than 400 automobiles carrying mothers, members of women's clubs and others friendly to Mr. Francis will be at the Arcade station when the superintendent arrives on the Lark, due at 9:45 o'clock. The reception will be followed by a parade through some of the principal streets, ending at the Security building, Fifth and Spring streets, where Mr. Francis has his office.

The parade will be led by one of the High School bands and it is expected several hundred children will be in the line of march.

The demonstration is planned as a mark of confidence in Mr. Francis and to show him his friends are legion in the fight waged against him by some members of the Board of Education.

Official Opinion.

MONEY SAVING PLAN BLOCKED.

City Tax Offices Can't be Welded with County's.

Proposed Ordinance Might Abolish Council.

So it will not Go on Ballot at November Election.

Mayor Rose has scored a victory in the preliminary skirmish on the proposition to consolidate the offices of City Tax Collector and City Assessor with the similar county offices. The proposition will not go to the voters at the election on November 3.

The City Council, after having passed an ordinance providing for the consolidation of these offices with the corresponding county offices, which the Mayor promptly vetoed, decided at a session yesterday afternoon to abandon for the present the project of submitting the proposition to a vote of the people.

This action was based on an opinion submitted by City Attorney Stephens, to the effect that the proposed measure was not permissible under the provisions of the city charter, in that it might do away with the offices of the City Clerk, City Treasurer and even the Council itself. The effects of one clause in the charter might be so far-reaching as to seriously complicate the city government, held the City Attorney.

In this opinion the City Attorney pointed out that the section providing for the consolidation of city offices with like county offices also provides that "if by such ordinance only a part of the duties of an office are so devolved, then the remaining duties thereof shall be performed by such officer as may be designated for that purpose by such ordinance, and the office shall cease to exist while such ordinance remains in effect."

As functions of the City Clerk, City Treasurer and the Council itself, as a Board of Equalization, would be transferred to the county officials, the point is raised that this might wipe these city officials out of existence under a strict interpretation of the charter provisions.

DELAY ADVISED.

The City Attorney declared that either the loss of offices provided for the city or an illegal assessment would be of such serious nature that the WEIRD STORY IS RECALLED.

Plaster Cast Reported Buried as Body of Banker Supposedly Self-slain.

The revival of the famous story of the looting of the California National Bank of San Diego by President Collins and Vice-President Dare last night recalled to the minds of bankers a remarkable report which was current at San Diego in that excited time and which appears to have received some credence.

This was that President Collins, who was supposed to have shot and killed himself at the Brewster Hotel following his arrest, really succeeded in escaping and joining Dare in Europe. A plaster cast was said to have been given to an undertaker who was "in on the deal" and that this was buried as Collins's body. The undertaker mentioned did actually leave San Diego afterward.

WOMEN TO TALK FOR CANDIDATES

Novelty Offered by Members of League.

Fredericks Film Makes Hit at Local Theater.

Why Johnson is Unpopular in Every Section.

Once more the women have beaten the men to the wire with something absolutely new in politics.

This afternoon at the Alexandria Hotel, candidates are welcome, at a meeting of the Women's Republican League, but they are not welcome to speak. The talking will be done by the women and candidates may hear their virtues extolled instead of doing the extolling themselves.

Assignments have been made to women speakers who will tell why their chosen candidates should be elected. In some instances the wives of candidates will talk for their husbands. All the husbands are expected to do is to join in the applause.

The novel meeting will occur at 2:30 o'clock in the ballroom at the Alexandria. The president of the league will open the programme with a short address in favor of Capt. Fredericks for Governor, who has been indorsed by the league. The other assignments have been made as follows:

Dr. Eva Bussenius for Congressman Knowland, Republican candidate for United States Senator; Mrs. Cornelius Cole for Capt. H. Z. Osborne, Republican candidate for Congress, Tenth District; Mrs. Mary E. Garrett for Frank C. Roberts, Republican candidate for Congress, Ninth District; Mrs. Viola Hickock for J. W. Ballard, Republican candidate for the State Senate in the Thirty-eighth District; Mrs. A. L. Bartlett, for her husband, who is Assemblyman candidate in the Sixty-third District; Miss Adeline Stanton for Edwin Baker, Assemblyman candidate in the Seventy-fifth District; Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz, for Judge Frank R. Willis, candidate for Superior Judge; Mrs. Georgia F. Bullock, for Justice Sidney N. Reeve, candidate for Superior Judge; Mrs. Frank W. Blair for her husband, candidate for Superior Judge; Miss Chambers, for her brother, Judge Chambers, candidate for Superior Judge; Mrs. Cora D. Lewis for Judge Frederickson for re-election as Police Judge; Mrs. W. H. Barker, for Henry E. Carter for police Judge; Mrs. Hugh Crawford, for her husband as Police Judge; Mrs. W. D. McConnell, for her husband as police Hammel for re-election; Mrs. Meth for Judge; Mrs. T. L. O'Brien, for her husband as Police Judge; Miss Yager, for Frank A. Duggan for justice of the peace; Mrs. Bainbridge, for Sheriff John C. Cline for Sheriff; Mrs. Pearl Morrison, for W. J. Ford for District Attorney.

FILM MAKES HIT.

"HUMANITY" DRAWS CROWD.

The film "Humanity" at the Mozart Theater is packing that Grand-avenue playhouse this week. The motion picture is the picturization of ideas and ideals of Capt. Fredericks in his scheme for prison reform. Scenes are laid in San Quentin and Folsom penitentiaries and the work of Capt. Fredericks as District Attorney is shown.

The picture has received generous applause at every exhibition. The public should see this film, as it eloquently depicts a big human effort and one in which Capt. Fredericks plays an important part.

The film is shown each afternoon at 2:15 and each evening at 8:15.

HI-LY UNPOPULAR.

SCOTT SHOWS REASONS.

Returning from a tour of the State, Charles E. Scott, nominee for the Assembly in the sixty-fourth District, predicts a big Republican victory November 3. Mr. Scott particularly was impressed with the strength of Capt. Fredericks in the central part of the State, where there is a great Democratic registration, but where, at the same time, Curtin's election is regarded as impossible. As a result Democratic leaders, especially in Tulare and Fresno counties, are turning to Capt. Fredericks.

Throughout the great San Joaquin Valley generally Fredericks sentiment is overwhelming. One of the principal reasons for this, says Scott, is Johnson's fight on the dairymen, who represent one of the greatest industries of the valley. Mr. Scott found the marine interests and shipbuilding industry around San Francisco bay also solidly arrayed against Johnson on account of his failure to live up to promises.

Another fact which the voters are weighing heavily against Johnson, Mr. Scott discovered, is the memory of the disfranchisement of the Republican party in California in 1912.

Above all other grievances of the voters against the Johnson administration, Mr. Scott found the most general one opposition to further ill-advised legislation, which he considers a continued affliction for California in the event Johnson is re-elected.

FOR BARTLETT.

DEMOCRATS AID HIM.

Prominent Democrats residing in the Sixty-third Assembly District publicly are making known their intention of voting for Alfred L. Bartlett. Among those who have come out for the energetic young Republican legislative nominee are Olin Wellborn, Jr., L. W. McAtee, Albert M. Norton, W. Ona Morton, John P. Steele, Minor Moore, John Huntsberger and G. W. Felton. In addition, Mr. Bartlett has received private assurances from scores of other Democrats that they are working for his election.

There is no Democratic nominee in the Sixty-third District, with the result that by far the greater percentage of the voters of that party, it is expected, will cast their ballots for Bartlett as against his Progressive opponent.

Mr. Bartlett yesterday afternoon addressed two precinct neighborhood meetings. Tonight he will address a gathering of colored voters at No. 2825 Glassell avenue, and tomorrow night he will speak at a precinct meeting in Hoegee Hall, East Hollywood. Later the same evening he will appear at Cole Hall, Colegrove.

NURSES ORGANIZE.

WILL SUPPORT FREDERICKS.

More than 150 trained nurses met last night at the Alexandria, with the Fredericks Women's Club, known as the "flying squadron," and organized a campaign club to work in the interest of Capt. Fredericks and the Republican ticket. The organization was effected by Mrs. Emma P. Durbin. Mrs. O. P. Clark, head of the Fredericks Club, presided at the meeting. She and Mrs. William Baurhyte and Mrs. Ella Westland spoke in favor of Capt. Fredericks for Governor and the necessity for organization to insure success.

At the close of the meeting nearly 100 nurses went to the Mozart Theater to witness the film production, "Humanity," in which Capt. Fredericks's prison reform scheme is depicted.

Knowland to Speak.

Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, Republican candidate for United States Senator, will arrive in Los Angeles Friday for two whirlwind days of speaking. On Friday afternoon he will campaign among the packing-houses and in the evening will go to San Pedro, where a big rally will be held. Henry Stieglitz, a stalwart Republican of the harbor district, will preside. Saturday afternoon a meeting will be held at Sawtelle, where Congressman Knowland will address the old soldiers. City Attorney C. P. Ballard will preside. In the evening a big Republican rally will be held at Venice, with Charles W. Lyon, Republican candidate for the Assembly in the bay district, as presiding officer.

To Hear Fredericks.

Capt. Fredericks, Republican candidate for Governor; Frank C. Roberts, candidate for Congress in the Ninth District; H. A. Unruh, candidate for the Legislature in the Sixty-ninth District, with Frank A. Short and Seward A. Simons, will be speakers at a meeting to be held at Ong's Hall, Fair Oaks avenue and Mission street, South Pasadena, Thursday evening, October 29, under the auspices of the South Pasadena Republican Club.

Dr. Henry Sherry, president of the club, will preside. The meeting will be called together promptly at 7:30 o'clock to enable some of the speakers to attend another meeting. Seward C. Simons is in charge of the Committee on Arrangements.

Judges to Speak.

Under the auspices of the South Pasadena Woman's Improvement Association, a meeting will be held Friday evening in their clubhouse, at which the following candidates will speak. Judges Shenk, Myers, Monroe, Morrison, Willis and Hewitt, and Stephen G. Long, John L. Fleming and Frank W. Blair, candidates for superior judge. William Haslett, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will preside, and the president of the club, Mrs. Elizabeth Mumford, and her executive board, will act as hostesses.

Campaign's Formal End.

With a programme of able speakers arranged, the Republican League of Los Angeles county will end the campaign, in so far as formal meetings are concerned, with a great rally at Eagles' Hall, No. 320 South Main street, tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The chief speaker will be ex-Congressman George W. Prince of Illinois, who appeared on the league programme several weeks ago and made such a deep impression that he has been prevailed upon to speak a second time. Among the other speakers will be John C. Cline, nominee for Sheriff. One week from tomorrow night the league will hold a smoker at Eagles' Hall, when there will be an informal programme of speeches.

Bordwell for Roberts.

Ex-Judge Walter Bordwell has written a letter of strong indorsement of Frank C. Roberts, the Republican Congressional nominee in the Ninth District. "I greatly wish for your success in your campaign," says Mr. Bordwell, and continues: "The income of those of our people who are engaged in the production of citrus fruits has been materially lessened and seriously further threatened by the action of the Democratic Congress in reducing the tariff on foreign importations of citrus fruits. Moreover, the sugar-beet industry is threatened with extermination by the conduct of this same Democratic Congress. And otherwise California has suffered at the hands of the Democratic administration. The cure for these evils is the restoration of Congress to the Republican party. The election of Republicans to Congress from this, as well as from other States, is of paramount importance."

Would Outdo Los Angeles.

Aiming to surpass the demonstration of Los Angeles, which turned out with an auto parade in which 1255 machines formed in line, to welcome home Capt. Fredericks after the primary election, San Francisco Republicans are preparing for a great turnout Friday, when autoists will meet the captain across the San Mateo county line and escort him into San Francisco for a series of meetings. Auto clubs of San Mateo and San Francisco counties are volunteering the use of their machines for the remaining days of the campaign to aid in the fight for the Republican nominee for Governor.

MEETING AT GLENDALE.

Members of the Women's Fredericks Campaign Club were entertained yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Robert White, president of the Glendale auxiliary of the club, at her home, No. 101 Orange street, Glendale.

Mrs. Calvin Hartwell and Mrs. O. P. Clark spoke in behalf of the Republican candidates. Mrs. William Baurhyte, Mrs. Wheaton A. Gray, Mrs. David Forbes, Mrs. Samuel Cary Dunlap, Mrs. William M. Bowen and Mrs. W. C. Mushet, members of the Executive Committee of the Los Angeles club, assisted Mrs. Roberts.

Tomorrow night, the colored division of the club will meet at the home of Mrs. J. B. Tanner, No. 1020 Berendo street. In the afternoon an organization meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Bowden, Inglewood.

This is the third week of the organization throughout the county and the officers of the club report much success.

Political Pick-ups.

Voters of the Seventy-second Assembly District will hold a rally for Republican and non-partisan candidates Friday evening at Normandie Hall, corner of West Jefferson street and Normandie avenue. Capt. H. Z. Osborne, W. J. Ford, William D. McConnell, D. Joseph Coyne, Harry A. Chamberlin, ex-Senator Henry F. Carter, Justice J. W. Summerfield, Hugh J. Crawford, Judge Joseph F. Chambers, T. L. O'Brien, W. A. Mammel and Mrs. N. E. Davidson will be among the speakers. Prof. Charles Alexander will preside, Mr. S. H. Driesback will furnish the music, and refreshments will be served.

Closing an afternoon tour through the citrus zone, James D. Phelan, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, spoke at Redlands last night at the Contemporary Club. He addressed a crowd at Covina during the afternoon and in the evening ran a counter-attraction to the carnival at Colton, where 500 persons heard him speak.

The Monrovia Republican Club and Woman's Fredericks Club are busy with the final preparations for the monster Republican rally to be held there tonight, at which Mrs. O. P. Clark of Los Angeles, Mayor Wheelton of Long Beach, F. C. Roberts, H. A. Unruh, W. J. Ford, W. A. Hammel and John C. Cline will speak. The meeting will be held at the Woman's Clubhouse.

Judges Morrison and Shenk have accepted invitations from the Bairdstown Improvement Association to address the voters of the association's territory Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Their talks will be confined to an explanation of the most important of the proposed amendments and statutes to be voted at the November election.

Tonight at the Trinity Auditorium James D. Phelan, Democratic candidate for United States Senator, will make his last appearance in Los Angeles before election. The programme includes a speech by Nathan Newby, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Tenth District. There will be an organ recital by Mrs. Eleanor Lloyd Smith and a musical programme under the direction of Mrs. M. S. Gonzales.

Despite the fact that he has gone through the most gruelling campaign ever undertaken by a candidate in California, Capt. Fredericks's health today is better than when he entered the campaign. Yesterday he stepped on the scales and showed a gain of five pounds since the beginning of his fight. "Why shouldn't I get fat?" the captain demanded. "I never felt better in my life, and everything is coming my way."

Men and women of various political beliefs in the Sixty-sixth Assembly District have issued an appeal to voters to cast their ballots for Richmond P. Benton, "The Iceman," Republican nominee for the Legislature for that district, which includes the Boyle Heights section.

IMPROVEMENTS PROGRESS.

SOUTH PASADENA, Oct. 21.—That the sewer system will be completed long before the time specified in the contracts was stated today by City Engineer MacMillan, when discussing the various improvements in progress in the city. R. N. Nikcevich, the first to receive a contract for sewer construction, will have the job completed within the next six weeks. The date specified for completion is February 15. The contract for about fifteen miles of sewer system was awarded to Miagenovich & Gillespie, to be completed by December 22. This firm will complete the job within the specified time. Andrew Holloway, who has all the paving contracts, has been working abreast with the sewer men.

FACTS AND FIGURES

FOR LOS ANGELES TAXPAYERS TO CONSIDER.

WHAT PROHIBITION MEANS TO LOS ANGELES CITY AND COUNTY:

City liquor licenses, annual amount.....$ 694,200
City Taxes, paid by liquor dealers, annual amount 429,507
Total $1,123,707

AN OUTRIGHT LOSS OF ONE AND ONE-QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS ANNUALLY IN CITY REVENUE. WHO IS GOING TO MAKE THIS GOOD?

Liquor licenses in county outside L. A. city, annual amount .....$ 51,840
L. A. county taxes paid by liquor dealers, annual amount 27,300
State taxes paid by L. A. liquor dealers, annual amount 6,967
Federal taxes paid by L. A. liquor dealers, annual amount 676,452
Total $762,532.67
Total annual amount paid by the liquor industries, L. A. city and county...$1,886,239.90

AN OUTRIGHT LOSS OF NEARLY TWO MILLION DOLLARS ANNUALLY TO LOS ANGELES COUNTY. WHO WILL HAVE TO PAY THIS?

MANY HUNDREDS OF EMPTY STORES. WHO IS GOING TO FILL THEM?
THOUSANDS OF EMPTY RESIDENCES. WHO IS GOING TO OCCUPY THEM?
5500 WAGE EARNERS OUT OF A JOB. WHO IS GOING TO EMPLOY THEM?
WHO WILL FEED THEIR FAMILIES?

NEARLY FOUR AND A HALF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS (The amount annually paid these 5500 employees) WITHDRAWN FROM CIRCULATION.

HOW DO THE MERCHANTS AND STOREKEEPERS FEEL ABOUT THIS?

A MARKED DECREASE OF ALL REAL ESTATE VALUES.

HIGHER TAXES IMPOSED ON ALL PROPERTY OWNERS. HOW DO THE HOME BUILDERS AND HOME OWNERS FEEL ABOUT THIS?

NEARLY $20,000,000.00 capital is today invested by the liquor industries in LOS ANGELES COUNTY. Do you want to assist in confiscating and destroying all this property and capital INVESTED TO A GREAT EXTENT IN THE WINE INDUSTRY AT THE DIRECT ENCOURAGEMENT AND ADVICE OF OUR STATE AND FEDERAL AUTHORITIES?

ALL THE ABOVE FIGURES PERTAIN TO LOS ANGELES COUNTY ALONE.

And Los Angeles is just ONE of the fifty-eight counties comprising the State of California. STOP and THINK what prohibition means to California!

Prohibition is always a backward step.

CALIFORNIA, WITH LOS ANGELES COUNTY IN THE LEAD, IS GOING FORWARD, NOT BACKWARD.

Put That Pain To Use

The network of nerves in your body, like the network of wires in a burglar alarm system, gives quick warning when anything is going wrong inside. Looking at it in this way a pain is a useful alarm. Now, kidney weakness is a dangerous thing—a condition not to be neglected—and it is wise to know and pay attention to the early alarm signals of sick kidneys.

Backache is a common warning of congestion or inflammation in the kidneys. It may be dull, nagging pain, or a sharp twinge when stooping or lifting. There are likely to be disorders of urination, dizziness, headaches, and drowsy, despondent, tired feelings.

It isn't very hard to strengthen weak kidneys at first, but neglect invites rheumatic or neuralgic attacks, gravel, dropsy, and fatal Bright's disease.

"I can hardly straighten up."

As a special medicine for weak kidneys Doan's Kidney Pills have been used for years all over the civilized world and surely are considered reliable. The patient can always help the medicine immensely, however, by dieting lightly, using little or no liquor, tea or coffee, keeping regular hours and drinking lots of pure water.

As to Doan's Kidney Pills, read the following Los Angeles man's endorsement:

LOS ANGELES PROOF

B. Bockheim, grocer, 934 W. Twenty-third st., Los Angeles, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have benefited me more than once. They have relieved me of backache and kidney irregularities, caused by colds. I gladly confirm the public statement I gave some time ago, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills."

tures. The largest of these was a cable railway in San Diego, which never proved a paying proposition. A 100 per cent. assessment was levied on the stockholders to make up the deficiency in the bank's balance. It is not known exactly how much money Dare had with him when he left. It appears that much of that which disappeared was frittered away in speculation.

The California National Bank was capitalized at $500,000.

RECKLESS BANKING.

CAUSE OF THE SMASH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 21.—The cause of the wrecking of the California National Bank was that the officers loaned the funds to private individuals beyond their resources, and also lent the greater part of the money to build a million-dollar cable line on Fourth street that was a failure.

When the bank examiner came he closed the bank and arrested President J. V. Collins. D. D. Dare was vice-president, and he fled to Greece with his wife and child, supposedly with the funds. George O'Brien was cashier of the bank and his brother, J. E. O'Brien, was proprietor of the Brewster Hotel. They are said now to be in San Francisco.

A few weeks previous to the arrest of Collins, his wife and two children were drowned while sailing on a pleasure vessel on the bay. All of the parties connected with the supposedly fake burial of President Collins have left here. Only three or four people were said to have seen the body. One was the undertaker from Shubell & Flattery, who, since, left here; one was O'Brien, proprietor of the Brewster, and one was the minister, Rev. Mr. Wallace, then pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

The bank later paid 35 cents on the dollar. Many people lost their entire fortune in the bank.

Dare, it is said, has been seen by San Diego people in Athens, Greece, where he is a dealer in Turkish rugs. Dare had built a beautiful home there on Fifth street, now the John Gay Home, one of the show places of San Diego, shortly before the bank scandal.

TIPS TO YOUNGSTERS.

Juvenile Court Judge Tells High School Youngsters About Workings of Tribunal He Heads.

Judge Taft of the Juvenile Court told 2000 students and teachers Tuesday noon at the Manual Arts High School how and why the Juvenile Court was established and what it is accomplishing.

The court was established, Judge Taft explained, to soften the harshness of the old system which admitted of no probation for juvenile or older offenders. It was born as a result of a complete revulsion of feeling that the olden time laws, which provided the death penalty for 200 distinct offenses, engendered.

"Realization of self-responsibility," said the speaker, "is an important thing in the development of character among the young. In the treatment of the persistent offender, that quality is called into use by suspended sentence during good behavior. A boy (or girl) can keep out of reform school, even though he has committed offenses, if he will permit himself to be shown the error of his ways and will break away from evil associates."

OLD CASE UP AGAIN.

In the Supreme Court Tuesday, the case of J. C. Hadachek against ex-Mayor George Alexander, involving the constitutionality of what is known as the residence district ordinance, was submitted on briefs. Hadachek conducts a brick yard within the district, and the lower courts have found that he is maintaining a nuisance, which, under the ordinance, the city has a right to abate.

by Socialists for interests which will best serve them, and is the entering wedge for other measures as prejudicial to the best interests of the State and the working class, as well as to the employing class."

Manager Hand of the Farmers' and Fruit Growers' Federation counseled those present to see to it that there are workers in each precinct on the day of the election to draw the attention of persons to the eight-hour measure on the ballot.

"Some persons," said H. B. Chase, "when they open that ballot and get a glimpse of those forty-eight amendments, are going to either drop the whole affair in the waste-basket or take them hit or miss. This last is the grave danger which accompanies an election so cluttered with various issues and in which only the deep student of State affairs will be found conversant with each measure."

Mr. Chase also counseled those present to be not over sanguine of results, but to work as if engaged in a last-ditch fight. It was also pointed out that the Socialists of the State have been carefully organized to fight for the measure, and that this week alone 1,000,000 pieces of literature have been sent out from the offices of the State secretary here. This last statement was made by Manager Hand of the federation.

TIDE IS TURNING.

That the tide is turning against the measure was the assertion of F. B. Case of Santa Ana, general manager of the Southern California Beet Sugar Company, and others.

D. O. Corliss also drew attention to the so-called "One Day of Rest in Seven" amendment, characterizing it as another edition of the eight-hour law, and as framed, like it, by Socialists. "If they don't win with one they hope to attain the same results with the other," he said.

The children making donations of toys have been encouraged to enclose a self-addressed post card in their packages so that the recipients of the gifts may acknowledge them. This feature is interesting the children.

Mrs. Clara Shortridge Foltz, president of the club, and other speakers urged the members to be liberal in their gifts to the cargo for the Christmas ship. Political speeches were made by Sheriff Hammel and Attorney J. Vincent Hannon, candidate for judge of the Superior Court.

HELPLESS VICTIM OF WAR.

Sweetheart and Sister Dead, Fortune Gone, Young Swiss Comes to Los Angeles to Start Anew.

A helpless victim of the conflict of nations, Alfred Schoch, stripped of fortune, sweetheart and sister, and cast forth from the Servian maelstrom, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday penniless and with his soul stirred by the horrors of war at close range. He found lodgings at No. 1305 North Broadway and at once started out to find work as an electrician.

Schoch is an American citizen and served in the Philippines in the Eighth California Volunteer Infantry. He was born in Switzerland of Austrian parents. He went to Belgrade about two years ago and established a comfortable business as an electrician. His sister lived there and the girl he was about to marry.

When the war between Austria and Servia broke out some Germans were arrested as spies and executed. Others were under suspicion. Schoch's sister and fiance were the victims of a mob that was hunting down Germans. Fortified with passports and his American citizenship papers Schoch vainly tried to save his fiance by giving her his name. Before the marriage could be arranged she was killed.

His business and most of his resources gone, Schoch then fled into Germany with the few hundred dollars he could get together. There he was detained two weeks while German officers awaited proof that he was not born in Germany and therefore required to serve in the army.

He sailed from London, September 14, having seen at close range many ravages of war in four countries. At the Canadian port where he landed he became acquainted with a pleasant-voiced stranger who talked to him encouragingly, helped to while away a few waiting hours and robbed him of his money. Whatever inclination Schoch may have had in the past to serve as a soldier is gone.

CONVENTION AT PHOENIX.

Seventeenth Annual Session of American Mining Congress—Many Delegates from Here.

The seventeenth annual convention of the American Mining Congress will be held at Phoenix December 7 to 11, inclusive. The Convention Committee states that this meeting will be one of the most important ever held by the organization. Among the prominent Arizona mining men listed on the various committees are Walter Douglas, Norman Carmichael, D. C. Jackling, Epes Randolph, George U. Young, Will L. Clark, Ezra W. Thayer, John C. Greenway, L. D. Ricketts, and F. M. Murphy.

The Chamber of Mines and Oil of Los Angeles, realizing the possible importance of this meeting to our southwestern interests, has nominated the following members as delegates to the convention:

Thomas Thornkildsen, D. W. Shanks, John Brockman, Charles Grimes, E. A. Montgomery, J. L. Boyle, Seeley W. Mudd, W. E. Hindry, Ben Williams, C. E. Calm, O. B. Steen, Gen. J. O. Royer, W. R. Starr, Walter A. Schmidt, Bernard MacDonald, W. B. Scott, T. Spellacy, Harry R. Johnson, Thomas A. O'Donnell, Ralph Arnold and F. V. Gordon.

Why Feagans & Co. Can Offer You Unusual Values

Close intimacy with the world's great markets over a long period of years, knowing how and where to buy—this explains in large measure the unusual values offered at Feagans & Co.'s.

No charge is made for exclusiveness. Every diamond, every watch and clock, every piece of jewelry or silver is priced on its actual value. And our price range is elastic enough to suit the modestly conservative or the most fastidious.

It is decidedly to your advantage to call and compare values — something you are always more than welcome to do.

A special value in sterling silver—salt and pepper castors, 2 bottles, sterling stand and tops, $3.50. With 3 bottles $5.00.

Fashionable Silks

The following silk fabrics are especially desirable for fall and winter.

Satin Meteor $2.50
Satins of all descriptions will be very modish this fall—Satin Meteor decidedly so. It is 40 inches wide and an exceptional quality at $2.50. There are over 40 desirable shades to select from, comprising both street and evening colors.

Silk Epingle $3.50
This fabric is entirely new. A heavy cord weave particularly adapted for dressy tailored suits. Saxe blue, Forest green, Buckeye, Prune, Fumee, Nut brown, Navy and Black are very modish. Width 45 inches.

Silk Bengaline $3.50
This silk will be in great demand. The predominance of corded effects for fall is assured. For a fashionable and yet serviceable costume for fall, Bengaline is unsurpassed. Width 45 inches.

All Silk Gabardine $4.00
An entirely new material and ideally adapted for developing tailor-made silk suits. Shown in the following fashionable shades: Corbeau blue, Forest green, African brown, Indigo, Navy and Black. Width 44 inches.

Crepe Moire Bengaline $4.50
This is one of the most beautiful materials produced for the coming season. In addition to the moire it has a "crepey" effect which gives it a very rich appearance. It possesses sufficient weight for making handsome tailored suits. The color assortment is particularly attractive and includes: Fumee, Corbeau, Laurier green, Holland blue, Copper, Havana brown, Wistaria, Cornflower, Ivory, also Black. Width 45 inches.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) An important factor in the general business channels was the increased purchase of various commodities by agents of several European countries. They bought for cash, and several industries have reported it necessary to increase their working force to fill orders. Foreign exchange is unusually easy, London being 4 cents under the month's low mark, which indicates the need of American goods. Our cereal markets were higher because of increased foreign demand, especially for wheat. It was announced the cotton shipments to date were scarcely one-sixth of those for last year at this time. Over in Texas the Legislature has killed all proposed plans for relief of cotton growers.

(Abroad:) A fifth treasury note issue, for $15,000,000, has just been announced by the Bank of England. The bonds sold well, investors paying nearly par. The German government has extended the bill prohibiting payments to English firms and to French firms also, and to all of the French colonies.

(For details see financial page.)

IN BAD TASTE.

Harry Lauder is carrying as excess baggage an old joke which sounded well enough a year ago, but which now seems rather beside the point. He asks what is the use of going to war to fight for your country? "If you win it," he says, "they won't give you any of it." This jest would hardly be popular in Lauder's native land at present.

THE WARRIOR.

Have we read the news aright? They tell that Mons. Caillaux has joined his regiment at the front. Surely they mean that accomplished warrior, Madame Caillaux, who has done so much to demonstrate the ability of her sex to defend her country's honor in the approved manner.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

The Pacific went on a sort of tear and damaged a lot of the sidewalks down at Long Beach. The waves probably resented the exceeding dryness of that pleasant city. It is all right for Long Beach to be parched if it desires to be, but to boast about its misery is too much even for an ocean.

WISDOM OF THE ANCIENTS.

The ancients may not be called wise merely because they are so much older than we, as the boy said, but their knowledge is admitted to have been great in more than mere philosophy. In fact, what the British are undertaking by way of irrigation in the Nile Valley was carried out to a considerable degree some 6500 years ago by King Menes. Two thousand years later another king made some additions to the scheme, so that the flood waters were caught in huge reservoirs that supplied the country through the dry seasons. Even now, the British engineers plan to take advantage of some of the artificial lakes constructed at that time.

STOCKTON'S TROUBLES.

Some months ago the business men of Stockton realized that they would have to free themselves from the absolute dictatorship of the unions or sustain heavy losses in business. They declared for the open shop, and established, and have since maintained, the open shop. The unions declared the boycott, union men quit their jobs. Hard times came to many of the foolish workingmen—and now they are blaming the merchants and saying that the open shop has brought on the distress. The merchants are still paying the same wages, doing the same business and would be employing the same people if they had been willing to work and had not wanted to dictate the business of their employers.

THE PREMATURE TITLE.

Some months ago Irvin Cobb went to Europe. Other people had gone to Europe, but it was Mr. Cobb's first trip, so the other people didn't count. Above all things Mr. Cobb tries to be original. He used his eyes in Europe and saw things. He saw them differently from other people. That is part of his business—to see things differently. So, to indicate that other people had been seeing wrong, he wrote a book and called it "Europe Revised." That was before the war broke out. Mr. Cobb prematurely annexed a historian's title and now his publishers are busily advertising the fact that "Europe Revised" is not a war book. But don't worry. Mr. Cobb will write a book—and when he does let us hope and pray that he will not, as usual, try to be funny. His attempts to be funny are generally pathetic.

OUR GOLD SUPPLY.

In 1910 the gold production of the United States was $96,269,100. We imported $43,339,000, and exported $118,500,000, making a net gain over exportations of $21,108,100. In 1911 the production and importation was over $40,000,000 in excess of the exportations. In 1913 it was nearly $80,000,000, and for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1914, it was about $50,000,000.

The United States treasury has now on hand the largest amount of gold it has ever held at any one time, the total being $1,023,901,869, of which $786,549,522 is coin, and $236,352,347 is bullion.

In addition to the stock of gold above stated the treasury has the gold reserve fund of $150,000,000, reserved against outstanding greenbacks and treasury notes. This vast sum of over $1,000,000,000 in gold, besides $1,000,000,000 in government funds, the United States government may use to relieve financial stress in any part of the country by the deposit of government funds in national banks.

INDUSTRIAL INDEPENDENCE.

There is not a fruit, vegetable or cereal grown in any zone that cannot be produced in abundance in some part of the United States of America or its insular possessions. There is not a silken sheen from the looms of Lyons, not a glittering blade from the forges of Birmingham, not an article of use or beauty from any factory or foundry in Europe that cannot be made in the United States of America.

Yet the European war has brought us abruptly in contact with the fact that we have been and are dependent upon other nations for many articles that ought to be and that can be made at home. We send raw material abroad, where it is manufactured into commodities and returned to us. We pay the freight both ways and pay customs duties on aniline dyes made in Germany out of American coal oil and tar. We do the same on photographic glass and photographic printing paper made in Belgium from raw material sent from this country. We imported in 1913, $65,172,876 worth of cotton goods made from cotton we sent abroad. We imported $35,843,537 worth of manufactures of copper made from copper taken from our mines. We imported $92,029,625 worth of chemicals, drugs, dyes and medicines, and $7,893,682 worth of toys.

These importations have been made because labor is so much cheaper in Germany than here that we could send the raw material from here, have it manufactured abroad and returned, and the completed goods then cost less than the sum for which we could purchase similar goods made in America.

The war has temporarily if not permanently changed all these conditions. Millions of operatives will be slain in the war, or compelled when the war is over to work on the farms. A vast number of operatives will emigrate to this country, or if kept at home by higher wages than were paid before the war, the cost of the goods made by them will be so enhanced that it will no longer be profitable for us to import them.

For one reason and another the result of the war will be to enlarge our manufactures, for, in addition to an increased home market we shall have South America and the Pacific Coast of Asia to supply.

We have political, financial and social independence of all the world. We need to cultivate an industrial independence so complete that the wars and panics and destruction or suspension of industries in Europe will not affect us.

The North American Review cites a few examples of the inconveniences and losses which the European war has caused. Hydroquinone and other important chemicals used in photographic processes increased in price enormously, some of them from fifty to a hundred-fold, at the outbreak of the war, and fears were expressed that there would soon be a famine in those articles at any price; the reason being, of course, that our supplies are chiefly obtained from Germany. Yet the raw material of hydroquinone and other chemicals is supplied in this country, and the processes of making them are perfectly well known here. They can be made here just as well as in Europe. Numerous drugs of the materia medica, including some of very common and almost indispensable use, are also manufactured for us in Germany, and the outbreak of the war sent their prices up to an almost prohibitive figure, causing great hardship to the poor, and doubtless affecting unfavorably the operations of the medical profession. And many other like examples might easily be adduced. We may, no doubt, charge some of the increase in prices to the sordid rapacity of speculators and tradesmen, who arbitrarily increased prices when there was no actual or prospective scarcity of the goods to warrant them in so doing. But with all allowance for that discreditable circumstance, it is certain that a very marked effect was produced upon our supplies of necessaries by the outbreak of the war and the consequent disturbance of European industries and interruption of commerce.

The lesson ought to be obvious and convincing to the effect that we should produce our supplies at home and thus be independent of wars and other vicissitudes abroad. In order to do this we do not need to reduce our wages to the level of continental Europe. Improved methods of manufacture, proximity to the place where the raw material is found and where the finished material is consumed, now enable manufacturers of many products to pay American wages and yet compete with Europe. While we do not want our workmen to compete with the pauper labor of Europe, neither do we want to be made dependent upon that pauper labor for supplies of anything.

If we could build a high wall around our confines and exclude all the products of other lands, whether of soil or skill, we would lack for no comfort or luxury of life. We can make anything from a hairpin to a 50,000-ton steamer, from a spool of thread to a velvet carpet or a silken gown, and make it as well as it can be made anywhere in the world.

Right here in Los Angeles there are pine trees with cones, and banana trees loaded with fruit; potatoes and pineapples, corn and cotton are grown in Imperial valley; and from Shasta to San Diego is a land—

"Where the fragrant south winds blow Blue bubbles of grapes down a vineyard row."

Neither the wars nor the laws of other lands should affect our prosperity or our comforts, for we are sufficient or can make ourselves sufficient unto ourselves industrially as well as in all other respects.

IN FLORAL FAIRYLAND.

Pasadena, the city of the rose tournament, is today a floral fairyland. The Horticultural Association is giving its annual fall flower show and the display is a marvelous exemplification of the bounteousness of Southern California. It is doubtful if any other portion of the country could give in October a duplicate of the show now attracting attention in the Crown City.

Los Angeles is always well represented at Pasadena's flower shows and there is perfect agreement between the gardeners and horticulturists of this city and its neighbor in their desire to show to the world that here in Southern California perfection in floral displays can be produced.

It is like walking through a floral fairyland to stroll through the perfumed lanes under the great canvas tent in which the show is being held. The chrysanthemum is in all its glory at this time of the year and great and gorgeous blossoms are exhibited by the hundreds. There are all colors from pinks and bronzes to pure white and massive shaggy yellows. Almost rivaling the huge "mums" are glorious dahlias in all shades and sizes, from the Van Dyke, four inches across, to the Grand Duke Alexis with its white center and pink edges.

Roses, including a large entry from Los Angeles, are in bewildering number and glory. In their richness and exuberance they maintain the proud eminence of the queen of flowers. Even chrysanthemums as big as Jack Johnson's two fists, but not so black, cannot capture from the roses the royal position.

At this Pasadena show are to be seen flowers of rich and luscious colors, ferns of cool refreshing green and shrubs of emerald hue. The subtropical atmosphere is delightful and is in strict contrast to conditions as they exist in the east and north where nature is now falling into the sere and yellow leaf. Already it is learned that some sections of the country have had their first touch of frost. There the "Erl King, with his beard long and white" is about to be enthroned, but here, in favored Southern California, Queen Flora reigns.

A KNAVE DEFENSE.

The naive (it ought to be spelled with a k.) defense assigned by the one-cent Progressive press for the profligate expenditure of millions by Gov. Johnson and his plunderbund is that the money comes from the tax on corporations and therefore the people are not losers.

This inconceivable rot, if it were advanced by a student in the primary department in an infant school, would consign him to the foot of his class; but the one-cent journals drool it out to their readers every day, ad libitum, ad nauseam.

From what source do the railroad corporations obtain the money which they pay into the State treasury, from which it is extracted, not to say subtracted, by a job-lot of Gov. Johnson's pets? Does not every schoolboy know that the railroads obtain every dollar of it from fares and freights paid by the people? The merchant who pays a freight bill adds it to the cost of the goods he sells. The capitalist who buys a railroad ticket adds the price of it to the rent he charges his tenant. The man who buys a sack of flour or a pound of nails contributes toward the cost of carrying them from the mill or the foundry to the counter of the merchant. The railroad corporation is merely an intermediary in the transportation of the tax money from the consumer to the State treasury. Upon the broad back of the people is laid the burden of taxation, and whenever the tax money is stolen, or wasted, or misapplied, it is the people who are the sufferers.

It is cheap logic for the one-cent apologists for Gov. Johnson to plead that the Railroad Commission fix the rate of fare and freight to be charged, and that therefore only the railroad loses what the Johnson plunderbund seizes; for, in determining the rates of fare and freight, the commission takes into consideration the expenses as well as the income of the road. If those expenses can be diminished by the taxes being diminished, then the cost of fares and freight can be lessened, and the people would receive the benefit of the reduction.

And even if there should be no reduction in freight and fare charges, and the corporation tax should, as now, cause the accumulation of surplus funds in the treasury beyond the ordinary needs of the State government, still why in the name of common sense and common honesty should this surplus be seized and appropriated by a job-lot of useless commissioners and deputy commissioners and their secretaries and stenographers, and their sisters, and their cousins, and their aunts?

The Richest.

REPUBLICANS LINING UP FOR VICTORY.

The Republican party is the most remarkable organization in the history of politics, both in its quality and in its achievement. No other party in modern times has accomplished so much as that party since its organization. That is due, in the first place, to the fact that the party was organized on a foundation of high principles.

It stood for things that every good citizen could advocate and support and which opponents themselves could only criticise on the ground of difference in principle, difference in point of view and in judgment of what would be good for the country to adopt for its principles of action.

The Republican party today is animated by the same spirit that animated its founders, and if one will run over the history of the last half century he will find no real break in the policies, the position and the make up of that great organization.

In every sense it represents to an unrivaled degree the habit that men call militant, whether they are speaking of wars between countries or wars of the good against the evil, or contests wherein the conspicuous qualities displayed are courage, patience, persistence and resourcefulness.

All along the line of the party men are going forward to declare themselves loyal followers of the organization that has done more than any other for the advancement of the United States in everything that pertains to civilization.

It is a good year for Republicans to get together. It is a good thing for them to line up beside each other and go forward in defense of American industry and the practice of economy in administration, national, State and local.

There is every reason why the believer in good government should attach himself to the Republican host, if not in it already, and go forward with the old-time determination to win that makes it impossible to lose, for "they can conquer who believe they can," is a sentiment as old as the greatest of poets among the ancients.

FAMILY QUARRELS.

The bitterest quarrels in all the world are family quarrels, which may help to account in some measure for the fracas in Europe. To begin with King George of England and the Kaiser are first cousins, both grandsons of Queen Victoria. The Tzaritza of Russia is a German Princess of the House of Hesse. The Queen of the Belgians is also from the Kaiser's dominions, a Bavarian Princess.

The war is at its bitterest between the English and the Germans, and English royalty is of German descent through three distinct lines. And English royalty has intermarried with both German and Austrian royalty to a marked degree. Ideally speaking, and in old-time diplomacy, such intermarriages should make for friendship between the countries. Alas, for ideals, however, they mostly don't! Sentimental people have to cull what comfort they can from the fact that royal marriages are rarely for love, although the diplomatists generally manage to make public a number of human-interest stories trying to prove that each particular case was an exception to this rule. The royal consort of the Queen of Holland is a German Prince; and, sub rosa, this fact has done more to alienate Holland from Germany than any other factor.

The one great question at issue this fall will be the indorsement of the Wilson administration, so far as the Democrats are concerned. If they are not successful in hoodwinking the people with the idea that on account of the war it should be backed up, it is all over but the voting.

THE NEUTRAL HEART.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Thousands of newspapers in thousands of towns in the United States are making a stern and beautiful effort to remain strictly neutral. But the way of neutrality is hard. To please everyone is to please no one. If you are not with us you are against us.

The lot of the average editor is a thankless task these days. If he's an American he has very little sympathy for the war either way. As news it's simply ripping but it's hurting business in a score of embarrassing ways and when business is hurt the advertisers are hurt and when the advertisers are hurt the newspaper is very grievously wounded in its pocketbook.

In a general way newspapers may be said to have been designed for the laudable purpose of dispensing news. But alas, the newspaper that could afford to dispense news, and nothing but news, has not yet been born.

The reading matter gets the subscriber and the subscriber gets the advertiser, and, horrid and unromantic as it may seem, the advertiser is the bread and butter of the newspaper. Ultimately he pays for the news and everything else that appears in the paper.

Ordinarily the advertiser doesn't care a whoop about the news so long as it gets the subscriber. And getting and keeping the subscriber is the fundamental duty of the managing editor. He has to make the newspaper so interesting that the subscriber simply can't resist it.

Which is, of course, a very simple matter, as any amateur is prepared to insist. Lives there a bright mind which does not think it could run a first-class newspaper? Precious few! During the past decade or so the subscriber has become a very critical fellow. He has particular tastes, which he requires properly catered to. He holds views which he likes to see capably reflected. He desires certain information which he prefers served up in the way which will least wound his vanity, best nourish his self-esteem. If the newspaper can't exploit himself, preferably with pictures and complimentary comment, it must at least boost his political party, his business, his home town, his home State, and his home country.

That's what he considers his newspaper is for. That's why he subscribes to it. So the newspaper that can best reflect the opinions and sympathies of the greatest number of people is the strongest and richest newspaper.

So far, so good. In peace time the managing editor can pilot his ship through comparatively calm waters and escape the more treacherous rocks.

But in war time—ye gods! And especially in this particular war time, when eight countries are engaged in the fight and several others hovering on the brink. When national passions are at concert pitch, when international hatred and international friendships are exploding all round us in their most violent form—pity the poor editor!

Never a line appears in the paper that doesn't excite somebody's ire. Take a city like Los Angeles, where pretty nearly every nationality is represented. The subscriber reads every item with a biased eye.

"Call yourself neutral!" bellows the Englishman, "why you gave two columns, nine inches to spurious news of German victories this morning! Not a word of truth in a line of it!"

"Call yourself neutral!" howls the German, "why, I have counted seventeen telegrams via London in the last two days all giving the British version of events. Lies, all of 'em!"

"Call yourself neutral!" yells the Austrian, "why, you haven't mentioned a single Austrian triumphant victory yet, and I know to my certain knowledge that fifteen Russian army corps have been wiped out by the Austrians in the last three weeks. I get the Vienna newspapers direct from home, I do. You can't fool me."

"How dare you print that lying news about the Boers revolting in South Africa?" shrieks an Afrikander, "it's a German canard, South Africa is loyal to a man."

"How dare you say Canada is loyal to the mother country?" demands an expatriated Canadian. "It's the merest handful of Canadians who are voluntarily helping England in this war. The majority of the country is dead against her!"

"The honorable American newspaper is mistaken if it ascribes Japan's action to anything but the highest motives," quietly expostulates the Nippon. "Japan has a great mission to civilize Christianity."

"Sticking up for those despicable Japanese, are you?" roars a Teuton, "fostering the yellow peril, that's what you are!"

The "able editor" girds his loins and declares he will publish all the news, give the different versions of the various battles by each country, and let the subscriber form his own conclusion, or go hence.

"Did you ever read such a lot of fool news in all your life?" sneers the American, "this paper contradicts itself three times on one page. Gee! but I wish we could get hold of a decent newspaper."

And so every morning's issue raises a storm of vituperation, the telephone wires sizzle with violent expostulation, the mail brings tons of verbal bombs, and the offending office is called upon to fiercely defend it's neutrality, the while it realizes that it appears not to have a friend left.

Friends, Angels, subscribers, lend me your ears. Do you know what would happen if your multitudinous complaints fell upon fertile grondu—if the editor proved vulnerable to your jeers? Your morning paper would have to confine itself to the most inocuous items of news. You would be treated to something very much on this order:

War News:

Fifty-seven thousand pairs of imperfectly made pajamas were donated to the Red Cross Society during the past week.

Nineteen ladies of various nationalities have almost completed sixteen pairs of knitted socks for the soldiers of their respective countries.

Carrier pigeons are not being used to any great extent in the present war.

It is alleged that the Germans are in occupation of Antwerp. [This paper takes no responsibility for this information.]

A German parrot has been heard to utter sounds that might be interpreted as "The Day." [The editor regardes this news as doubtful.]

A German cavalry officer, or it may have been a Frenchman, has been commended for conspicuous bravery for his part in a battle somewhere in Central Europe.

Two of a Kind.

[Cincinnati Enquirer:] "A woman has to give up a great deal after she gets married," sighed Mrs. Gabb.

"A man does nothing else but give up after he gets married," replied Mr. Gabb.

Hopeless Task.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

The Oldest Twins.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In this morning's Times I saw an article about James and James Downing, twins, said to be the oldest male twins in the United States, but I must do honor away, as I am a twin and my twin brother is living. We were born in New York State, Dutchess county, in 1824, on January 14, making us 90 years and 9 months old. My brother lives in Dixon, Iowa, and my home is No. 1541 East Fifty-first street, Los Angeles. I have been a subscriber to The Times for twenty-seven years. David P. Bisbee and George [illegible].

Respectfully yours,
D. P. BISBEE.

Vineyards and Raising.

[illegible], Oct. 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your issue of October 14 you print an article by Prof. Van Rensselaer Osborne, editor of the Out West magazine, in which he makes [illegible] very misleading statements, which I feel should be made clear to the public.

In the first place, the California Associated Raisin Company was formed [illegible] to establish a living price [illegible] and last year in order to get [illegible] price where it was possible [illegible] a bare living, 4000 tons of [illegible] were sold to the wineries for the purpose of making brandy for fortifying wine. Had there been no winery [illegible] 4000 tons would necessarily have been added to this year's immense crop of about 100,000 tons, [illegible] about 31,000 tons more than [illegible] could possible use.

[illegible] there will be a large [illegible] and there always has been, [illegible] easily be seen that any such [illegible] in production without a [illegible] increase in consumption [illegible] be ruinous to the in[illegible]

[illegible] of grape juice out of the [illegible] is not even open to argument, as the many deserted grapevines [illegible] to the State prove that it is [illegible]. As to grafting over [illegible] grapes to table and raisin [illegible] in nearly all cases it is impossible [illegible] vines are already grafted [illegible] more, and to graft again [illegible] the graft too low beneath the [illegible].

[illegible] cannot be grown successfully [illegible] places that vineyards [illegible]. At the present, the [illegible] market is so demoralized [illegible] growers are refraining from [illegible] hope that the market will [illegible].

As a [illegible] alfalfa, it cannot be [illegible] all in a great many places [illegible] it pays profitable. Alfalfa is [illegible] being sold by growers all over [illegible] because they cannot get the [illegible] of producing it. The largest [illegible] in the world at Guasti and [illegible] 3000 acres of vineyard in San Bernardino county could not [illegible] because they cannot get [illegible] the water. But vineyards are dry [illegible] and it is doubtful if anything [illegible] can pay in that sandy soil in [illegible] of Cucamonga.

I am a Prohibitionist but the press [illegible] to vote California dry [illegible] confiscatory.

FREDERICK GILBERT.

Another Bad One.

[illegible] GROVE, Oct. 20.—[To the Editor of The Times:] With [illegible] newspapers and commercial [illegible] opposing Amendment No. [illegible] (Shearer law,) little has been [illegible] with regard to the action of [illegible] Senate No. 45 (one day's rest in [illegible] it passed November 2, [illegible] the ample ballot it says: [illegible] legislative act prohibiting, except [illegible] cases of urgent necessity, the [illegible] of men for wages, or requiring or [illegible] any person to work more [illegible] hours, or forty-eight hours a [illegible] which sounds decidedly like [illegible] Senate No. 5. If there is a difference [illegible] would you kindly explain the [illegible] to the voters of Southern California.

J. O. ARKLEY.

Registering Flittings.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Will you permit a brief space in your valuable paper as a voter and taxpayer to [illegible] a hearty amen to the proposed [illegible] of keeping weekly reports made [illegible] names and addresses of movers, [illegible] whence they come and whither [illegible].

[illegible] has been strictly enforced [illegible] truly American cities, Baltimore and Philadelphia, [illegible] past twenty-five years, to my [illegible] fair city these carefully [illegible] of those parasites of [illegible] all walks of life, high, low [illegible] poor are little short of crimi[illegible] of the hardships and in[illegible] it brings upon not only the [illegible] people struggling to earn a [illegible] laundresses, housework[illegible] of foodstuffs and small [illegible] but by no means [illegible] hard-worked and poorly-[illegible] the vast majority of [illegible] of their humanity and the pop[illegible] that they must wait [illegible] else is paid and that is [illegible].

Yours truly,
E. MOSBY SMITH, M.D.,
[illegible] West Sixty-second street.

CARD AND JAIL.

Salvation Army "Regular" [illegible] for Alleged Defamation [illegible] Worker Through Mails.

[illegible] Butler, alias Frank New[illegible] to be an English remit[illegible] is in the County Jail on [illegible] sworn to by Postoffice [illegible] Cookson, charging that [illegible] a defamatory postal card [illegible] a Pacific Electric Rail[illegible] man, and reflecting on the [illegible] addressee, who is a Sal[illegible] lass, it is asserted. [illegible] asserted that Butler has sent [illegible] cards to Mr. Grate, mail[illegible] card in question was [illegible] from various parts of Cali[illegible] Fresno. The authorities as[illegible] Butler has been pressing his [illegible] the woman for some [illegible] being repulsed, has sought [illegible] character. For a time [illegible] see of the "regulars" at [illegible] Army headquarters.

Drugs or no Drugs.

[illegible] and opponents of the [illegible] practice initiative will clash [illegible] Hall Monday evening, [illegible] joint debate on this [illegible] will be held. Richard Inga[illegible] for the American As[illegible] of Progressive Physicians, will [illegible] for the passage of this [illegible] the November election, while [illegible] Tucker, president of the [illegible] County Osteopathic Asso[illegible] speak against it.

THE DEAD PEACE.

Hurled from our world awry,
A world of reason fled,
The white peace rides the sky,
A moon all cold and dead.
We think she has not sped
Beyond our childish grasp,
And by our yearning led
We stretch vain hands to clasp.

We see her shine on high;
Far beams on us are shed;
But, even while we cry,
The hands we stretch are red.
For her our hosts have bled;
Now rolls war's crimson flood;
The dead peace overhead
Still draws the tides of blood.

TWENTY ELK TO ROAM ESTATES.

FROM ONE OF FEW WILD HERDS LEFT IN COUNTRY.

Two Hundred and Fifty Great Animals Captured in Novel Manner on Miller & Lux Ranch in Kern County to Stop Depredations on Alfalfa Fields.

Taken captive near their habitat in the vicinity of Button Willow, Kern county, twenty elk, a part of one of the last of the country's untamed herds, yesterday passed through this city. Sixteen of them were consigned to the estates of E. L. Doheny, the well-known oil man, and J. M. Danziger—a prominent attorney, and son-in-law of the late C. A. Canfield—in Beverly Hills, while the remaining four were sent to Riverside, where they will adorn the country place of S. C. Evans of Los Angeles.

Those sent to Beverly Hills will be allowed their freedom, for, owing to the fact that the hunting of elk is prohibited by law, it is not believed they will be molested by hunters.

About 250 elk have already been captured of a herd thought to number about 400, which has been roaming the Elk Hills, northwest of Bakersfield. The shipment received here yesterday was the first made of the captive animals. Others are in progress under the direction of Dr. Barton W. Evermann, director of the California Academy of Sciences.

A thorough examination was made of the Beverly Hills section before the consignment was allowed to be sent there, in order to determine whether it would be a satisfactory abode for the elk. It is believed they will remain in the vicinity provided they are supplied with food and water. They were sent by rail to Beverly Hills station, whence they will be taken by motor truck to the country places of Mr. Doheny and Mr. Danziger. There were seven bulls and nine cows in the shipment.

Although the existence of the elk in the hills near the Miller & Lux ranch, at Button Willow, had been known, they had been left unmolested until their depredations on the alfalfa and other products made them obnoxious. It was then decided to capture them.

A novel method was used in trapping the elk by George C. Palmer, head cattle man for Miller & Lux, who was assisted by about fifty cowboys. The elk had been in the habit of coming to a certain level space on the ranch to feed, where it was decided to corral them. Posts were placed in the ground at intervals, but no fence was put up until the animals became sufficiently used to the posts to feed as usual. One day the wire fencing was spread for their capture, and when they came as usual that night to feed they were enclosed.

A terrific stampede followed during which several of the animals killed themselves. Sixteen have been lost in this fashion since the work of trapping them commenced.

DIES OF INJURIES.

Ernest Rankin, a wealthy retired farmer, died at the Receiving Hospital yesterday from injuries received when he was struck by a street car at Seventy-sixth street and Moneta avenue, Monday night. He had alighted from an out-bound car to go to his home at No. 343 West Seventy-sixth street, when he stepped in front of an in-bound car. His skull was fractured.

Woman Arrested Following Finding of Morphine in Her Home—Declared There was None.

Following a raid on her home, Josie Andrews, No. 727 New High street, was arrested late yesterday afternoon on a charge of having morphine in her possession. Unable to furnish $500 bail the woman was locked up in the City Jail.

The arrest was made by Inspector Jones of the State Board of Pharmacy, and two deputies. When the officers entered the house the woman assumed a defiant attitude, declaring that she had no drugs under her roof and "You men won't find anything if you search all night."

A hasty search, however, revealed several bottles of morphine, one of them being concealed in a cuspidor and the others behind a piano. In a bedroom the officers found about fifty gold watches and nearly a hundred rings. The jewelry, roughly estimated to be worth upward of $1000, was hidden near a small arsenal consisting of a rifle, shotgun and several revolvers.

When the woman was searched at police headquarters she was found to have $175 in her possession.

Mrs. Andrews was arrested a few days ago on a similar charge, and was fined $100 by Police Judge Frederickson, the sentence being suspended.

Last July she was arrested for an alleged violation of the white slavery law, but was not convicted. At that time she also had morphine in her possession, about $500 being secured on a raid at her home.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

SOCIETY has been preparing for this glad day for weeks. Oh, the fair brows that have been wrinkled, the fair sighs that have been sighed, the hopes and fears that have been expended upon this ambitious public production of "Patience" by the Amateur Players.

Tonight at the Mason Operahouse will see the result of their efforts, tonight the city will enjoy the supreme privilege of sitting in judgment on the antics of the elite. The very cream will be putting forth their best accomplishments for our amusement, that a few dollars may be lured from our pockets on behalf of the American Red Cross. They will see to it that all of us get our money's worth; just to see so many charming, well favored, fashionable persons all in one place in their nicest mood will alone be worth the price.

But if rehearsals count for anything we shall get much more than that. These society people of ours are very talented and many of them have beautiful voices, most of them are good looking, and all those in the play have a decided penchant for acting.

Even the orchestra is amateur, but by no means amateurish. Sullivan's music alone is worth going to hear, given by that clever band of earnest brothers. It is a delightful play, this "Patience," full of fun and frolic and naughty satire—quite the most pleasant way of contributing our mite to the war fund.

But that isn't all. From the moment we set foot at the door of the Mason Operahouse tonight we shall be coaxed and petted and cajoled by an army of society temptresses whose enchantment will be concentrated upon magnetizing dimes and quarters from out our pockets in exchange for certain romantic souvenirs in the guise of buttons, boutonnieres, all kinds of seductive bouquets of flowers, candy, cigarettes and such like. And we shall feel so nice and important. We, for the nonce, shall be the center of attraction, our tastes and wishes all that matters. And we shall be shown to our seats by princesses and duchesses and countesses in their very best clothes, and we shall have the supreme opportunity of patronizing them with a nod of acknowledgment. Oh, that alone is worth the money—indeed, that is positively priceless, it doesn't happen often in a lifetime.

At the same time we shall be given an opportunity of enrolling ourselves as permanent members of the American Red Cross Society, another batch of adorable society dames presiding over the reception of our dollar, the signing of our signature, the acquiring of our receipt. Mrs. W. J. Chichester and nine fair maidens of aristocratic mien will superintend this department. Mrs. Granville McGowan and Mrs. Dean Mason will be queens of the lady ushers.

Badges and buttons will be pressed upon us with irresistible sweetness by Mrs. Avery McCarthy, Mrs. Leo Chandler, Mrs. Sidney Wailes and a dozen or more fashionable fairies. Mrs. H. W. Frank and Mrs. Maurice Heilman will see to it that the flowers are superlatively attractive.

Cigarettes and My Lady Nicotine generally will be under the protection of Mrs. Ezra Stimson, who is also going to be responsible for the mystery entr'act zylept cartoon vivant which has set us all agog with curiosity. She has culled the flower of the California and Country clubs for this piquant item and we are going to have no end of fun seeing prominent Los Angeles men masquerading as actors.

Voila, then. With luck we shall be graciously received by an august head usher, say, Mrs. Chester Montgomery. We shall pass majestically on to the purchase of a button from, say, Mrs. Walter Brunswig, or a badge from, say, Mrs. Paul Grim (sweet Sally MacFarland that was.) We may then, with conscious dignity, acquire a sweet-scented nosegay from, possibly, Mrs. J. F. Stewart, and proceed to add our distinguished name to the list of American Red Cross subscribers, via, say, Miss Beatrice Finlayson.

Then, with supreme luck, we will be shown to our seats by, say, the handsome Mrs. John D. Foster, providing always that we have been sensible enough to secure those seats beforehand from either Miss Inez Clark or Mrs. Sumner P. Hunt.

And the reason you know so much about it all is because Avery McCarthy is so popular with the press.

And it is comforting to think there is to be another performance tomorrow, Friday evening, which will be every bit as stylish.

Engagement Announcement.

Responding to invitations extended by Mrs. Marion S. Rice and her niece, Miss Augusta Belle Illich, of the Bryson apartments, a few intimate friends yesterday enjoyed a smart tea at the Alexandria. The inspiration for the party was the engagement of Miss Illich to Terry Barker of San Diego, and in spite of the fact that the secret was told last week in the southern city it came as a delightful surprise. Miss Illich, who is a Westlake School girl, has just returned from a pleasant visit with Mr. Barker's mother, Mrs. Nelson Barker, and it was while a guest at the Barker home that the betrothal was first made known. The bride-elect is well known in California and is a grand-daughter of Thomas Scovell, a retired capitalist of Long Beach. Mr. Barker is cashier of the Bank of Commerce and Trust Company of San Diego, where he is a prominent society and club man. No date has yet been set for the wedding.

For Miss Grant.

Honoring Miss Mary Grant, who is to wed Jack Healy, Wednesday, Mrs. Cleves Harrison will entertain tomorrow with a luncheon at the Alexandria. Pink roses will adorn the table where dainty cards will hold places.

Mrs. Norman Jack (Miss Eleanor Sutch,) will be another hostess to honor the popular young woman. Mrs. Jack will give a party at the Orpheum Monday.

Mrs. Francis Hostess.

Mrs. John F. Francis of Bonnie Brae street was hostess last evening at a dinner party at the Alexandria, followed by a box party at Trinity Auditorium. The pleasant affair was planned as a courtesy to Miss Kate Van Nuys and her betrothed, James Page, and Mr. and Mrs. Stuart O'Melveny. The table was massed with Cecile Brunners and besides the hostess and honored guests there were plates for Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. O'Melveny, Mr. I. N. Van Nuys and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schweppe.

Have Returned.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sweet of No. 622 South Vermont avenue have returned from an extended stay at Arrowhead.

Back from the East.

Mrs. Josiah Warner Barton and Mrs. Charles H. Hill of Manchester, N. H., who spend the winter months at the Hotel Green in Pasadena, have arrived in Los Angeles and are now at the Alexandria.

From Parts Afar.

Miss Margaret Davidson of Dundee, Scotland, and James Douglas of Honolulu were married Monday at the home of the groom's uncle, George M. Crowe of No. 2330 West Twenty-first street. The home was handsome with quantities of yellow chrysanthemums and ferns, which also adorned the bride's table for the supper, which followed. The young people were attended by Miss Gertrude Crowe and her brother, Will Crowe, and the wedding marches were played by Miss Helena Parker. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas left immediately following the service for San Francisco, from which place they will sail for Honolulu.

Pleasant Affair.

Mrs. C. Michener of No. 233 North Raymond avenue, Pasadena, entertained informally recently as a courtesy to her young daughter-in-law, Mrs. Park Michener of South Pasadena, and for her sister, Mrs. George Bird of Chicago. Most of the guests were from Los Angeles and South Pasadena, and were friends of the younger Mrs. Michener.

Sunshine Society.

Mrs. J. M. Porter of No. 510 Prospect square, Pasadena, was hostess to the Sunshine Society, yesterday afternoon. This was the annual meeting and much importance was attached to it.

Birthday Celebration.

To mark her natal day, Miss Edith Hamil of No. 1062 North Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena, had her rooms gay and sweet with a profusion of pink roses and ferns Saturday evening. Cards were enjoyed during the evening by twenty-four guests. The supper table was a thing of beauty in its dress of pink blossoms and greenery.

Personal Mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Richmond M. Graff entertained at dinner for six at the Altadena Country Club recently.

"At Home."

Mrs. George T. Lord and her sisters, the Misses Power of No. 181 South Madison avenue, Pasadena, were "at home" to their visiting list Tuesday. They were assisted by Mrs. Frank V. Rider and her two daughters, who presided at the tea table.

For Bride-elect.

Miss Elsa King, a charming bride-elect of the month, was the honoree at a pretty affair recently when Miss Emma Ditzler of No. 249 South Franklin street, Pasadena, entertained with a miscellaneous shower in her honor. The guests for the evening were members of the Clover Club and of the Trinity Lutheran Church. Miss King, who was "bid" to the party only as a member of the club, was surprised by the shower of gifts, to learn that she was the honoree of the occasion. After numerous clever games, refreshments were served in the flower-trimmed rooms to Miss Elsa King, Miss Martha Thompson, Miss Thea Thompson, Miss Dorothy Fischer, Miss Olga Richert, Miss Clara Johnson, Miss Viola Richert, Miss Ella Light, Miss Mabel Faust, Miss Leonova Lieberg, Miss Irene Lieberg, Miss Minnie Gamsjager, Miss Minnie Schoch, Mrs. Barclow and the hostess, Miss Emma Ditzler.

Coming!

TULLY DRAMA AT MAJESTIC.

"Red Widow" to Sparkle and Glow at Morosco.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw in the "Threads of Destiny."

Max Figman and Dickens in Pictures.

"A Pair of Sixes," funniest of farces, will remain at the Majestic during the balance of the week. Saturday night will be the last performance of the piece, which is proving very popular this week.

That ever-popular play which had its birth in Los Angeles, "The Bird of Paradise," Richard Walton Tully's charming story of the Hawaiian Islands, will be the next attraction at the Majestic, commencing next Monday evening and ending on the Sunday following.

The company will contain William Desmond, David Hartford, Robert Morris, John Burton and David Landau, all old Los Angeles favorites.

Morosco.

"Let's Get Married" will finish out the week at the Morosco, with those popular musical-comedy favorites, Frances Cameron, Walter Lawrence, Jess Dandy and others, in the leading roles, when the pleasing production will be taken on tour.

Beginning next Monday night, October 26, the Gaiety company will offer one of the most elaborate musical productions of the season, "The Red Widow," Raymond Hitchcock's success, with a star cast from New York.

The company includes Miss Grace Edmond, Harry Gribbon, Bessie de Vols, Mae Emery, Neal Burns, Edward Clark, Edward Wilson, Billy Clifton, Jack Pollard and others, with a stunning chorus.

The costumes, which are many and beautiful, are by Mme. Keeler, who costumed "Let's Get Married."

Burbank.

"Fine Feathers," Eugene Walters's play of modern times, is proving popular at the Burbank, with Selma Paley and Forrest Stanley playing the leading roles.

To follow "Fine Feathers," the famous farcical comedy, "Over Night," by Philip H. Bartholomae, is now in preparation.

The cast will include both Selma Paley and Lillian Kemble Cooper.

With a programme that includes every well-known film star in Southern California, the Photo-Players' all-star vaudeville gambol, which will be held at the Mason Operahouse on Friday and Saturday nights, October 30 and 31, promises to be a most unique affair.

Leading men and women from each moving-picture company will take part, and the lobby of the theater, gay with flowers, will be the reception-room where prominent moving-picture people will sell flowers and greet the audience.

Seats will go on sale at the Mason next Monday.

Orpheum.

This week's bill at the Orpheum is proving a huge success.

Next week Charlie Ahearn, whose reputation as a funmaker on wheels has girdled the globe, will bring his expert troupe of cycling comedians to the Orpheum as topliners.

Lee Salvaggio, two pretty Parisienne dancers, will show the latest whirlwind dances and some pretty gowns. Others on the bill are Hans Kronold, Hermine Shone and company, Alexander and Scott, and the Six American dancers.

Pantages.

Alex Pantages wires from San Francisco that the Pantages fall road show is breaking all records for business at the Pantages Theater, and the aggregation will be seen here next week.

"The War Baron," a Jack Golden musical comedy, heads the list with a company of pretty little soldier girls and sailorettes. H. Guy Woodward offers "The Crisis," a divorce problem play. Vivian Marshall, with "The Water Lilies," in a swimming and diving act, has a number of local aquatic celebrities, Aileen Allen and Dolly Mings appearing with this act. There are other pleasing numbers on the bill.

Loew's Empress.

Eva Prout, the remarkable little entertainer, and the bill that accompanies her are enjoying popularity at Loew's Empress this week. The new bill, which starts next Monday at the Empress, promises unusual quality, headlined by Alice Hanson, the "laugh girl," the highest salaried comedienne on the Loew circuit.

Lee Rose and Catharine Moon are new stars of song and dance, and will furnish modern dance features for the new bill. The Three Mori Brothers, Japanese, Allen Miller and company in "The Maid Mary," Edward Jolly and Winifred Wild in neat songs, nifty dances and comedy, Theodore Hamberg in shadowgraph work, and some new pictures complete the bill.

Republic.

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, the most widely advertised actress in this country, with her son, Russell William Thaw, otherwise known as "Pompom," the youngest picture actor in the world, will be the headline attraction at the Republic next week in a moving-picture drama, "Threads of Destiny." Fred Mace has the leading masculine role.

Six new acts of vaudeville accompany the picture.

Hippodrome.

"The Girl Show" at the Hip is proving a hit this week.

Next week's show sounds good, too. Parker and Butler, song and dance artists; Lydell and Hughs, knockabout comedians; Gilmore and Lavonyne, in song and patter, and the Four Casting Lameys, are some of the new numbers, and there will be Charlie Reilly in musical comedy.

Tally's Broadway.

"Wildflower," with Marguerite Clark, has been most successful this week.

Next week a great comedy will be presented with Max Figman as star. Appearing with him is Lolita Robertson, and they will give George Barr McCutcheon's famous success, "What's His Name?"

Symphony.

Beginning tonight, "Brewster's Millions" will be the offering at the Symphony. This comedy is so well known that it hardly needs an introduction. There are probably few productions so popular as "Brewster's Millions."

Next week one of the Paramount features will be presented. This is "The County Chairman," with Maciyn Arbuckle as the star.

Clune's Auditorium.

"The Littlest Rebel" is bringing big success to Clune's Auditorium this week.

"St. Elmo" is to be given next week, with an exceptionally strong cast.

Clune's Broadway.

Kathlyn Williams is featured during the next four days in a Selig drama, "The Woman of It," in which a woman shipwrecked on a desert island with a gentleman and a man-brute as companions, reverts back to an earlier stage of life and prefers the brute as a companion.

Maurice Costello in "The Mill of Life," adds much to the worth of the all-star programme. Ruth Roland and Lloyd V. Hamilton are seen in a good comedy, "Si's Wonderful Spring," and there are other good features.

Mozart.

"Vendetta," dramatized from the novel of the same name, is the splendid offering at the Mozart this week. Thrilling and startling is this gripping story of love, hate and revenge.

Next week a double bill wil be presented, including "Beasts of the Jungle," a comedy drama.

The Woodley.

"The Fortune Hunter," this week's offering at The Woodley, is most pleasing, and is well received.

Next week Charles Dickens will come to life in the films, in "The Mystery of Edwin Drood," the story terminated at its most exciting and mysterious point by the death of Dickens.

Tom Terriss, most famous interpreter of Dickens's characters, is featured in the film, using what he believes would have been Dickens's solution of his plot. Question: do you agree with Terriss?

Miller's.

"The Squaw Man," with Dustin Farnum in the lead, is this week's offering at Miller's and is meeting with splendid success.

Jarlin de Danse.

The Jardin de Danse will observe the formal opening of the winter dancing season on Monday night next. It is expected that numbers of lovers of the modern dances will be in attendance, when the one-step, the hesitation waltz, the two-step and other dances of the period will find hundreds of interpreters.

"GREETERS" ELECT OFFICERS.

New President Elected Head of Southern California Hotel Men Without a Dissenting Vote.

George Hart of the firm of Hart Brothers, operating the new Rosslyn Hotel, was unanimously named president of the Southern California Hotel Men's Association at the fifth annual election of that organization and succeeds Walter E. Raymond to the office.

E. W. Cason was re-elected for the fifth time to the office of secretary. The first vice-president-elect is Vernon Goodwin; the second, J. H. Holmes of San Diego; the third, W. Lee. Lee Holladay was named assistant secretary; A. T. Munn, treasurer, and E. H. Hess, assistant treasurer. A list of prominent hotel men of the southern part of the State were named on the Executive Committee. Plans for the annual banquet were not announced, but these are under way.

Music.

FREMSTAD IN BEST VEIN.

Superb Singer Dedicates Trinity Auditorium.

Grand Opera Shunned for Chic Folk Songs.

Philharmonic Season has an Auspicious Debut.

It needed no crash of crystal, no splash of foaming wine, to christen the Trinity Auditorium last night, and dedicate it to the music muse. The silver cadence of Olive Fremstad's superb voice made other ceremonies superfluous and inconsequential.

Nor could the brilliance of the first night audience, which gathered to listen to the first offering of this year's Philharmonic course, detract one whit from the effulgence shed by this superb woman who literally fought her way from the stool of a folding evangelist organ to the very front rank of prima donnas.

In fact, one almost grudges Olive Fremstad her concert success for, perchance, it spells her permanent retirement from the grand opera stage, and that would mean losing the best Kundry and the best Isolde we ever had.

It was a pure-gold performance, splendid selection of programme delightfully free from grand opera excerpts, by the way, vying with the voice and personality of the singer in keeping the music lovers aquiver all evening.

For Olive Fremstad has personality as well as voice. She dresses superbly, reminds one very much of Mrs. Pat Campbell in the colors and clinging lines she effects, and she possesses a chic little way that makes her lilting numbers perfectly entrancing.

Above all, she is gloriously healthy and strong, all sleek and svelt, and just a-bubble with virility. It bursts forth in every note she utters, and perhaps that is why, for her, the sad songs are most difficult.

If one could possibly have been disappointed in anything the diva offered, surely it was that number to which we looked forward to most, "Tenting Tonight." Oh, if it had been two keys lower, and not so staccato! What a good old-fashioned cry we could have had! It earned hearty encore, though, as did everything else, but it was easy to tell that the audience liked best those bits which were gay and elusive.

There was "Elfenlied," for example, by Hugo Wolf, which came after a ramble through Schumann and Grieg. It covers, without pyrotechnics, a baffling range and ends up with some cuckoos that Fremstad tosses off with a nod of the head so that they tum-

Still Hoping.

RYAN ADDS ANOTHER WIN.

He and Hughes may Form an Auto Trust.

Rhino Walks Over Two Runs in the Eighth.

Eating at the Park is Still First-class.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

There are still traces of creamery butter on the pop corn, and the bloated hot dog barons circulate through the park barking their well-known wares, all of which is conclusive evidence that the Coast League season has it on all others when it comes to an endurance contest.

AND A GAME.

There also is a baseball game played on the side every day, but it is over the food that the nuts wax enthusiastic. Most of them seem to go out there simply to eat. Were there no victuals in the place, a baseball game at this season of the year would be a solemn occasion, indeed.

The nuts remain passive in the face of the most thrilling play, but the appearance of the peanut boy is always the signal for wild cheering.

A CHANCE.

This is, indeed, a strange condition when we pause to reflect that several persons have figured it out to their own satisfaction that Los Angeles has a chance for the pennant. The statistics show this to be the truth, but, of course, it is not a fat chance. Those who cling to this fragile hope are fond of citing the splendid example of Boston.

Win or lose in the bitter end, the Angels yesterday, more firmly glued themselves onto the trail of the Beavers, and the indications are that they will finish nothing worse than a nice, warm second.

RYAN WINS.

Jack Ryan displayed sudden symptoms of entering the Ford industry along with Mr. Hughes, and chalked up his twenty-third win of the season. This was done at the expense of Rhino Hitt, who suffered the pangs of a 5-to-1 defeat.

It is understood that Messrs. Ryan and Hughes intend to corner all the automobiles in the country and form a trust.

The Angels performed the somewhat unusual feat of getting five runs on six hits. This was made possible because Rhino became wild in the eighth and emitted four passes. The entire Ryan family now entertain the highest regard for Rhino.

HELPED OUT.

A number of trouble spots appeared in Jack's career, but in these times of pith and moment, he tightened suddenly or was aided by sharp support. His pals played perfect ball, and were really brilliant in spots.

The first thing Ryan did was to mow Carlisle down on strikes. Leard stepped in with a single to right, and Kane fouled to Brooks. Old man Riseberg's son raked a double into right, and it looked for all the world like a regular Tiger tally until Wolter made a classy stop. He heaved the ball to Abstein, who relayed to Brooks in a swift and precise manner. This chain of events resulted in Bill being nailed at the plate.

VERY CALM.

Things then remained calm and collected until the fourth, when the Angels accumulated an ace. After Metzger had been retired, Ellis flicked up a weak fly that Leard muffed. Abstein then fell on Hitt for a single, which represented the first Angel hit. Maggert flied to Kane, and Zeb was passed, filling the bases. Ernie Johnson stood spraddled out at the plate with his customary grace for a time, and when he seemed just on the verge of fanning, slammed a single off Litschi's bare hand, scoring Rube. Brooks fouled to Rowdy.

Venice tied the score in the fifth with two down on a double by McArdle, and a single by Elliott.

ANOTHER.

Los Angeles put over the extra score needful in the fifth. Maggert tried to tear a hand off Litschi, and

LANGFORD AND WILLS TO BOX.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Sam Langford, the Boston colored heavyweight, and Harry Wills, colored scrapper from New Orleans, were today matched by Jimmy Coffroth for a twenty-round contest, to take place at the Mission-street arena, Daly City, Friday night, November 13.

Wills's sensational work in the four-round game here has attracted much attention. He handled Willie Meehan as easily as one would a child; then took Charlie Miller in a round, let Sailor Grande stay four rounds out of the goodness of his heart, and finally whipped Charlie Horn in half a minute.

Wills also boxed a ten-round, no-decision contest against Langford in New Orleans and holds a ten-round verdict over Joe Jeanette.

Langford's quick disposal of Gunboat Smith will tend to increase interest in the match.

BENDER HAD A SWELLED HEAD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Ban Johnson tells a story that throws a very interesting sidelight upon the humiliation of Chief Bender in the opening game of the world's series.

"It appears that a few days before the opening of the world's series, Mack ordered Bender to go over to New York and watch the challengers in action. A few hours later Connie ran into the chief in the streets of Philadelphia.

"I thought you had gone to look over the Braves," said Mack, somewhat testily.

"Oh, I did not give that a second thought," answered the Indian.

"What's the use of wasting a perfectly good afternoon looking over a bunch of bush league hitters?"

Mack, it is said, did not forget to remind the Indian of his remark when Bender reached the Philadelphia bench in disgrace.

NATIONALS TAKE ANOTHER DEFEAT.

AMERICANS SLUG THEIR WAY TO VICTORY OVER BILL JAMES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FORSYTH (Mont.) Oct. 21.—The American League all-star team defeated here today the National League team, 9 to 6. Heavy hitting featured, five home runs being made. The batteries were Vaughan, James and Killifer for the Nationals and Mitchell and McAvoy for the Americans.

Hurt.

TOMMY DAVIS IN RASH ACT.

Tried to Shove His Head Down His Throat.

Results in Putting Him Down for the Count.

Will be in the Line-up Again on Saturday.

Capt. Tommy Davis of U.S.C. tried to jam his head down where his lungs are by inserting the same in the burglar-proof abdomen of a gentleman on the scrubs in practice last night, with the result that the Trojan hopes against Whittier are slightly less robust than at this time yesterday.

Late last night it was reported that Davis would be in the game prepared to transport the spheroid with his usual eclat against the hustling Quakers on Saturday, but if he is out of the game, or even, for that matter, weakened, it will lessen the Trojan's chances materially.

The absence of Lund, the only man in the whole Trojan squad who has had any experience in college football, was a severe blow to the back field, and the loss of Davis would be greater.

The back field will probably line up with Holloway at quarter, Davis and Len Livernash at halves and Elmore at full-back. Kelly has been something of a frost at full-back, failing to make use of his speed and being absolutely useless at line plunging.

The presence of Elmore in the back field gives the Trojans a terrific line smasher and a first-class punter. The big full-back isn't as fast as Kelly, but he is filled with the stuff that made the Minute Men of 1776 famous. He hits the line like a ton of brick and is a tough guy on the defense.

Tommy Davis,

Captain of the University of Southern California varsity, who was injured in practice yesterday, but who will be in the line-up against Whittier Saturday.

Very Tame.

WHAT'S THIS EXCITEMENT ABOUT CHARLEY WHITE?

BY DONALD O'BRIEN.

JUST a week before he fights Charley White, the lightweight champion, Freddie Welsh, is to go ten rounds with Ad Wolgast in New York. This shows how worried he is over the pride of Chicago.

For once I feel myself compelled to string with Freddie. Of all the four-flushers who ever had the nerve to claim the championship, I think Charley White is about the cheapest. If any one in the house can figure what all this gush over Charley White is about, I will pause while he rises and addresses the audience.

VERY LUCKY.

As far as I can see, all White ever did was to smack a lucky punch in the chin of Willie Ritchie in Milwaukee; and then was too timid to go in and finish him. Ever since then he has been swelling out his chest and beating up Kid Yoakum of Denver. Kid Yoakum is such a sucker that he could hire out to ambitious fame seekers.

Since taking his lucky poke at Willie Ritchie, all that Charley White has done is to fight one miserable imitation of an affair with Joe Azevedo in San Francisco and hammer up ol' Kid Yoakum.

We will now glance back over the career of this pugilistic phenomenon. He first came into prominence in 1910. In November of that year he fought his only fight at Vernon. This was against little Danny Webster, who won the fight.

AWFUL.

White fought about the most craven, cowardly—well, you could hardly call it a battle. But, whatever it was, the crowd booed until their throats were sore and the newspaper dismissed it with a contemptuous line, giving all the space to a little Mexican who fought in one of the preliminaries. His name was Joe Rivers.

The next year White lost to Joe Mandot and fought a lot of no-decision bouts. The following year he also stuck cautiously to the no-decision stuff, where nothing could happen to him.

In 1913 White ventured a few times in regular fights with real fighters. On July 4 he fought Jack Britton in New Orleans. Britton made about the worst sucker of White that one fighter ever did of another. The Sheriff had to stop it in the eighteenth round to save White from being assassinated.

STATEMENT.

After the fight he made a statement to the effect that Jack Britton was the greatest lightweight in the ring and that he would never attempt to be champion as long as Britton was alive.

In November, 1913, he fought Johnny Dundee in New Orleans and what happened is one of the scandals of ring history. Dundee hammered him around the ring and White was apparently about out when the lights suddenly went out. No one could explain why they went ou. They stayed out for three-quarters of an hour.

NAVAL RESERVE TO HAVE BOAT.

MOVEMENT TO GET DESTROYER HERE.

POSSIBILITY THAT LOCAD MEN WILL HAVE SHIP TO TRAIN ON.

Plans to secure the permanent use of a government torpedo destroyer and to organize a new division of the naval militia in Los Angeles to man the destroyer will be brought up at an athletic smoker to be given at the Exposition Park Armory a week from tonight.

This is a project that will interest all the husky young athletes in Southern California, as it will give an opportunity to young city men to enjoy the pleasure and the benefits of navy training.

Morgan Adams, who has been one of the most enthusiastic yachtsmen in Los Angeles for a long time, will go into the naval reserve with the formation of the new division. It is largely through his efforts that the California delegation in Congress has interested itself in finding a suitable boat for the use of the reserve.

The one selected for the purpose will probably be the torpedo boat destroyer Farragut, now in San Francisco as a reserve ship, having been withdrawn from active service. If the plans materialize, the Farragut will be brought down to San Pedro and stationed in the harbor.

UP TO STATE.

Although the government has signified its willingness to donate the use of the boat, the expense of running it must be furnished by the State. At the next Legislature a bill will be brought up, providing a special appropriation for this purpose.

The Naval Reserve of California has at present two divisions in Los Angeles, mustering 180 men. At their Armory at Exposition Park these divisions meet every Thursday evening. Everything is furnished to these men, their uniforms, rifles of the latest type and rapid-fire guns.

They have a large four-inch navy rifle, mounted for practice on its regular sea standard, which they are taught to handle, and so efficiently were they taught that, upon the last cruise of their ship, the Marblehead, these same southern divisions made one of the best scores in gunnery in the entire United States. Two divisions are not sufficient, however, to furnish a full crew for the destroyer.

Next Thursday night, October 29, at 8 p.m., in the main armory room at Exposition Park, able-bodied, red-blooded men, between the ages of 18 and 30, will be permitted to enlist into this new division. It is expected that a full division will be enlisted at that time.

THEIR HOURS.

With a ship assigned to these local seamen, and stationed at San Pedro, the reserves will probably go aboard their vessel on Saturday evenings, returning Sundays, in order not to interfere with the working day of the reserves.

All expenses of the reservists are paid by the State, and on an actual cruise at sea, which is usually taken for two weeks during the summer, the men receive the regular pay of similar positions in the United States navy, plus an additional dollar per day paid by the State.

The two divisions now organized will hold their regular drill tonight, when young men can see what the work is like.

On the 29th inst. an exhibition drill will be given, together with some athletic events, including boxing, wrestling, etc., to be followed by a general smoker of the existing divisions and of the new division to be formed.

LANGFORD HASN'T GONE BACK.

STILL ABLE TO BEAT THE HOPES.

PACKY M'FARLAND DOESN'T LOOK MUCH LIKE A LIGHTWEIGHT.

BY DE WITT VAN COURT.

Last Tuesday night's contest in Boston between Gunboat Smith and Sam Langford gave us the true dope on Smith's caliber as a champion heavyweight.

Langford has been considered about on his last legs as a fighter ever since he arrived from Australia over a year ago, when he landed in this country weighing 200 pounds stripped.

FIRST MATCH.

The first match he had after his arrival was with Jack Lester, which I had the pleasure of witnessing up in Taft, one year ago last July.

What he did to Lester on that day would be well worth not repeating.

Lester never had a look-in from the start to the finish. Sam did about as he pleased in each and every round and showed that he was hitting harder than ever, although he had lost a lot of his speed from being overweight.

We predicted at that time that he was as good, if not better, than at any time in his life, notwithstanding all the stories told about him and his condition.

NOT ALL IN.

The showing he has made since that time proves conclusively that a fighter is not necessarily in, even if he has passed the thirty-five-year mark of his life, provided he knows the game, as Sam does.

Smith never had anything but a hard right-hand punch, which if he was lucky enough to land gave him a great chance to win.

But when he met a man who knew the game his right hand might as well have been tied up, for all the use it was worth.

Many of the fans are claiming that Gunboat is going back. My personal opinion is that he never was there to go back.

OLD-TIMER.

Sam Langford has been in the game more than twice as long as Smith, and he has met most of the so-called heavyweight champions of today.

Smith has done the same thing for the time he has been in the game.

But notice the difference in Sam's record and that of Smith's. Sam has allowed many men to take a decision over him, but if you look over his record you will see that few, if any, came back the second time and repeated the performance.

Gunboat Smith, like most of our present-day champions, is one of the poorest we ever had in the game.

He has depended on one punch to

With Only One Plane Eligible, Army Test is Called Off.

Nothing Doing.

AEROPLANE TEST IS CALLED OFF.

Only One Machine Eligible to Compete.

Glenn Curtis Alone Ready for Tests.

Schmidt Biplane Attracts a Big Crowd.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 21.—As all but one of the entries, that of Glenn Curtiss, for the government aerial competition at North Island, were disqualified for one reason or another, Capt. Arthur S. Cowan, commanding officer of the First Aero Corps in charge of the competition, announced today that it would not be held.

TO TAKE NOTES.

Capt. Cowan further stated that while the competition could not be held the army officers will take note of tests made by the various aeroplanes on the ground with a view to making recommendations to the government for the purchase of army aeroplanes. He also stated that additional aeroplanes would be bought by the government.

Although calling off the competition was a source of considerable financial loss and a keen disappointment to some of the aviators, they took it gamely. Silas Christofferson, who was ruled out through being unable to get his machine on the grounds before midnight last night, as he had engine trouble in attempting to fly down, says he will make a flight from Los Angeles to North Island Friday in his entry and try it out before the government officials.

WILL FLY.

Maximillian Schmitt, the Paterson (N. J.) manufacturer, whose small biplane has created a sensation among aviators gathered here, says his pilot, Harold Kentner, will make a cross-country flight soon and do some other flying while out here. Schmidt's trip here, the cost of bringing his machines and men, amounted to almost $1500. He was ruled out as the blue prints of his aeroplane did not reach the department by the required time.

The tiny Schmidt biplane, which is different in nearly every respect from other types, has aroused the curiosity of aviators who are anxious to see what the machine can do. It is a small biplane with a high-powered Le Rohne rotary engine.

STRONG.

The body is of laminated wood, which though but three-sixteenths of an inch thick stands the test of 1000 pounds pressure to the square foot before breaking. The machine weighs but 600 pounds and is built for speed. It has a flattened fusilage end, which makes it look like a dragon.

When the little biplane made a short flight yesterday amazement was expressed by many of the onlookers, who included such men as Lincoln Beachey and Oscar Brindley, at the flat gliding angle made by the small surface machine.

Keitner, the pilot, is one of the most famous aviators in this country and won the aerial derby in New York last July. He is, however, a monoplane man and this is his first biplane driving.

If the machine is able to make the tests specified in the government competition rules it will mean much in aviation. Many are sceptical that the little machine can carry the required weight, that of 450 pounds and four hours fuel, but the maker though modest about its qualities, thinks it can pass all of the tests.

Among the visitors to the aviation field was Miss Katherine Stinson, the young girl who flies a Wright machine. Miss Stinson will go to Alabama soon for flights, but said she later expected to return to North Island to do some flying.

Glenn Curtiss and Glenn Martin, each of whom have had types of their machines accepted by the government, are naturally not so disappointed over the calling off of the competition. Both had entered magnificent aeroplanes, which in finish far exceed the workmanship on the Schmidt machine.

Although Glenn Martin, who was disqualified from the government aerial meet, will make the tests specified by the competition board at North Island this week, Martin does not think the ruling was fair.

Martin, like Maximillian Schmitt, was disqualified because the blue prints of his aeroplane were not in the office at Washington by October 1.

Martin states that he sent the blue prints October 14, as he had explained to officials at North Island that he was delayed in getting the motor from the factory, but that he was not informed until this morning that he was disqualified for this reason. He takes the stand that any rating board or federation would have notified him in such a case at least forty-eight hours after his failure to qualify.

Maximillian Schmitt, while he makes no other comment on the affair, says he mailed his blue prints September 27 from Paterson, N. J., and thought that was allowing plenty of time for them to reach Washington by October 1.

While no one dares express the opinion openly, it is hinted that, as the appropriation for aviation made by the government is pitifully small in comparison with the needs, being but $250,000, and as but three entries arrived for the meet, it was deemed advisable to call it off rather than to pay out the $20,000 in prizes for first, second and third awards, and it is understood that aeroplanes will be purchased after seeing the tests of aeroplanes this week.

NINETEEN YEAR OLD BOY WANTS TO FIGHT WELSH.

Kid Lewis, Who has Licked Hughie Mehegan, Herb McCoy, Joe Shugrue and Other Stars, and Who is Featherweight Champ of Europe, would Relieve Freddie of His Title.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A ring champion at 19 years. This is the personal recommendation presented by Alfred "Kid" Lewis upon his arrival in this country several days ago. Lewis does not ask you to take his word for it; he has clippings galore and a Lord Lonsdale championship belt to support his contention.

Lewis is the present featherweight champion of Europe and the lightweight champion of Australia. The Lonsdale trophy is emblematic of the English championship. He came into possession of the European title by defeating Paul Til, the French champion.

BEAT MEHEGAN.

Lewis's claim to the Antipodean championship is based on his victory over Hughie Mehegan, the Australian lightweight titleholder. And young Alfred is not yet 20 years old.

Lewis is here on a laudable mission. It is his hope and ambition to wrest the world's lightweight championship from his compatriot, Freddie Welsh. Negotiations are already pending for a titular match between the pair and it is likely that they will fight it out right in this little municipality.

Should Lewis be successful in weaning away the title from Welsh he would be the youngest world's champion the ring has ever known. Terry McGovern was close to 21 when he won the featherweight title from Dixon and McAuliffe was about the same age when he took the lightweight crown from Jack Hopper.

Attell had just passed his majority when he claimed the featherweight bauble and got away with it; Dixon was 21 at the time he put in his bid for the lightweight title. Coulon won the bantamweight wreath from Frankie Conley when he was over 21 and Williams in turn took it from Coulon at the same milestone in life.

WILLIE RITCHIE.

Ritchie was 21 when he relieved Ad Wolgast of the 135-pound championship. The "Michigan Wildcat" was 23 when he battered the title away from Bat Nelson. The Dane had taken the honor away from Gans when the durable one was 26. Kilbane was 24 at the time he nailed Attell into passing over the featherweight premiership.

Bob Fitzsimmons, at the age of 29, took the middleweight laurels from Jack Dempsey, and Jim Jeffries had just turned 27 when he thumped Fitz into submission with the heavyweight championship at stake. Freddie Welsh is 28 years old and it was only a few months ago that he took the lightweight title away from Ritchie.

And Alfred "Kid" Lewis is not yet 20 years old. This data is furnished with a view of showing that Lewis would be the youngest champion of all time. Of course, he must first dispose of Welsh to acquire the distinction. But Lewis is confident that if the match is consummated he will surely emerge the victor.

While in Australia Lewis vanquished Mehegan, Herb McCoy and our own Young Shugrue, who is rated among the best lightweights in captivity. In his native land, England, Lewis is accredited with being even faster than Jem Driscoll, and in his day Driscoll was a wizard.

EARLY START.

Lewis started fighting at the tender age of 16. He abandoned cabinet-making to pursue his fortune in the glove game, and he has been eminently successful. He has engaged in close to 200 fights to date, has never been knocked down, and has lost only two decisions. Quite a record for a tyro.

Lewis is anxious to show that he is not an imposter, and he says he would prefer to tackle Leach Cross first of all, just to show his prowess before an American audience. And as Cross is one of the three really good American lightweights, Lewis is certainly imposing a hard task upon himself in an effort to gain recognition on his merits.

Another English boxer is in our midst. None other than Eddie Morgan, who, upon his first invasion, cleaned up Johnny Dundee, Frankie Burns and Eddie O'Keefe. Morgan is on the trail of Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight boss.

Morgan stands ready to fight his way to the right to tackle Kilbane. Johnny was to have boxed Abe Attell for the championship, but an injured hand, sustained in a fall while horseback riding, put Kilbane up for repairs, and his match with Attell has been deferred for a month or so.

While Kilbane is recovering, Morgan has signified his willingness to take on Abie, so that the latter would not become impatient for lack of action. Attell is yet to be heard from on the proposition.

A Come-back.

ROWING NOT SO HARD ON HEART AS BASKETBALL.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Concerted action on the part of the undergraduates at the University of Wisconsin to secure a reinstatement of rowing on an intercollegiate competitive basis has quickly folowed the decision of the authorities at Madison to bar the Badger crews from the regattas at Poughkeepsie on the ground that the sport induces "athletic" or hypertrophied hearts in the oarsmen, to their distinct injury.

The students are in up arms, and the leaders in the rowing circles at Madison have launched forth a campaign in an effort to refute the findings of the doctors who examined the athletes at Wisconsin and upon whose report the action of the authorities is claimed to be predicated.

DISAPPOINTMENT.

The announcement from Madison that the Badger crews would not be permitted to compete in the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie next year came as a surprise to the college rowing world, and has caused universal regret among the followers of the sport, who have for years admired the spirit which has taken the Badgers to the East against great disadvantages and the splendid races that they have made.

Albert J. Dexter, captain of the 1915 Wisconsin varsity crew, has sent letters to the athletic directors at all universities where rowing is a major sport, asking them to forward medical opinions concerning the effect on their oarsmen of rowing competition, and he has back of him in his efforts to secure the reinstatement of the sport the entire undergraduate body at Madison.

TO THE RESCUE.

Capt. Dexter has found a warm supporter in Dr. George L. Meylan, director of physical education at Columbia University, long trained in the study of athletics and the effect of athletic competition upon them. Dr. Meylan, prior to receiving Capt. Dexter's letter requesting his views on the effect of rowing competition on the Columbia oarsmen in later life, had received an abstract of the findings of the doctors who examined the Wisconsin oarsmen.

CONCLUSIONS.

The conclusion reached by them are as follows:

"(1.) Athletic training leads at first to physiologic hypertrophy of the heart, but when prolonged and marked by severe athletic contests it usually leads to hypertrophy plus dilation of a variable degree, frequently marked by valvular insufficiency.

"(2.) Functionally the hypertrophied heart, even when dilated and giving distinct evidence of valvular insufficiency, may prove more fitted to carry the man through a severe athletic contest than a normal heart would be. On the other hand, acute cardiac dilatation occurs more frequently in athletes and men used to severe muscular strain than in normal men, and the ultimate effects are more prolonged and severe.

"(3.) There is reason to believe that for normal human activities an 'athletic' heart is distinctly disadvantageous."

WELL QUALIFIED.

Probably no one man in this country is better qualified to give an opinion on athletic development than Dr. Meylan. He says: "I have often had to keep men from playing on teams because of seriously enlarged hearts, developed from over-exercise at the preparatory schools. The real danger lies in over-straining and over-exercising while young, and for this reason regulation in the preparatory schools and public schools should be exceedingly strict. If the college man has a good heart when he reaches college he may usually play on any team without the slightest danger to his heart.

"It often happens that college men with poor hearts get on teams and then suffer. But this could not happen with the proper direction over athletics.

REGULATION.

Regulation along this line is eminently proper, yet this does not call for the abolition of sports and races which benefit the fit men in college. I firmly believe that there are plenty of men in every college who are strong enough with the proper training to survive four-mile rowing races without the slightest injury to themselves in after life, and in fact, with inestimable benefit to their general health and strength. These men only should be selected for the teams. When they graduate, they of course should taper off their exercise when out of college and not stop all exercise at once.

NOT SO HARD.

"Rowing, as a matter of fact, is by no means as hard a sport on the heart as basket ball and cross-country running. The former is a terrific strain on the heart, yet no Columbia man has been injured by it."

Dr. Meylan has written the following letter to Capt. Dexter of the Wisconsin crew in response to the latter's request for a report:

"I have examined every man who has rowed on the Columbia crew since 1905, and have no record of a single case of injury to the heart from rowing. I have examined a large number of oarsmen from ten to fifty years after they have graduated from college, and I have come to the conclusion that if rowing ever injuries a man, it happens very seldom.

"I sincerely hope that you may be successful in your efforts to prevent the abolition of this splendid sport at the University of Wisconsin."

The study of the Harvard oarsmen by Dr. Meylan was made on 152 members of the crews who rowed in intercollegiate races against Yale from 1852 to 1892, inclusive.

St. Louis has fifty ten-pin leagues, comprising 400 teams and 5000 players.

What's This Excitement.

VERY POOR.

In the following year he fought no one of any importance except Ritchie and Azevedo and he made so miserable a showing with the latter that he had to excuse himself on the ground of a bruised hand.

White blew into Los Angeles a few weeks ago and disgusted every one by trying to mooch an automobile from some dealer and pay him in newspaper publicity. Charley got the car from the misguided dealer; then he dashed for the newspaper offices. "I just been riding in my new Punkarino car," he said.

NO RESULTS.

This failed to arouse the excitement he had hoped for. Then he dashed back and remarked that, "I just wish you would say in the paper that I am using a Punkarino car while I am in town." Pretty cheap stuff, Charley.

I am by no means crazy over Freddie Welsh, but I warm toward him when I reflect what he is due to hand the pestiferous seeker after free advertising. Welsh will make him think some one is after him with a German howitzer.

These remarks may seem rather severe, but White and his manager with their ferocious appetite for cheap puffery, their lack of frankness and candor in dealing with the public, are extremely tiresome.

ALL-STARS PLAY IN RIVERSIDE.

BILL JAMES AND BULLET JOE BUSH MAY OPPOSE EACH OTHER.

[SPECIAL CONTRIBUTION.]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 21.—Word has been received by Fred Reese, manager of the Riverside Portland Cement Company baseball team, that the all-star teams of the National and American leagues will be seen in a game here on November 11. Local fans are looking forward with keen interest to seeing "Big Bill" James, who pitched in two of the winning games for Boston against the Athletics, and "Bullet" Joe Bush, in action on the Evans Athletic Park diamond.

Going East.

YOST SAID TO HAVE MADE CHANGE IN HIS LINE-UP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ANN ARBOR (Mich.) Oct. 21.—On the eve of the departure of the Wolverines for the first eastern invasion of the present year, came rumors tonight that Yost was planning another of his eleventh-hour shifts in the Michigan eleven, this one to be even more startling than the changes which sent Rehor, McHale and Benton into the game last Saturday to surprise the Aggies.

The wizard coach himself refuses to give out the least inkling of what happened behind the tightly-closed gates down at Ferry Field this afternoon, but rumor has it that a flanker is to be seen in the back field when the Wolverines trot out onto the Syracuse gridiron on the coming Saturday. The shift, it is reported, also includes the advent of Dunne into the line-up once more. The Chicagoan is to be put back chiefly because of his defensive ability, for the Michigan wings were peculiarly vulnerable to Aggies' attack last Saturday.

A solid hour of scrimmage was the principal item in the Yost practice this afternoon. The varsity scored two touchdowns against the scrubs for a starter and then added four more against the all-fresh.

On the Lookout.

LONG BEACH ELEVEN IS LAYING FOR SEAY'S TEAM.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Oct. 21.—Only comparatively hard work has marked the practice of the Long Beach High School football team so far this week. Coaches Elliott and Cook have decided to use the utmost precaution to keep the men from going stale. An over-trained condition of the team last year spoiled Long Beach's chances for the championship. Every effort will be made to hold the players down this season.

A carefully-planned workout each night will bring the team up to its highest efficiency for the Pasadena-Long Beach struggle, scheduled for Thanksgiving Day on the Crown City gridiron. It is the wish of the local coaches that Long Beach be at the zenith of its career on this all-important date, when, even at this writing, it appears that the conflict will have an important bearing on the interscholastic championship.

Reports from the Pasadena camp indicate that the Crown City eleven is also looking forward to the Long Beach game with an interest that is being manifested in no other battle. It is a well known fact in Long Beach that Duffy Seay has a football machine of exceptional caliber, and much midnight oil is already being consumed by the local coaches to figure out plays and formations that will defeat the crafty Pasadena eleven. Two years ago Pasadena beat Long Beach on the Carmelita Park playgrounds at Pasadena, but Long Beach humbled the Crown Cities last year on the local gridiron. So this year it is Pasadena's turn. They will at least have the advantage of playing the game at home.

Long Beach will journey to San Diego the coming Saturday to do battle with the San Diego High School eleven. The local team expects a tight, but does not anticipate serious difficulty, in emerging victorious over the southern eleven.

As a sort of a prelude or long distance curtain-raiser to the big show, Long Beach and Pasadena second teams will clash on the local field Saturday afternoon. Keen rivalry exists even between the second string men from these two schools, and a stubborn contest is expected.

Long Beach's second team, under Coach Howard Cleveland, holds a clean record for the season thus far. No team has yet crossed its goal line. The latest achievement of the second team of this city was the 13 to 0 victory over the heavy Santa Ana second squad last Saturday.

FOURTEEN FRESHMEN ON STANFORD VARSITY SQUAD

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 20. In view of the fact that only four more weeks remain before the big game with California, Coach Brown is beginning to "shave" the varsity squad which is at present composed of sixty-eight ruggers who show promise of some day winning their varsity "S." Yesterday, he sent nineteen of the poorer players to the outside field and substituted in their places, fourteen freshmen, heretofore playing on the baby squad. These will work on an equal basis with the varsity candidates for a few days and then the shaving process will be continued.

Fans are pointing out the curious fact that while eleven of the eighteen freshmen who made their numeral in last Saturday's game are included in the first-year list of varsity candidates, three of the "frosh" who sat on the substitute line are considered good enough to stay on the inside field. Of these Clarence Neuner of Los Angeles and Steinbeck, were unlucky enough to be playing positions held down by better men, and the third, Chandler, goes onto the varsity squad, while the man who played full-back in his place, does not.

"Tiny" Wines, the fastest of the varsity front-rank men, over whose head the Damoclean sword of a condition in scholarship has been hanging, has removed the sword by "smearing" make-up exams.

Chi Omega, a woman's fraternity, or as generally termed, a sorority, has become the ninth, and will be the last such organization to enter upon the Stanford campus (the last because of a conference ruling.) A chapter of this national organization has been granted to the Langworthy Club, a woman's house club, composed of eighteen members. Of this number, eight from Southern California, are Misses Emily McCord of San Diego, Theresa Dunn of Monrovia, Anita Sudden and Eliza Darling of Ventura, Alice Butcher of Santa Paula, Ruth Allum of Riverside, Meredith Knapp of Azusa, and Grace Champion of Colton.

It is reported that many Stanford women are refusing to go to dances in Palto Alto for the reason that large crowds of roughs (student onlookers not attending the dance) congregate about the doors of the halls. The university conference promises to take definite action on the matter in the near future. It looks as though the roughs were going to be "abolished." He was kicked off the campus two years ago and now university rulings promise to reach to the near-by town.

The tiny Schmidt biplane, which is different in nearly every respect from other types, has aroused the curiosity of aviators who are anxious to see what the machine can do. It is a small biplane with a high-powered Le Rohne rotary engine.

STRONG.

The body is of laminated wood, which though but three-sixteenths of an inch thick stands the test of 1000 pounds pressure to the square foot before breaking. The machine weighs but 600 pounds and is built for speed. It has a flattened fusilage end, which makes it look like a dragon.

When the little biplane made a short flight yesterday amazement was expressed by many of the onlookers, who included such men as Lincoln Beachey and Oscar Brindley, at the flat gliding angle made by the small surface machine.

Keitner, the pilot, is one of the most famous aviators in this country and won the aerial derby in New York last July. He is, however, a monoplane man and this is his first biplane driving.

If the machine is able to make the tests specified in the government competition rules it will mean much in aviation. Many are sceptical that the little machine can carry the required weight, that of 450 pounds and four hours fuel, but the maker though modest about its qualities, thinks it can pass all of the tests.

Among the visitors to the aviation field was Miss Katherine Stinson, the young girl who flies a Wright machine. Miss Stinson will go to Alabama soon for flights, but said she later expected to return to North Island to do some flying.

Glenn Curtiss and Glenn Martin, each of whom have had types of their machines accepted by the government, are naturally not so disappointed over the calling off of the competition. Both had entered magnificent aeroplanes, which in finish far exceed the workmanship on the Schmidt machine.

Although Glenn Martin, who was disqualified from the government aerial meet, will make the tests specified by the competition board at North Island this week, Martin does not think the ruling was fair.

Martin, like Maximillian Schmitt, was disqualified because the blue prints of his aeroplane were not in the office at Washington by October 1.

Martin states that he sent the blue prints October 16, as he had explained to officials at North Island that he was delayed in getting the motor from the factory, but that he was not informed until this morning that he was disqualified for this reason. He takes the stand that any rating board or federation would have notified him in such a case at least forty-eight hours after his failure to qualify.

Maximillian Schmitt, while he makes no other comment on the affair, says he mailed his blue prints September 27 from Paterson, N. J., and thought that was allowing plenty of time for them to reach Washington by October 1.

While no one dares express the opinion openly, it is hinted that, as the appropriation for aviation made by the government is pitifully small in comparison with the needs, being but $250,000, and as but three entries arrived for the meet, it was deemed advisable to call it off rather than to pay out the $20,000 in prizes for first, second and third awards, and it is understood that aeroplanes will be purchased after seeing the tests of aeroplanes this week.

NINETEEN YEAR OLD BOY WANTS TO FIGHT WELSH.

Kid Lewis, Who has Licked Hughie Mehegan, Herb McCoy, Joe Shugrue and Other Stars, and Who is Featherweight Champ of Europe, would Relieve Freddie of His Title.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A ring champion at 19 years. This is the personal recommendation presented by Alfred "Kid" Lewis upon his arrival in this country several days ago. Lewis does not ask you to take his word for it; he has clippings galore and a Lord Lonsdale championship belt to support his contention.

Lewis is the present featherweight champion of Europe and the lightweight champion of Australia. The Lonsdale trophy is emblematic of the English championship. He came into possession of the European title by defeating Paul Til, the French champion.

BEAT MEHEGAN.

Lewis's claim to the Antipodean championship is based on his victory over Hughie Mehegan, the Australian lightweight titleholder. And young Alfred is not yet 20 years old.

Lewis is here on a laudable mission. It is his hope and ambition to wrest the world's lightweight championship from his compatriot, Freddie Welsh. Negotiations are already pending for a titular match between the pair and it is likely that they will fight it out right in this little municipality.

Should Lewis be successful in weaning away the title from Welsh he would be the youngest world's champion the ring has ever known. Terry McGovern was close to 21 when he won the featherweight title from Dixon and McAuliffe was about the same age when he took the lightweight crown from Jack Hopper.

Attell had just passed his majority when he claimed the featherweight bauble and got away with it; Dixon was 21 at the time he put in his bid for the lightweight title. Coulon won the bantamweight wreath from Frankie Conley when he was over 21 and Williams in turn took it from Coulon at the same milestone in life.

WILLIE RITCHIE.

Ritchie was 21 when he relieved Ad Wolgast of the 135-pound championship. The "Michigan Wildcat" was 22 when he battered the title away from Bat Nelson. The Dane had taken the honor away from Gans when the durable one was 26. Kilbane was 24 at the time he nailed Attell into passing over the featherweight premiership.

Bob Fitzsimmons, at the age of 29, took the middleweight laurels from Jack Dempsey, and Jim Jeffries had just turned 27 when he thumped Fitz into submission with the heavyweight championship at stake. Freddie Welsh is 26 years old and it was only a few months ago that he took the lightweight title away from Ritchie.

And Alfred "Kid" Lewis is not yet 20 years old. This data is furnished with a view of showing that Lewis would be the youngest champion of all time. Of course, he must first dispose of Welsh to acquire the distinction. But Lewis is confident that if the match is consummated he will surely emerge the victor.

While in Australia Lewis vanquished Mehegan, Herb McCoy and our own Young Shugrue, who is rated among the best lightweights in captivity. In his native land, England, Lewis is accredited with being even faster than Jem Driscoll, and in his day Driscoll was a wizard.

EARLY START.

Lewis started fighting at the tender age of 16. He abandoned cabinet-making to pursue his fortune in the glove game, and he has been eminently successful. He has engaged in close to 200 fights to date, has never been knocked down, and has lost only two decisions. Quite a record for a tyro.

Lewis is anxious to show that he is not an imposter, and he says he would prefer to tackle Leach Cross first of all, just to show his prowess before an American audience. And as Cross is one of the three really good American lightweights, Lewis is certainly imposing a hard task upon himself in an effort to gain recognition on his merits.

Another English boxer is in our midst. None other than Eddie Morgan, who, upon his first invasion, cleaned up Johnny Dundee, Frankie Burns and Eddie O'Keefe. Morgan is on the trail of Johnny Kilbane, the featherweight boss.

Morgan stands ready to fight his way to the right to tackle Kilbane. Johnny was to have boxed Abe Attell for the championship, but an injured hand, sustained in a fall while horseback riding, put Kilbane up for repairs, and his match with Attell has been deferred for a month or so.

While Kilbane is recovering, Morgan has signified his willingness to take on Abie, so that the latter would not become impatient for lack of action. Attell is yet to be heard from on the proposition.

A Come-back.

ROWING NOT SO HARD ON HEART AS BASKETBALL.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Concerted action on the part of the undergraduates at the University of Wisconsin to secure a reinstatement of rowing on an intercollegiate competitive basis has quickly folowed the decision of the authorities at Madison to bar the Badger crews from the regattas at Poughkeepsie on the ground that the sport induces "athletic" or hypertrophied hearts in the oarsmen, to their distinct injury.

The students are in up arms, and the leaders in the rowing circles at Madison have launched forth a campaign in an effort to refute the findings of the doctors who examined the athletes at Wisconsin and upon whose report the action of the authorities is claimed to be predicated.

DISAPPOINTMENT.

The announcement from Madison that the Badger crews would not be permitted to compete in the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie next year came as a surprise to the college rowing world, and has caused universal regret among the followers of the sport, who have for years admired the spirit which has taken the Badgers to the East against great disadvantages and the splendid races that they have made.

Albert J. Dexter, captain of the 1915 Wisconsin varsity crew, has sent letters to the athletic directors at all universities where rowing is a major sport, asking them to forward medical opinions concerning the effect on their oarsmen of rowing competition, and he has back of him in his efforts to secure the reinstatement of the sport the entire undergraduate body at Madison.

TO THE RESCUE.

Capt. Dexter has found a warm supporter in Dr. George L. Meylan, director of physical education at Columbia University, long trained in the study of athletics and the effect of athletic competition upon them. Dr. Meylan, prior to receiving Capt. Dexter's letter requesting his views on the effect of rowing competition on the Columbia oarsmen in later life, had received an abstract of the findings of the doctors who examined the Wisconsin oarsmen.

CONCLUSIONS.

The conclusion reached by them are as follows:

"(1.) Athletic training leads at first to physiologic hypertrophy of the heart, but when prolonged and marked by severe athletic contests it usually leads to hypertrophy plus dilation of a variable degree, frequently marked by valvular insufficiency.

"(2.) Functionally the hypertrophied heart, even when dilated and giving distinct evidence of valvular insufficiency, may prove more fitted to carry the man through a severe athletic contest than a normal heart would be. On the other hand, acute cardiac dilatation occurs more frequently in athletes and men used to severe muscular strain than in normal men, and the ultimate effects are more prolonged and severe.

"(3.) There is reason to believe that for normal human activities an 'athletic' heart is distinctly disadvantageous."

WELL QUALIFIED.

Probably no one man in this country is better qualified to give an opinion on athletic development than Dr. Meyland. He says: "I have often had to keep men from playing on teams because of seriously enlarged hearts, developed from over-exercise at the preparatory schools. The real danger lies in over-straining and over-exercising while young, and for this reason regulation in the preparatory schools and public schools should be exceedingly strict. If the college man has a good heart when he reaches college he may usually play on any team without the slightest danger to his heart.

"It often happens that college men with poor hearts get on teams and then suffer. But this could not happen with the proper direction oger athletics.

REGULATION.

Regulation along this line is eminently proper, yet this does not call for the abolition of sports and races which benefit the fit men in college. I firmly believe that there are plenty of men in every college who are strong enough with the proper training to survive four-mile rowing races without the slightest injury to themselves in after life, and in fact, with inestimable benefit to their general health and strength. These men only should be selected for the teams. When they graduate, they of course should taper off their exercise when out of college and not stop all exercise at once.

NOT SO HARD.

"Rowing, as a matter of fact, is by no means as hard a sport on the heart as basket ball and cross-country running. The former is a terrific strain on the heart, yet no Columbia man has been injured by it."

Dr. Meylan has written the following letter to Capt. Dexter of the Wisconsin crew in response to the latter's request for a report:

"I have examined every man who has rowed on the Columbia crew since 1903, and have no record of a single case of injury to the heart from rowing. I have examined a large number of oarsmen from ten to fifty years after they have graduated from college, and I have come to the conclusion that if rowing ever injuries a man, it happens very seldom.

The study of the Harvard oarsmen by Dr. Meylan was made on 152 members of the crews who rowed in intercollegiate races against Yale from 1852 to 1892, inclusive.

St. Louis has fifty ten-pin leagues, comprising 400 teams and 5000 players.

What's This Excitement.

VERY POOR.

In the following year he fought no one of any importance except Ritchie and Azevedo and he made so miserable a showing with the latter that he had to excuse himself on the ground of a bruised hand.

White blew into Los Angeles a few weeks ago and disgusted every one by trying to mooch an automobile from some dealer and pay him in newspaper publicity. Charley got the car from the misguided dealer; then he dashed for the newspaper offices. "I just been riding in my new Punkarino car," he said.

NO RESULTS.

This failed to arouse the excitement he had hoped for. Then he dashed back and remarked that, "I just wish you would say in the paper that I am using a Punkarino car while I am in town." Pretty cheap stuff, Charley.

I am by no means crazy over Freddie Welsh, but I warm toward him when I reflect what he is due to hand the pestiferous seeker after free advertising. Welsh will make him think some one is after him with a German howitzer.

These remarks may seem rather severe, but White and his manager with their ferocious appetite for cheap puffery, their lack of frankness and candor in dealing with the public, are extremely tiresome.

ALL-STARS PLAY IN RIVERSIDE.

BILL JAMES AND BULLET JOE BUSH MAY OPPOSE EACH OTHER.

[SPECIAL CONTRIBUTION.]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 21.—Word has been received by Fred Reese, manager of the Riverside Portland Cement Company baseball team, that the all-star teams of the National and American leagues will be seen in a game here on November 11. Local fans are looking forward with keen interest to seeing "Big Bill" James, who pitched in two of the winning games for Boston against the Athletics, and "Bullet" Joe Bush, in action on the Evans Athletic Park diamond.

YOST SAID TO HAVE MADE CHANGE IN HIS LINE-UP.

ANN ARBOR (Mich.) Oct. 21.—On the eve of the departure of the Wolverines for the first eastern invasion of the present year, came rumors tonight that Yost was planning another of his eleventh-hour shifts in the Michigan eleven, this one to be even more startling than the changes which sent Rehor, McHale and Benton into the game last Saturday to surprise the Aggies.

The wizard coach himself refuses to give out the least inkling of what happened behind the tightly-closed gates down at Ferry Field this afternoon, but rumor has it that a flanker is to be seen in the back field when the Wolverines trot out onto the Syracuse gridiron on the coming Saturday. The shift, it is reported, also includes the advent of Dunne into the line-up once more. The Chicagoan is to be put back chiefly because of his defensive ability for the Michigan wings were peculiarly vulnerable to Aggier attack last Saturday.

A solid hour of scrimmage was the principal item in the Yost practice this afternoon. The varsity scored two touchdowns against the scrubs for a starter and then added four more against the all-fresh.

On the Lookout.

LONG BEACH ELEVEN IS LAYING FOR SEAY'S TEAM.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Oct. 21.—Only comparatively hard work has marked the practice of the Long Beach High School football team so far this week. Coaches Elliott and Cook have decided to use the utmost precaution to keep the men from going stale. An over-trained condition of the team last year spoiled Long Beach's chances for the championship. Every effort will be made to hold the players down this season.

A carefully-planned workout each night will bring the team up to its highest efficiency for the Pasadena-Long Beach struggle, scheduled for Thanksgiving Day on the Crown City gridiron. It is the wish of the local coaches that Long Beach be at the zenith of its career on this all-important date, when, even at this writing, it appears that the conflict will have an important bearing on the interscholastic championship.

Reports from the Pasadena camp indicate that the Crown City eleven is also looking forward to the Long Beach game with an interest that is being manifested in no other battle. It is a well known fact in Long Beach that Duffy Seay has a football machine of exceptional caliber, and much midnight oil is already being consumed by the local coaches to figure out plays and formations that will defeat the crafty Pasadena eleven. Two years ago Pasadena beat Long Beach on the Carmelita Park playground at Pasadena, but Long Beach humbled the Crown Cities last year on the local gridiron. So this year it is Pasadena's turn. They will at least have the advantage of playing the game at home.

Long Beach will journey to San Diego the coming Saturday to do battle with the San Diego High School eleven. The local team expects a tight, but does not anticipate serious difficulty, in emerging victorious over the southern eleven.

As a sort of a prelude or long distance curtain-raiser of the big show, Long Beach and Pasadena second teams will clash on the local field Saturday afternoon. Keen rivalry exists even between the second string men from these two schools, and a stubborn contest is expected.

Long Beach's second team, under Coach Howard Cleveland, holds a clean record for the season thus far. No team has yet crossed its goal line. The latest achievement of the second team of this city was the 12 to 0 victory over the heavy Santa Ana second squad last Saturday.

FOURTEEN FRESHMEN ON STANFORD VARSITY SQUAD

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 20. In view of the fact that only four more weeks remain before the big game with California, Coach Brown is beginning to "shave" the varsity squad which is at present composed of sixty-eight ruggers who show promise of some day winning their varsity "S." Yesterday, he sent nineteen of the poorer players to the outside field and substituted in their places, fourteen freshmen, heretofore playing on the baby squad. These will work on an equal basis with the varsity candidates for a few days and then the shaving process will be continued.

Fans are pointing out the curious fact that while eleven of the eighteen freshmen who made their numeral in last Saturday's game are included in the first-year list of varsity candidates, three of the "frosh" who sat on the substitute line are considered good enough to stay on the inside field. Of these Clarence Neuner of Los Angeles and Steinbeck, were unlucky enough to be playing positions held down by better men, and the third, Chandler, goes onto the varsity squad, while the man who played full-back in his place, does not.

"Tiny" Wines, the fastest of the varsity front-rank men, over whose head the Damoclean sword of a condition in scholarship has been hanging, has removed the sword by "smearing" make-up exams.

Chi Omega, a woman's fraternity, or as generally termed, a sorority, has become the ninth, and will be the last such organization to enter upon the Stanford campus (the last because of a conference ruling.) A chapter of this national organization has been granted to the Langworthy Club, a woman's house club, composed of eighteen members. Of this number, eight from Southern California, are Misses Emily McCord of San Diego, Theresa Dunn of Monrovia, Anita Sadden and Eliza Darling of Ventura, Alice Butcher of Santa Paula, Ruth Allum of Riverside, Meredith Knapp of Azusa, and Grace Champion of Colton.

It is reported that many Stanford women are refusing to go to dances in Palto Alto for the reason that large crowds of roughs (student onlookers not attending the dance) congregate about the doors of the halls. The university conference promises to take definite action on the matter in the near future. It looks as though the roughs were going to be "abolished." He was kicked off the campus two years ago and now university rulings promise to reach to the near-by town.

Peeved because the Feds are to be barred from the Imperial Valley League, and other winter leagues composed of players in organized baseball, Art Krueger has vowed to organize a team of Federal League filibusters, and challenge the whole caboodle.

In addition to himself he will have Stovall, Chadbourne, Easterly, Goodwin and Rawlings.

SPEEDY STALLION FINISHES AHEAD OF WILLIAM ONCE MORE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

GRAND RAPIDS (Mich.) Oct. 21. —Directum I, holder of the world's pacing record, scored his second victory over William here today in their third match race within a month for the supremacy of the pacing world.

The champion stallion won easily in two straight heats with best time at 2:01¼. His first victory over William, during the series, was at Columbus, O., two weeks ago, when he established a world's record of 1:58. In their first meeting here four weeks ago, William won easily, taking three straight heats.

The weather was warm today and the track was considered fast.

Directum I is owned by James Butler of New York, and William by A. Earl Van Natta of Otterbein, Ind. It was announced the two horses will meet again at Kalamazoo next Wednesday.

FRESHMEN ARE USED FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE THE NEW RULING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BERKELEY, Oct. 21.—California's varsity availed itself of the new rule allowing freshmen in the line-up, and, with a fair showing from the infant class defeated St. Mary's College, 18 to 0, in Rugby football here today.

California scored two tries in each half, but failed to convert one in the second half.

Johnny Kling, the former baseball catcher, will represent Kansas City in the interstate three-cushion billiard league.

AUTO SHOW CLASS, SAYS DISTINGUISHED GUEST.

BY GASOLINE IKE.

TONIGHT is spiketail night at the automobile show. I went last night for, sad to relate, at a certain date some years back, I was forced to sacrifice my soup and fish for some coin and a ticket.

I still have the ticket, so maybe I will horn my way in among the swells tonight, and if anyone looks sassy I will elevate my nose and exhibit the ticket, which, when accompanied by a certain amount, might be redeemed for one dress suit.

But then, no one would want that dress suit, as it is a 1902 model and I fear somewhat broken down.

But then this is no fashion show number, so I had better get down to the real dope on the auto show. It is sure some show, and the only complaint I have is that there were so many people there last night I had no opportunity to make the minute inspection I had intended.

On the level, I thought the people had gotten over this automobile craze. I went out expecting to see a few nuts discussing whether or not the eight is the coming motor, but instead I found thousands of live ones with their wives looking at the various models.

I also found a new kind of joy rider, the inside rider. People who get in and out of the limousines, closing their eyes and imagine themselves touring the boulevards amid all this luxury.

I made Clarence English think I was a real baby with regular coin. I looked at the motor and then got inside. Had him show me how easily the windows could be lowered. Talked through the telephone to the chauffeur and for several brief minutes behaved like a regular fellow in this swell Stevens.

Then I stepped across the aisle and asked to see the Pierce "lemon-cream." Mr. Wadsworth greeted me and I thought he would sure blow up when he informed me that the limousine was sold one hour after it was placed on display at the show.

My next stop was at the Peerless and Premier booth. Here I was greeted by Clarence Smith. I met Clarence a couple of years ago when he was leading the "Howdy" band at Yuma and when he remembered me he immediately forgot automobiles to tell me what a blooming shame it was Yuma had been cut off the route of the Phoenix race.

It seems that Smith has a special fondness for Yuma. He says he will try to get a new liking for Needles or Prescott, but he does not believe any place will ever be what Yuma was to him. The little Peerless and the Wiedely motor are the attractions at this booth.

Next door was the Don Lee show. I wanted to see that much-talked-of eight-cylinder Cadillac, but instead of the Cadillac found a young orator with a collection of pictures and the information that the new car would be here in about three weeks. The gentleman was some lecturer. Whenever he wanted to make a point strong he said "by jimminy" in a high key. But he got away with it in fine style, and had a large crowd all evening.

Smiling John Wiese held forth at the Winton booth with two of the Winton Sixes. One has a bright red coat, and it sure was a blaze of glory.

Don Smith almost sold me one of these nifty Chandler Sixes, and if I had had the money Al Faulkner would surely have hooked me with that Fiat. Say, that's some baby!

When I got among Earle Anthony's highbrows I felt real aristocratic and permitted myself to be shown a Packard. So Ed Caister wouldn't feel too badly about wasting time on a dead one like me I gave him the name of Billingtin Boobsky at the Alexandria. After Alexandria I added "bar" under my breath, but I guess Ed didn't get that. Anyway, he would never find me, as he doesn't go into such places.

There are a lot of those little fellows, Saxons, Partin-Palmers, Argoes and, I tell you, they looked mighty good to me.

The balcony is the real place. Guess I will go early tonight and get a front-row seat to see the swell dames. The accessory exhibit is in the balcony, and is well worth a visit.

The show ends Friday night, and there is a treat in store for all who love motor cars. Even if you don't ever expect to have the price it only costs two-bits to kid yourself along. I almost forgot the price tonight will be four-bits, and, while swell scenery will not be necessary, it will not be out of order.

Shake out the moth balls and prance to the auto show.

Probably no big college football team in the country has had more misfortunes happen to its varsity captain than Harvard, whose captain for this season, Charles Brickley, may not play again this year, following the recent operation. Almost every season for the past twenty years the coaches have had something to worry about because of more or less important injuries that have come to the Crimson leaders, and it has often happened that Harvard teams have played out their Yale games without the captain being on the field.

The Union of French Sporting and Athletic Societies has issued an appeal to all district committees to resume work organizing teams for Rugby and association football matches.

Ryan Adds Another.

reached first on the experiment. Zeb dumped a bunt in front of the plate. Rowdy tried to force Harl at second, but his shot was late. All those present, safe. Johnson sacrificed both runners along a peg. Brooks boosted to Bayless in short right. Nobody in the park, including Capt. Dick, expected Maggert to try for the plate. But he did, and therein lies the secret of his success. Dick delayed his throw, and then heaved it a mile over Rowdy. Harl had such a good start that he would have gained the plate had the peg been perfect. Rowdy chased after the pill and held Zeb at third. Ryan grounded to Borton.

ALL AROUND.

All of the Angels batted in the eighth. Maggert walked. Terry was an infield out, both men advancing. Johnson was walked. Many thought that Rhino did this intentionally, but when he walked Brooks, forcing a run, they concluded that they had been mistaken. Ryan fanned, this being regarded in the nature of an accident. Wolter sizzled the ball toward center. McArdle, with a nifty stab, cut it down to an infield hit. Maggert scored on this. With the bases still loaded, Rhino walked Metzger, forcing Johnson across the pan. Ellis stopped the procession with a foul to Elliott.

The Tigers started out to make a bid in the ninth, but Wolter wouldn't stand for it. Litschi collected his daily hit, a single. McArdle flied to Wolter, who without pausing, shot the pill to Abstein, doubling Lou at first.

JAP WEDS HAZELLE BAKER.

Couple from Los Angeles Whose Union Was Not Recognized Here are Joined in Washington.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

VANCOUVER (Wash.) Oct. 21.—Arthur S. Goto, a Japanese, and Hazelle Baker, a white woman, 22 years of age, on their arrival from Los Angeles, were married here yesterday.

Mr. Goto is 28 years old. He was dressed in American clothes, wore gold-rimmed glasses and wrote an excellent hand.

It is understood here that, this couple is the same that recently were refused the right to marry in California. Nothing daunted, the ceremony was performed on the high seas. Returning to California they were told that the State would not recognize their marriage under the circumstances. That they threatened to be married at Vancouver is the basis of this report."

Boston Technology's new athletic field in Cambridge opened last week, was constructed by "Sparrow" Robertson, well known as the builder of the fast track at Travers Island, N. Y. In the "Teck" track he has used cinders mixed with loam instead of clay, and claims that it will be by next spring the fastest track in the country, and will have a 220-yard straightaway thirty feet wide, the widest in the country.

HOORAY! THE ARMY-NAVY GAME SETTLED AT LAST.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 21.—Final arrangements for this year's Army-Navy football game were completed here today at a conference between representatives of the two academies and a committee headed by Dr. J. William White, representing the University of Pennsylvania. The contest is to be held on Franklin Field, November 28.

The army and navy representatives agreed to accept 11,500 seats each, the same number offered to them by Pennsylvania last year, when the game was played in New York. This leaves between 7000 and 8000 tickets for the university, which will be sold for the benefit of the relief societies of the two arms of the service.

Each party, according to the agreement, will be at liberty to dispose of seats in any way it sees fit, provided that in case they are sold the net proceeds shall be divided between the army and navy relief societies. The agreement also provides for a general committee of supervision, consisting of the superintendents of the two academies and Dr. White.

ENGINEER KILLED IN AUTO.

Companion from San Pedro is Badly Hurt when Machine Capsizes on State Highway near Rucker.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN JOSE, Oct. 21.—James J. Thompson, a marine engineer of San Pedro, Cal., was killed, and E. F. Hawkins, also a marine engineer of San Pedro, was badly injured when an automobile driven by Thompson capsized as the driver was attempting to pass another machine in the narrow State highway near Rucker. Both men are connected with the steamship Tartiner, now docked at San Francisco. Thompson bought the automobile for a trip down the Coast. He was at the wheel when the accident occurred. Thompson was pinned under the car. In spite of his own injuries Hawkins helped release the body of Thompson, who was his chief on the Tartiner.

Two Michigan Boys in Fear of Punishment, Decide to End Their Lives and Succeed.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

FREELAND (Mich.) Oct. 21.—Delbert Wodruff and Lloyd Pierce, aged 10 and 12 years, respectively, are dead as the result of a double attempt at suicide last night, caused, it is believed, by fear of punishment for having played hookey during the afternoon. Both lads lived several hours, but neither was conscious after the shooting.

IDAHO TREASURY SHORT THOUSANDS.

GOV. HAINES ABANDONS CAMPAIGN TO AID IN HANDLING THE SITUATION.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOISE (Idaho) Oct. 21.—The shortage in the office of the State Treasurer of Idaho was stated by officials today to be between $90,000 and $100,000. Further action in the case awaits the arrival tonight of Gov. John M. Haines, who has abandoned his campaign tour to handle the situation.

Efforts to find Fred M. Coleman, former Deputy State Treasurer, recently in Portland, have been unsuccessful. O. V. Allen, State Treasurer, who placed his resignation in the hands of Gov. Haines upon the arrival of accountants from the surety company on his bonds, is at his home in this city.

I CURE PILES FISTULA and all other Rectal Diseases
WITHOUT OPERATION

I TREAT NO DISEASES EXCEPT THOSE OF THE RECTUM AND BOWELS, cure without surgery. My patients are not confined in bed and they do not lose a moment's time from their business.

My method is not a "home cure" or a "correspondence treatment," but it is an application of skilled treatments administered under the most rigid antiseptic conditions in my office.

WELL-KNOWN SANTA MONICA MINISTER CURED.

This is to certify that Dr. C. H. White has cured me of a distressing hemorrhoidal ailment of 25 years' duration. His method of treatment is effective, but not severe. He has the confidence of the people, and the gratitude of many years of unbearable misery in this fruitful season of physical disease. He accomplishes all he claims in his advertisements, and at reasonable expense.

I take pleasure in heartily commending the man and his methods.
WESLEY R. ROLFE, Pastor First Methodist Episcopal Church, Santa Monica, Cal.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE SUPERINTENDENT CURED.

My Dear Dr. White: I am thankful for the privilege of bearing witness to your ability to treat without pain, and with success, the delicate and disabling diseases which result from sedentary work. To all who need the services of a skilled, sympathetic and experienced specialist in your line I heartily commend you. Very sincerely yours, KEVIN S. CHAPMAN, D.D., LL.D., Superintendent State Anti-Saloon League.

WELL-KNOWN PRINTER CURED.

Esteemed Doctor: I cannot refrain from congratulating you and myself on the complete cure of hemorrhoids, from which I had been afflicted for more than 20 years. For the past 7 years I had been practically incapacitated from attending to business. Your treatment is such that no one need fear, as no knife operation is employed. It will be a pleasure to have you refer anyone to me, and I will never be too busy to answer an inquiry. Sincerely yours,
J. A. HARRINGTON, 12014 S. Spring St., Los Angeles, Cal.

FEMALE ILLS SUCCESSFULLY CURED.

For twenty years I was a sufferer from protruding and bleeding piles. During that time I constantly sought a cure but never pay the time that I thought I could spare the time for a surgical operation. Dr. C. H. White has cured me. This was done painlessly and rapidly. I have removed my case more than twenty times and can cheerfully recommend him and his methods to all sufferers.
E. J. MOSES, Supt. Cal. Ind. Steel Rolling Mills, 4th and Mateo Sts., Los Angeles.

PROMINENT REAL ESTATE MAN CURED.

I desire to say to my friends everywhere that during the last few months I have been cured of an old and annoying fistula, which had baffled all treatment heretofore employed. This fistula was cured without pain, and without loss of time, by Dr. C. H. White.

AT THE STAGE DOOR

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Mr. M. Meyerfeld, Jr., president of the Orpheum Circuit, and Aaron Abrams, vice-president, arrived in the city yesterday on a flying trip over the Orpheum chain.

Speaking of the state of theatricals as affected by the war, Mr. Meyerfeld said that vaudeville in the United States has been benefited, inasmuch as many of the best of European acts are at present obtainable in New York, driven from Europe by war conditions.

Also, owing to the unsettled condition in amusement circles, some of the best "legitimate" people and musical comedy stars are accepting vaudeville work. Gertrude Hoffman, Nora Bayes, Claude Gillingwater, Joan Sawyer and George Dammerel, who created the principal male part in "The Merry Widow;" William Faversham, in a tabloid version of "The Squaw Man;" Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Crane, Elsa Ruegger, the famous 'cellist, and Ann Tasker, in a Pixley comedy, are among those who have taken to vaudeville and will shortly be seen in this city. Annette Kellermann has returned from Australia and is divided in mind between vaudeville and moving pictures.

It seems there are a lot of war-driven authors in New York also, among them Sir Henry Arthur Jones, Sir James Barrie, Herbert Henry Davis and Haddon Chambers.

Regarding the rumor of the closing of several Canadian Orpheum houses on account of the war, Mr. Meyerfeld said that none of the larger houses are closed, the only ones being at Calgary, Edmonton and Regina. On the other hand, the Orpheum circuit is expanding in the United States and one of the most beautiful theaters in the chain is to be opened in Kansas City at Christmas.

The tabloid musical comedy is becoming a strong feature of vaudeville, according to the vaudeville chief. Among those billed for Los Angeles shortly are Lasky's "Redheads," and George Dammerel in a one-act musical comedy. The difficulty is in finding good vehicles for all the good people who want to go into vaudeville is very great.

Herbert Corthell of "A Pair of Sixes," at the Majestic, tells a sob story on himself, in the days before his head needed half-soling, and ere his ideals had faded.

"I was an ardently ambitious youth working my way through a fresh-water college in New England by waiting on table. It was a co-educational institution, and the girls and boys ate in the same dining-room. I didn't like waiting on table, but I belonged to the snow-eating class, those days, and as 'twas the best job I could land at the time, I took it.

"There was a thin, white-looking little girl over on the girls' side, and I took an interest in her, partly because she was so hungry-looking and partly because she was so pretty. I used to make the cook take the T-bone cut out of a good steak and serve it to her for chuck steak when she ordered plain steak, and I paid for it. She began to thrive after a while, especially as I managed to get a lot of dainties to her by telling her they were wished on with the dinner. When she left for home during the Christmas holidays I was dead in love with her, but hadn't the courage to tell her. And the start I gave her must have helped a lot, for when she came back she was rosier and prettier and plumper than ever.

"I asked one of the boys about her, begged for a real introduction and all that. He said all right; he'd try. Next day he came back with the information that she was engaged to be married to an influential livery stable keeper in her own home town!

"My heart was broken. Skinny I might have won her. And here I, a Shakespearian scholar, had gone and fattened her up for a mere livery stable-keeper, with no poetry in his soul! It's a tough world, ain't it?"

"Surely some one was prophetic when they named this the Angel City," said Manuel Becerril yesterday. With his oldest daughter he had just finished his daring aerial turn at the Hippodrome, and was gazing speculatively at the borrowed apparatus without which it would have been impossible to have secured the engagement.

"Two months ago, when some of Villa's guerrillas pounced on my little tent show down in Mexico and robbed me of everything I had, including $50,000 Mexican money, the savings of a lifetime in the circus business, I thought the end had come sure enough, for how could I support my fourteen little ones, robbed as I was of my means for making a livelihood."

How indeed! That was the thought that flashed through the mind of Manager Fountain two weeks ago when Becerril, his whole family trailing after him, all their earthly belongings packed on their backs, literally staggered onto the Hippodrome stage, begging for work to keep the babies from straying.

On crude swings and trapezes, made from bits of rope and old lengths of tubing, Becerril and his oldest daughter went through stunts which made even the blase stage hands sit up and take notice. They were a find, there was no question about that. But they had no apparatus which could be used before an audience and Manager Fountain was giving up in despair when the Four Casting Lameys, who were on the bill that week, came to the rescue, and gave them enough circus trappings to enable them to appear on the bill this week, and make a rousing hit.

PHOENIX ENTRIES TO CLOSE TODAY.

OLD CARS MUST BE ENTERED AND PAID FOR BY NOON TODAY.

Post entries for the Los Angeles-Phoenix race, November 9, 10 and 11, close today at noon. Up to that time Chairman Shettler will be at his desk in the office of the Racing Committee of the W.A.A. to sign up those who are so anxious to compete in the cactus derby that they will pay $100 more than have the eighteen already entered.

No prediction is being made by Chairman Shettler, but if all those who have assured him they will enter do so, there will be twenty-two cars to face the starting line. As the usual thing in the case of post entries, the deposit is made with the request that the announcement be withheld, but this is not the case this year and even the race officials are kept guessing.

If the number of entries is increased by two, making a total of twenty, five purses will be provided for. This is in accordance with the promises of the W.A.A. as stipulated in the entry blanks.

TIA JUANA MAY STAGE A FIGHT.

M'FARLAND-WELSH BOUT MAY BE HELD JUST OVER LINE IN MEXICO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 21.—Billy Nolan, manager of Packey McFarland, has written here of a match which he hopes to put on possibly at Tia Juana between McFarland and Freddy Welsh. Nolan says he has the promoter, the location, and there will be Welsh enough money to make the champion dizzy thinking about it. While here recently Nolan visited Tia Juana to look it over as a possible battling ground in the event the game is closed in this State.

CHAFFEY TIGERS LYING IN WAIT.

SHUTT'S ELEVEN HOPE TO RUN OVER PASADENA HIGH WARRIORS.

[SPECIAL CONTRIBUTION.]

ONTARIO, Oct. 21.—All is in readiness at Chaffey High for the invasion of the Pasadena High eleven on Saturday. The field has been carefully scraped and levelled, the new goal posts erected ready for their decorating, the bleachers have been repaired and the railing around the field has been put up. The men on the Chaffey team are waiting, expectant and confident.

Saturday's game is looked upon here as the crisis of the football season. The Crown City aggregation, under Coach Seay, have developed into a wonderfully fast and heavy scoring machine, and as their past record indicates, they know the word "fight." "Dutch" Shutt, Chaffey coach, looks for a hard fight.

Langford started in the game as a featherweight and has worked himself up to a heavyweight. He is one of the oldschool boys, who knows the game from A to Z, and, notwithstanding his age, can, in my opinion, beat any fighter or boxer in the game today.

The coming match between Langford and Harry Wills will conclusively prove this when they meet next month at the Vernon arena.

For one, I will stake on the old-timer, Sam Langford.

BILLY NOLAN.

Billy Nolan's talk that he can bring Packy McFarland down to 135 pounds or 133 pounds at 3 or 6 o'clock and make Packy beat Freddie Welsh, sounds like press-agent talk to me.

Nolan and I are old-time friends, and I have the greatest respect for him as a manager and trainer.

But Billy should remember that he will not be training Bat Nelson or Willie Ritchie when he starts with Packy.

Nolan did nothing more with Nelson when he matched him at Goldfield with Joe Gans, as far as training went, than any other trainer could do, for the simple fact that Bat could easily make 133 pounds ringside at any time, and could do this himself without the assistance of any trainer. He was a natural 133-pound lightweight and training to that weight was always easy for him.

Nolan's great hit in that contest was his cleverness in making Gans weigh in at 133 pounds ringside with his fighting togs on. That was easy for Bat.

PACKY'S CASE.

Packy McFarland one year ago was about on the point of declaring himself the welterweight champion and offering to meet any man in that class for that title. But he gave it a second consideration and decided that he could make more money by boxing lightweights, provided he could bull them into coming to his weight, which was catchweights.

Packy, in my opinion, is the greatest man of his weight in the world today, but his weight is that of a welterweight.

EASY, HE SAYS.

Nolan also says that Packy weighs at the present time just what Willie Ritchie weighed when he matched Ritchie with Ad Wolgast, which was 145 pounds with his clothes on.

Ritchie made the weight all right, and won on a foul.

Later Ritchie matched himself with Joe Rivers at 135 pounds, and I watched Willie during the last two days of his training, and, believe me, he had some trouble in making the weight, and has never consented to make 133 pounds since he met Wolgast. He is to meet Johnny Dundee tomorrow night, but insisted he should weigh in at catchweights. Dundee will not weigh over 133 or 130 pounds. Willie will weigh at least 140.

Packy has never consented to make any less than 135 pounds for any man, and it is doubtful that, if Freddie Welsh should consent to this weight, Packy would come to terms.

It is also doubtful that he could even make 135 pounds and be at his best, and unless both boys were at their best a championship match made under any other conditions would be unfair to the fans, who pay their good money to see it.

What a come-down for Willie Ritchie. He is to meet Johnny Dundee, a second-rater, in a four-round go tomorrow night in San Francisco.

It will not be the least bit surprising to me to see Dundee outpoint him in four rounds.

Willie is a slow starter and Johnny is very fast and a hard man to get a line on in four rounds. If Willie should lose, it will about put him out of the running in the championship class in the future.

FOUR GREAT MASTERS OF ART

have combined to make the next issue of our NATIONAL SUNDAY MAGAZINE an ALL-STAR ART NUMBER—and the artists are brilliantly assisted by well-known authors as Claude Grahame-White and George Barr McCutcheon. This special Art Number will be published Sunday. Don't miss it!

HOWARD CHANDLER CHRISTY

has drawn the cover picture, reproduced [illegible] and entitled, "THE ROAD TO HEARTS DESIRE." This is pronounced the most fascinating Christy drawing that has appeared in years and it was drawn especially for the art issue of the magazine. A masterpiece by an American illustrator.

JOHN W. ALEXANDER contributes "THE BUTTERFLY"—a $10,000 painting—also especially for THE NATIONAL SUNDAY MAGAZINE and represents the high-water mark of his genius. Alexander, who is president of the National Academy of Design, National Institute of Arts and Letters, etc., is regarded in both hemispheres as the foremost living American painter.

HENRY HUTT

has admirers in legion who will want to frame "SPRING PERSUADED" just as it appears—a full page in the magazine. The picture tells in a new way the old story of man proposing and woman supposing she should say "Yes."

PAUL HELLEU

etched MADAME V. V. in Paris shortly before war was declared and it is the last if not the best etching he made before coming to America. He did this etching for THE NATIONAL SUNDAY MAGAZINE exclusively. The original of MADAME V. V., by the way, is declared by the artist to be the most beautiful American woman he ever met.

CLAUDE GRAHAME-WHITE

the noted aviator and aeronautical engineer, contributes a short story, "FIGHTING SEA-PLANE NO. 9," of an imaginary battle in the air between an armored [illegible] and a German Zeppelin above the North Sea. It might be called an advance report of the German air attack on England—every line a battle line and loaded with thrills.

GEORGE BARR M'CUTCHEON has never written a more fascinating story than "THE PRINCE OF GRAUSTARK," the next installment of which takes Mr. Hilthers, "the bully millionaire," to Graustark to look after his $10,000,000 investment and to look over the prospective home of his daughter, Miss [illegible]. The first installments of this "best selling" serial and the best part of the great tale remains to be told exclusively in Coming Event.

BIG TENNIS TOURNAMENT ON THE LEIGHTON COURTS.

THE Tournament Committee of the Southern California Tennis Club announced last night that on Saturday, October 31, it will hold an open tournament on the courts of the Hotel Leighton. The events will include women's singles and mixed doubles.

Entries will close on Thursday evening, October 29, and will be received by Walter L. Bowers, Glenn H. Norris, or at the Hotel Leighton.

Handsome trophies will be donated by the Leighton Hotel.

This will be the first tournament on the new courts of the hotel. They are clay courts and are pronounced by experts who have played upon them as surpassing anything of their kind in the West.

This tournament should have an excellent entry list as the courts are so accessible to the downtown district and can be reached in a very few minutes. The courts are located overlooking Westlake Park, on the corner of Sixth and Alvarado streets.

The acting committee in charge of the tournament will be Miss Beatrix Burnham, Glenn Morris and Walter Bowers.

It is expected by the committee that Mrs. B. O. Bruce, Miss Florence Sutton, Mrs. Widdowson and Mrs. Mickman of Santa Monica will enter in the singles event. If Mrs. Thomas Bundy should enter, these five would constitute the five best players in Southern California, if not in the State. Others who are expected to enter the women's events are Miss Lily Kingsdale, Miss Jesse Grieve, Mrs. W. M. Henry, Miss Harriet Blake, Mrs. Frank Carpenter, Miss Beatrix Burnham, Miss Ruth Browne, Mrs. Bourne and others.

In the mixed event the above will probably be paired with the star masculine racket wielders of the south, notably Victor Breedon, Claude Waine, Horace Donnell, Eric Barker, Simpson Sinsabaugh, Nat Browne, Kenneth Newell, Eugene Warren, Fred Adams, T. C. Bundy and others.

An entry fee of 50 cents will be charged to cover expenses of balls.

Bar Association Dinner.

CITY'S DUE TO INYO TOLD BETWEEN JESTS.

IT WAS all funny stories and "small talk" at the semi-annual dinner given by the Los Angeles County Bar Association last evening at the Alexandria at which the members of the Supreme Court and judicial candidates were the guests of honor. The speakers were advised in advance to avoid serious subjects.

The spirit of levity descended upon the usually dignified members of the bench and bar when Judge Jackson, one of the first speakers, addressed the other candidates present as "fellow-goats." He and several others lamented the fact that it is necessary for candidates for judgeships to "sing their praises" to the voters.

The volume of speaking was much smaller than at previous similar meetings of the association. The diners assembled at 6:30 p.m., and the programme ended at 9:45.

Judge Henry A. Melvin of Oakland was toastmaster by request of President Jeff Chandler of the association.

Between stories, Judge Shenk called attention to amendment No. 34 on the ballot at the November election. He recommended its passage.

"This amendment provides that the exemption of taxes from certain classes of municipal property shall be removed." Judge Shenk explained. "It is intended primarily to give relief to Inyo county. Los Angeles acquired for aqueduct purposes one-sixth of the taxable property and one-fourth of the farm land of the county. Unless the city pays taxes on this property there will not be enough money in the county treasury to pay the salaries of officials. If a city is wealthy enough to own land like that it ought to be able and willing to pay taxes on it. San Francisco also owns a considerable tract of land outside of the city limits on which no taxes are paid."

"You have been good to me and I am trying to be good to you," Judge Wilbur said, addressing the attorneys present. "I try not to forget that when an attorney comes into my court he is likely representing the interest of a man or woman who perhaps is in court for the first time. The issues may be of great consequence to that client. I am endeavoring to be fair to attorneys so that in turn I may be fair to their clients."

Judge Works expressed regret at having lost the comradeship of many of his attorney friends since appointed on the bench.

"There is an aloofness which attorneys maintain toward judges which I have found unpleasant," Judge Works declared. "The restraint between attorneys and a judge is an undesirable barrier. In my own case I wish it were not there and that I could be met with the same friendliness by my attorney friends."

"It has been a great pleasure to listen to the Superior Court judges here this evening." Judge Angellotti said. "The pleasure has been increased by the fact that it has not been necessary to reverse them."

"I want to congratulate California on having taken the judiciary out of politics," Judge Murphy of Mono county, asserted, ironically. "For the last six months many judges have been too busy campaigning to attend to the duties of their offices. This situation is lamentable."

Indorsements.

CONSOLIDATION ACT APPROVED.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HEADS ARGUE FOR AMENDMENT.

Declare City-County Welding would Aid in Administering Owens River Water Supply, would Help Northern Cities and Meet General Economic Needs.

For reasons of concrete benefit to this city and others in the State, the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday indorsed Amendment No. 19 on the ballot, which provides for the consolidation of city and county and the limited annexation of contiguous territory.

Among the reasons is "because it will enable Los Angeles, by adding to its territory, to make economic use of its Owens River water supply and develop that supply to its full capacity and reduce overhead expenses of administration through a consolidated city and county government." That is, provided a majority of the people in each city to be added to Los Angeles and a majority of the people in the county believe that such a consolidation would be to their benefit and not only approve the act of consolidation, but also approve the terms under which it is offered.

Under similar conditions, Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley could reduce overhead expense of administration by consolidation, and San Francisco would be enabled to extend her territory down the peninsula into San Mateo county and bring into the city people now closely identified with it but living under a separate administration.

It is pointed out that the proposed amendment is simply an enabling act and would not of itself bring about any consolidation. In every case, all voters affected are the arbiters of the question.

It is also shown that, under the amendment, city and county governments in California can be made to conform whenever economic conditions should make it advisable, and a city may extend its borders without going outside the county of which it was originally a part.

The amendment protects all incorporated cities and towns to be included in the new city and county in the matter of any existing bonded debt, and also from an abridgement of local control of such matters as streets, saloon regulations, etc., by requiring that before a consolidation becomes effective a proposed new charter, which may provide for local government under a borough system, must at a separate election receive the approval of a majority of the voters in the larger city and also a majority of the voters in the remaining territory, incorporated and unincorporated, to be included in the new city and county, voting separate from the larger city.

The Chamber of Commerce directors also reaffirmed their actions in favor of bonds for State buildings at Sacramento, Oakland, San Francisco and Los Angeles and in favor of the Supervisors of this county purchasing the remainder of the $500,000 bonds to complete the State highway from Newhall to the county line on the Bakersfield road. They indorsed the request of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce in the matter of the proposed bond issue of $10,000,000 for the San Francisco harbor.

A delegation from the Oakland Chamber of Commerce will arrive here tomorrow to meet with representatives of the local body for discussion of Amendment 19.

NEW WEDDING THRILL.

Greeks Refuse to Clasp Hands but Lock Little Fingers, a National Usage in Nuptial Affairs.

Justice Summerfield had a new thrill in marrying two Greeks yesterday.

Thomas Kondonar and Helen Orfanon went to His Honor with a marriage license and the happy groom apparently explained the situation.

Justice Summerfield cleared the decks of his courtroom for action. "Clasp hands," he directed.

But Mr. Kondonar and Miss Orfanon refused to clasp hands.

"Why not?" asked the court.

The happy couple explained they wished to be married according to the Greek custom. They locked the little fingers of their right hand together.

"May the gods of Olympus bless you, my children," said Justice Summerfield, who hesitated no longer about tying the knot.

BUILDING NEW TRACKS.

Recent expenditures of $219,956 by the San Diego and Arizona Railway for steel and track material and $203,066 for other material and equipment have been approved by the State Railroad Commission, according to advice received yesterday at the commission's branch office here. The commission also approved a contract for one passenger coach and one all-steel combination car to cost $26,710. The San Diego and Arizona is to link Seeley in the Imperial Valley with San Diego. The progress of the work indicates that the road will be completed early in 1915.

Saving Plan Blocked.

Council should be more than morally certain of the results.

"There are other very serious constitutional questions which have evidently been discovered by others, as there are two proposed constitutional amendments legalising the transfer of certain duties of city officers to county officers," says the City Attorney. "I believe, therefore, that the only safe course to pursue is to defer passage of this ordinance until after the adoption of one of these proposed amendments to the Constitution, an amendment of the charter, and the passage of a new legislative act at the next legislative session.

"I desire to express my regret that this advice was not sent to you earlier, but the reason for it was only revealed during the last few days of whipping the ordinance into final and satisfactory shape. Realizing the importance of the subject and the unanimous desire of the Council to have it effective for the fiscal year 1915-1916, I sought and was accorded a consultation with my two predecessors in office, in whom I have great confidence, and my determination to make this unfavorable report was strengthened by their entire agreement with my conclusions."

At the Council session yesterday afternoon, when City Attorney Stephens presented his opinion, Councilman Conwell offered a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, providing that whereas the interests of public economy, efficiency and convenience demand a prompt amendment of the city charter and State law, so as to permit of the desired consolidation of city offices with similar county offices, without the present hindering and embarrassing clauses, the City Attorney be requested to advise the Council at once as to the time and manner by which such amendments may be most promptly brought about.

The charter can be amended only once every two years, and the two-year period since the last changes will not elapse before next April.

Councilman Conwell, who has been the leader in this movement for the consolidation of the city offices with similar county offices, as a means of saving many thousands of dollars a year, discussed the new turn of affairs last evening.

"This comes like a thunderbolt out of a clear sky," said Councilman Conwell. "We must abide by the decision, but there remains the great work to be done to clear the way for the desired consolidation at the earliest possible date.

"The Councilmen are pledged to this measure of eliminating duplicate work as a means of economy, and we shall do all within our power to secure the required legislation.

"We hope that eventual action under the authorization of amendments that will be submitted at the next election may be accomplished, so that the city can benefit by this consolidation without waiting the slow process of city-county consolidation, for which Amendment No. 19 will open the way.

"Should Amendment No. 19 carry at the next election, it would be all the way from two to six years before its provisions could be carried into effect—that is, the plans worked out for a city-county consolidation, etc. In the meanwhile we earnestly desire to consolidate the offices where a direct saving to the taxpayers can be made of many thousands of dollars each year.

"I am of the opinion that this temporary defeat will impress upon the people generally the necessity for rallying strongly to the support of Amendment No. 19."

Mayor Rose yesterday, in speaking of the consolidation matter, said:

"I am a firm believer in city and county consolidation, but I am opposed to this proposed piecemeal way of beating around the bush. I was the first citizen of Los Angeles to sign the petition that brought about the the placing of the consolidation question upon the ballot, and I do not believe it is right that we should strip ourselves of the best argument we have for real consolidation by this unwise piece of legislation."

TWO GUILTY OF LANDING CHINESE.

SECOND TRIAL OF SMUGGLING CASE BRINGS VERDICT IN SHORT ORDER.

It required a jury in the case of Arthur E. O'Banion and William Kirby, charged with landing fifteen contraband Chinese on the sand at Sunset Beach, May 22, 1911, just fifty minutes to reach a verdict of guilty Monday. A stay of sentence for thirty days was allowed by Judge Wellborn in the United States District Court, and the men were released on their present bond.

This is the second trial of the cause, the jury disagreeing in the first hearing. Evidence was given this time that the accused not only smuggled the Chinese in the instance noted, but they had made successful trips from Ensenada to Monterey Bay and San Francisco, on each occasion having a load of yellow men. It is also alleged that they have brought Chinese north and safely landed them since they were first indicted, about two years ago. Before engaging in the smuggling game, O'Banion and Kirby were employed by the W. H. Hoeges Company.

GETS RUDE JOLT ON HONEYMOON.

Charged with Passing Bogus Check on Angeleno.

Secretary of State Wires to Pasadenan His Regrets.

Crown City Youth Marries Vanderbilt Maid.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Oct. 22.—At the request of the Los Angeles officials, H. C. Price, 23 years old, who came here two months ago from Kansas with his 17-year-old bride, was arrested in Pasadena yesterday on a charge of passing a fictitious draft of $200 on M. Hunt of Los Angeles.

With $50 in his pockets and rosy dreams of a happy honeymoon and lots of California gold, the young man and his bride arrived in Los Angeles. He applied for work, but finding none, when his funds were exhausted, he resorted to a different method, and proved an expert at the game. From all personal appearances Price is an unsophisticated farmer boy, but his skill at passing worthless checks would indicate that he is a "knowing one," officers say.

It is believed, however, that if guilty, he passed the $200 check in order that he might support his girl-bride and make good other smaller checks cashed here. The authorities believe that he thought something would turn up which would enable him to make good on all of them.

The girl wife is heart-broken over the turn their honeymoon has taken. Price has been taken to Los Angeles.

UNSAFE IN MEXICO.

In reply to a telegram to Secretary of State Bryan asking that the manager of the Chicoco ranch, at Tobasco, Mex., have safe conduct there, the owner of the big $1,000,000 plantation, a Pasadena man, received a dispatch tonight from Robert Lansing, Acting Secretary of State, in which he says:

"The State Department does not deem it proper to withdraw the advice given a year ago to American citizens to remove from Mexico, and if anybody goes there, they go on their own responsibility. Even if the authorities of Mexico City should give a guarantee of protection, it is possible that such guarantee would not be respected by the authorities."

Three days ago the plantation was looted and robbed and twelve of its men murdered and it is absolutely necessary that the manager go back to Tobasco, so the Pasadena man telegraphed the Secretary of State asking for his safe conduct and a guarantee that he would not be arrested. On this ranch are eighty-five families and 3000 head of cattle. Some of the people are American citizens whose lives are at stake.

The Pasadena capitalist says that the contents of the telegram only go to show that conditions in Mexico are no better than they were a year ago, and that the State Department of the United States consequently refuses to grant or make application for the safe conduct for the manager of the hacienda, who is now in New York ready to start to Tobasco.

A dispatch from New York yesterday announced the marriage in that city of Anthony Hoffman Keese, son of Mrs. J. W. Keese of No. 117 South Madison street, Pasadena, and Miss Grace Winona Vanderbilt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Vanderbilt of New York, Tuesday evening.

The marriage was held in the parlors of Hotel Bretton Hall in the presence of a large number of guests.

Mr. Keese, who lives here with his mother, is employed as a salesman by the Hogan Real Estate Company. He has a sister, Mrs. William S. Martin, who said, when interviewed, that she had asked her brother if his sweetheart was a member of the well-known Vanderbilt family of New York, but that he gave her very little satisfaction about it. She said: "You can merely announce his marriage and if he wishes to give out a bigger story when he returns, he can do so." He will arrive with his bride early in November.

Andrew Holloway has received a polite note from the City Commission asking him to meet them and tell whether or not he has been given a permit for the erection of his modern cement-mixing plant, which he has established in the Arroyo Seco.

The commission knew nothing about the existence of the plant until yesterday, when Holloway applied for permission to install an electric motor.

The commission went down to take a look and found a big plant. Then they invited Mr. Holloway to meet them today in a little heart-to-heart talk.

The Pasadena flower show opens Thursday, 2 p.m., October 22, at Hotel Maryland. It continues till Saturday night at which time the cut flowers will be auctioned. Music afternoons and evenings. Admission 25 cents. Children 10 cents.—[Advertisement.

COLORED MAN ROBBED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Oct. 21.—Rufus Williams, a colored machinist of No. 1032 Sunset avenue, Pasadena, reported to the police tonight shortly after 11 o'clock that he had been held up by two masked men on Sunset avenue, near Yale, and robbed of $82, his wages for two weeks. He claims that the men approached and poking their pistols in his face ordered him to "shell out the coin." He told them he had no money, whereupon they jerked his coat off and searched his pockets. Throwing his coat on the ground they ordered him to "beat it," all the while keeping him covered with their guns. The police could not find the coat, nor have they as yet found the hold-up men.

MONROVIA PIONEER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MONROVIA, Oct. 21.—Ernest W. Rankins, who died in Los Angeles yesterday as a result of an accident sustained Monday night, when he was run down by a Moneta-avenue car, was one of this city's pioneers, having lived in Sawpit Canyon, the present site of Monrovia Canyon Park, in 1874, many years before the founding of this city. Rankins was on his way home from a visit to Monrovia Monday night when he was struck by the street car. With his son-in-law James Larson, he had spent the day in the canyon park, revisiting the scenes of his boyhood after an absence of over thirty-five years.

Long Beach.

JITNEY BUSSES SWIPING TRADE.

Railways Ask Ordinance to Protect Franchises.

Another Election to Decide Bond Proposition.

Submarines to Visit Harbor on Way Southward.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Oct. 21.—So extensive have been the inroads of the jitney-car business into the traffic of the Pacific Electric Railway Company of Long Beach that the schedules on a number of the street car routes have been reduced, and the remainder are threatened. The few passengers who now patronize the Pacific Electric does not justify that corporation in maintaining the schedules of old.

The fate of the street cars in this city rests in a large measure on an ordinance, now in preparation by the city, regulating the rapidly-growing jitney-bus activity along the principal thoroughfares of Long Beach.

It is reported that the Pacific Electric officials are opposed to the proposed new ordinance on account of its laxity. It is not sufficiently stringent to suit the corporation, the local branch of which predicts the reduction of schedules on all lines to the minimum allowed under the franchise grants, unless the proposed regulation of the passenger-carrying motor vehicles is not more extensive.

This would mean that only a beltline service would be maintained by the Pacific Electric over the principal routes. It would also mean that several score of trainmen would be thrown out of work.

FAVOR ORDINANCE.

Local Pacific Electric officials are in favor of a nickle-bus ordinance which would require the jitney cars to run on certain schedules, or at least between certain hours. They also contend that they should be assigned certain streets and be compelled to remain on their original routes.

The auto men are accused of being selfish in their mad scramble for the nickels that formerly poured into the coffers of the street car corporation, in that they do not strive to serve the interests of the public but themselves instead.

Under the present conditions the jitney busses swoop along in front of the street cars and "snip" the prospective passengers who are waiting for the trolleys. The effect of this kind of business has reduced the traffic on the electric lines to comparatively nothing and is causing the Pacific Electric officials grave concern for the future of its business in Long Beach.

BOND PROPOSITION.

With the appearance on the streets today of a petition to the City Council calling for an election on which the voters will be requested to decide the fate of the recently-voted $650,000 harbor bond issue, Long Beach faces another battle of the ballots. With the movement formulating for this most recent of proposed elections, it is believed that Long Beach will set a world's record for the number of elections held in a twelve-month period before the year expires.

Proponents of the movement to bring about another election disclaim enmity toward the harbor project, for which the bonds have been voted, but state that the motive of the scheme is to ascertain public opinion on the question of their immediate release or retirement.

SUBMARINES EXPECTED.

Scheduled for a lengthy stay in local waters, the Pacific submarine flotilla, accompanied by the monitor Cheyenne, is expected to anchor in Long Beach Harbor Thursday morning.

Later in the week the submarine flotilla, composed of the F-1, F-2 and F-3, will be joined here by the torpedo boat destroyers Whipple and Paul Jones. The torpedo boats have been resting at the Bremerton (Wash.) navy yard for the past two months.

LAUNCH RESCUED.

A rescue party on the pleasure launch Camiguin, owned by Capt. J. D. Loop, hoisted the launch Ripple from a partially-submerged stage in slip 1 of the Long Beach Harbor today. The Ripple was sinking fast from a sudden leak, and only prompt action by Loop staved off a complete loss of the endangered vessel.

There were no passengers on the Ripple, which, when rescued, was covered with water up to the top of the pilot-house. The water-logged craft was shifted from its position in the middle of the slip to the sand, where it was beached.

The maritime career of the Ripple was nearly brought to an end a few weeks ago, when it ran ashore on the rocks near Portuguese Bend, but was finally saved by the crew.

San Bernardino.

EDITOR IS RELEASED BY A CORONER'S JURY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 21.—Howard E. Davis, editor of the Evening Index, was late today exonerated on a charge of murder in connection with the killing of Ben Emerson, at his preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Kunzman.

Dist.-Atty. R. B. Goodcell moved that the defendant be discharged, and his $10,000 bonds dismissed.

Testimony of witnesses to the shooting, which occurred in front of the headquarters of the Non-Partisan Taxpayers' Association on Third street, on the evening of October 14, indicated that Davis fired the fatal shot in self-defense during a struggle with Emerson, who had attacked him because of articles Davis had written about him.

Davis told on the stand that he had felt a gun in Emerson's pockets while the two were struggling before the editor pulled his revolver, and stated that he thought Emerson was trying to draw it when he fired.

A revolver dropped from Emerson's clothes when he was placed in an ambulance after the shooting.

Attorney Earl Rogers of Los Angeles represented Davis at the hearing.

RENEW CHARGES OF OIL FRAUD.

FORMER STOCKHOLDERS ACCUSE MILLIONAIRE.

Amended Complaints Amplify Details Declaring Capitalist by Fraud Got Stock When He Knew Great Well was About to be Opened in Brea Canyon.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Oct. 21.—That A. Otis Birch, oil king, knew that the drill of a well in Brea Canyon was in a deep stratum of rich oil sand at the time he secured the stock of minority stockholders of the Menges Oil Company, was reaffirmed in the allegations made in amended complaints put in yesterday by three of the plaintiffs in actions brought against Birch for $1,500,000 damages for alleged fraud.

A portion of the evidence secured by the minority stockholders that caused them to sue their former general manager was disclosed in the amended complaints today. Mrs. Della Bishop, who asks $240,000 damages, declares that she gave Birch an option on her stock on his assurances that the outcome of drilling for oil in the Brea property was problematical. In her case, as in the others, the first complaints were demurred against on the ground that they did not disclose when and in what manner the plaintiff became aware of the alleged fraud. Mrs. Bishop states that the option on the last of the minority stock was secured on March 13, 1912, and that one week later the well was brought in, producing oil and gas. It turned out to be a well producing $3200 worth of oil and $500 worth of gas per day, and until the great Standard Oil Company well was brought into production at Buena Park last December, was the greatest oil well known to the industry.

The court upheld the demurrer, and the new complaints filed today were specific in their allegations as to how the plaintiffs became convinced that Birch, who was general manager of the company, had played them false. Mrs. Bishop states that in June, 1912, after the great well came in, she hired detectives of the Burns agency, and after an investigation they reported to her that at the time the minority stock was bought Birch knew that the drill was in rich oil sand, and that employees of the company were instructed not to give out any information to any one concerning the condition of the well. It is stated that it was April, 1913, before the minority stockholders got information through W. F. Rurup, who was employed on the well. Rurup said that Birch knew the well was of great value. It is understood Rurup is to be one of the principal witnesses for the plaintiffs. He was employed at the well previous to the time it developed and was there when it passed into Birch's possession.

TO INITIATE ROADS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 21.—The opening of Santa Monica and Pico boulevards will be formally celebrated tomorrow with a big four-band and automobile parade. Musical organizations from this city, Sawtelle, Venice, and the Soldiers' Home will participate. Double-decked 'buses will be used for the bands, while machines of private people will be used for the parade. There will be a cash prize of $10 for the most cleverly decorated automobile. The Pacific Electric has just completed its part of the paving of Santa Monica boulevard, and the street is now, at last, finally, opened to full traffic. Pico, the southerly highway, has been opened, but is not yet completed through the eastern city.

RAILWAY MAN HELD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 21.—F. De Witt Moon, former railroad man of Los Angeles, and former owner of Pine Flat summer resort, in the mountains east of here, was held to the Superior Coutr yesterday to answer to a charge of selling mortgaged property, at a hearing in the justice court of White River, a foothill village. It is charged that Moon sold cattle which had been given to secure a note held by local men. Moon says the transaction was made by partners associated with him in the resort venture.

Santa Barbara.

TANG IS TAKEN OUT OF TANGO.

Santa Barbara Insists on Decorous Dancing.

Electric Company's Scheduled Festival Disarranged.

Compromise Restrictions to Satisfy Everybody.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 21.—Not even a wee hesitation waltz nor the mildest shade of a tango is to be tolerated at High School dances this year. Mothers must accompany their High School daughters to dances and youth and maid will not be allowed to leave the brightly-lighted precincts of the dance hall until the very last number of the evening is tripped off without first applying in person and receiving the sanction of the teacher in charge, for all dances must be attended by a supervisor.

"They've just taken the tang out of tango and the ginger out of everything connected with social life," pouted a pretty High School maid today, in telling of these ironclad restrictions. "You'd think High School dances had been awful in the past to have such rules sprung on us."

To add to the strictness with which the school dances are to be conducted, the rule further adds that "none of the new dances will be allowed." So far the students have not openly remonstrated, one coyly declaring: "Well, we students can give dances that will not be 'school' affairs, and we'll dance what we please."

The dance question is the livest subject in this city. It is like a live wire. The instant it is touched a whole crowd of people move. Supt. Walter E. Erwin of the Electric Street Railway Company proposed to pattern after Redlands and give a street dance on the boulevard.

Councilman J. R. Janney as a Chamber of Commerce director, suggested that the social workers' dance supervisor would have to be consulted. Instantly the sparks began to fly, and while the murmur of the citizens is growing louder, adroitly the street-dance project is being sidestepped, and no one is willing to father a move to bring the city into happy union on the boulevard to the graceful, dreamy music of "Every Little Movement."

"They'd dance the tango if we'd let them," declared one advocate of supervised dances, "and the only way to supervise a dance is to stop all those scandalous things;" and all the social workers have re-echoed: "They'd dance the tango! Horrors!"

It has been rumored that a petition has been circulated praying the school board to prohibit all school dances, but school authorities claim the petition never reached them. It is believed that the severe restrictions placed by the board on dances is a compromise.

CROP REPORTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SATICOY, Oct. 21.—Never before in the history of the county has there been such a bean harvest as this year, and never were the farmers so busy as right now, for the rush in threshing is on while the good weather holds, but it is expected that it will take until November 1 to complete the harvest.

John Newby, who has charge of the warehouse here, says that he has received up to date 105,000 sacks of limas, and that this is only half of what he expects in before the harvest is finally completed. His estimate is that the crop this year will exceed that of any previous year by 100,000 sacks.

Beans are at the price now of $4.85 a hundred, but many were contracted earlier at $4.85 and a few above $5. There are few left now, the growers holding for a greater figure, believing that they will go to 6 cents because of the war and other conditions.

Beans are going out of the Saticoy warehouse night and day, as stock already contracted for is going forward rapidly. A Santa Paula buyer has put on a night force also, and is sending out the contracted beans night and day, as fast as they can be loaded in cars.

Up to Wednesday some 60,000 sacks had been received in the warehouse there. The crop throughout the county will be enormous. One rancher is said to have netted $25,000 from 220 acres on the Calleguas, and many others will do as well.

COTTON PICKING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

IMPERIAL, Oct. 21.—In spite of the unfortunate condition of the cotton market throughout the United States, the majority of the growers, especially in the south end, are now busy rushing operations in the cotton fields. There are hundreds of pickers busy.

The yield per acre all over the valley, on the average, is far above the yield of last year, in some sections almost doubled. This increase is because growers are becoming more familiar with cotton raising, learning more about the art of irrigating it and are employing better farming methods.

The general opinion among cotton growers, in view of this season's yield, is that larger yields may be obtained in the future. Owing to accumulated experience from the beginning of the cotton industry of the valley up to the present time, every season has brought better returns than the preceding one.

VENTURA WALNUTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENTURA, Oct. 21.—The English walnut harvest in this county will all be over by November 1 and is said to be the earliest completed clean-up of the product in the history of the industry. The crop is but 60 per cent. of normal, but the nuts are so uniformly good that the growers expect to reap a rich harvest in the way of financial returns. The output will amount to seventy-five cars of twelve tons each in the county, and these nuts are going forward from all the association centers as rapidly as they can be handled.

VICTIMS NOISY.

Objections to Nocturnal Cackles May Cause Closing of Fowl Raffles on Venice Pier.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Oct. 21.—"A chicken for a dime and a turkey the second time," yelled at visitors on the pier, may not be heard here any more, if the City Trustees decide to put the lid on the chicken-coop raffles which are giving away fat chickens and plump gobblers for dimes. A complaint has been made to the civic body and in it the citizens say that the gobblings and cacklings of the fowls on the pier arouse them from their peaceful slumbers in the early morning hours, when all respectable birds should be asleep.

Several people objected to the games and therefore the Trustees are "up against it." One man sent in a check to cover his license, if granted, and the municipal managers will probably return his money. Some one objected to the way the winners carry away their prizes, with their heads hanging down, and many people return to the city with chickens in the street cars with them.

EASTERN STAR CONTEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 21.—The contest for the election to the office of Grand Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star, now in convention here, will be spirited and lies between Mrs. Effie Easton of San Francisco and Mrs. Minnie E. Seymour of Mill Valley. The election will be held Thursday afternoon. More than 1500 delegates are attending the meeting of the Grand Chapter at the Grant Hotel, the largest meeting in the history of the chapter. A banquet was given this evening by the San Diego county chapters for the visitors and was followed by a ball.

ILLEGAL FISHING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

AVALON, Oct. 21.—Reports come from Johnson's landing that a number of Japanese fishermen are nightly hauling seines in that locality. It is estimated that nearly four tons of fish were taken within a half mile from the shore last evening. P. V. Reyes, a local photographer, Sunday evening secured an excellent picture of a Japanese fishing launch, with five men aboard, cutting their net to pieces with long spears, believing that Reyes and his party of friends were fish and game commissioners. The picture shows the beach line within a mile from the place where the boatmen were struggling to pull their nets aboard and empty their illegal catch back into the water.

Y MARKETS ALL LOWER.

Exchange Four Cents the Month Record.

Continues Heavy of Commodities.

Reports One-sixth of Season's Outflow.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Heavy pur- various commodities and liquidation in this country in general of the European war have become a factor in the foreign situation. Sight drafts on London were easy today, but rallied sharply. Offerings of bills grew heavy, while the day's lowest quotations for sterling were almost 4 cents lower than sterling than in any of the month.

The exchange was again closed, but quotations on francs were lower. In fact, it is a matter of general financial circles that the manufacturers have been the largest buyers of exchange recently, but just how large they are to be made in not explained.

Trading today amounted to 1,000,000 bushels, three-fourths going to Europe, with large consignments to Orient. Thus far this season exports aggregate more than one-sixth of the crop.

A project assumed a definite form by reason of a conference between representatives of several financial institutions which are to participate in the proposed pool.

Rates on the several markets are being offered at a reduction in the minimum, mostly fixed for oil Exchange still has the request for permits for listed stocks after July 30 quotations City 6 per cent. Call today at prices Chamber of Commerce.

Many still confirm unofficial reports that the steel industry's larger plants have increased 50 per cent. and will continue to make at the same condition Copper demand has declined with cash sales at 13 cents per pound. Exports to New Orleans in advance of the cotton movement of the cotton belt section. More gold is coming to Canada by the Pacific route. Time money unchanged at 5 per cent. with the tendency at the higher rate. Call loans more retirements of bank certificates and the outstanding is believed to be small.

RAIN REPORTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Oct. 21.—Rain to the amount of .22 of an inch fell this morning. The precipitation is much lighter in the farming districts. Corona reports .20 of an inch, Norco .07, and Perris, .05. Only a trace is credited to the Banning and Beaumont section.

FALL AT ANAHEIM.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ANAHEIM, Oct. 21.—Twenty hundredths of an inch of rain fell this morning in this city. Rain commenced falling at 12:30 o'clock, and continued several hours. Ranchmen state that some alfalfa hay was damaged, but that the shower did a great deal more good than harm to crops. Orchards are greatly benefited by the rain.

DIES AT THE BEACH.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDONDO BEACH, Oct. 21.—Miss Anna Mae Tudor, book-keeper for the Crescent Creamery Company of Los Angeles, died last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Cate on Carolina avenue, where she had been living for a few days. The young woman had been suffering from a trouble in the inner ear and had received treatment at the Pacific Hospital upon coming to the beach which relieved her great relief. She seemed to be progressing until last evening, when the disease reached the brain, causing death. Miss Tudor was 19 years of age, and came to California with her mother from Pittsburgh four years ago. No disposition will be made of the body until her people arrive from in the East.

HERMOSA ELECTION.

REVALUE LAND OR DROP PLAN.

IS PROPOSAD ON GRIFFITH PARK ENTRANCE.

City Council Delays Action One Week to Determine Whether Proceedings can be Reopened, in Hope of Getting Lower Price on Land Needed—Alternative is Offered.

Reopening of proceedings for a revaluation of the lands needed for the proposed Western-avenue entrance to Griffith Park, in the hope of securing a lower award than that which has been made by the court or the abandonment of the entire proceedings is likely to be the outcome of the hearing on this subject before the City Council yesterday.

For many months the Griffith Park entrance project has been before the Council. It was initiated by the Hollywood Board of Trade. Now the peculiar situation arises wherein the same organization is opposing the confirmation of the assessment and asking for abandonment of the entire proceedings, or the revaluation of the land.

A lengthy hearing was given this subject by the Council yesterday. The main contention appeared to be that the price of the land was excessive, and that if the property owners of the district were allowed to submit their testimony in a rehearing on the valuations the price would be much lower.

If this cannot be secured, then the opponents want the entire proceedings abandoned, so that some new plan for an entrance can be worked out. In case of abandonment, however, the Council would require that the protestants reimburse the city for the outlay to date, which amounts to $4094.14. The total amount to be collected is $72,773.86.

Colegrove people, headed by Seward Cole, are strongly opposed to that territory being assessed under any circumstances, for this improvement, and they have declared they will carry the matter into the courts if the assessment is levied. Other opponents yesterday declared that they would be willing to abide by the results of a revaluation of the land held by William Mead, the Ponet estate and the Catholic convent.

The result was that the Council postponed action for one week, in order that the City Attorney may determine whether there is a way to secure the revaluation without abandoning present proceedings. If not, and the expenses to date are provided for by the protestants, it is probable the proceedings will be abandoned.

INCLINE RAILWAY.

FRANCHISE RECOMMENDED.

Another step toward the acquirement of an incline railway for Mount Hollywood in Griffith Park was taken yesterday, when the Board of Public Utilities gave its approval to the application of Col. Louis Ginger for such a franchise.

The type of construction and cars to be operated on the proposed line was suggested by the board, and it also recommends that no value shall be placed upon the franchise in the event the municipality should purchase the road during the instrument's tenure of life.

An incline railway franchise for Griffith Park was granted to Col. J. W. Eddy several years ago, and extended from time to time, but it has long since lapsed. The application of Col. Ginger has the approval of the Park Commission.

Carries Many Passengers.

Some interesting figures were presented to the Board of Public Utilities yesterday in regard to the number of passengers carried by the Los Angeles Railway Corporation, in connection with the board's consideration of sections it proposes to incorporate in the next railway franchises granted, giving free transportation to city nurses and district physicians of the health department.

These figures showed that for the past fiscal year the railway carried 190,979,231 persons; that 44,987,186 of this total represented transfer users, and that there were 5,972,664 free rides for passengers holding passes. The total number of revenue passengers is placed at 140,019,381. This was the result of operations over 865.66 miles of trackage.

They Want to Know.

The City Council adopted a resolution yesterday instructing the Board of Public Works to submit to the Council the floor plans for the four stories of the new Hoefield building, adjoining the City Hall on the south, which are to be occupied by city offices, and also the plans of the board for the rearrangement of offices in the City Hall proper.

The especial desire of the Council in this matter is to inform itself as to whether provision has been made for a room or rooms for the Council itself, to be used outside of Council session hours. The Councilmen insist that they must have quarters for their own use, and unless these are provided in the board's plans they will not approve the plans.

ASKS FOR AID.

WOULD RE-ESTABLISH CAMP.

Dr. Milbank Johnson, president of the Municipal Charities Commission, yesterday filed a communication to the City Council in which he set forth the fact that many unemployed persons are congregating in Los Angeles, and he asked that an immediate appropriation of $5000 be made to re-establish the camp for unemployed in Griffith Park, similar to the one carried on last winter.

Dr. Johnson says that the prompt establishment of a camp for the unemployed will have a tendency to detract rather than to attract undesirables to this city and prevent this migration from assuming the large proportions which troubled the city last winter. The subject will be considered by the City Council today.

Municipal Little Liners.

Property owners within the district proposed to be assessed for an ornamental lighting system on Harvard boulevard filed a majority protest yesterday against the proposed improvement. The Council delayed action for one week and sent the protest to the City Engineer for a report on the frontage.

The City Council yesterday confirmed the map of the assessment district for the opening and widening of Long Beach avenue from Washington street to Slauson avenue.

D. K. Adams, one of the City Commissioners of San Diego, was a visitor at yesterday's session of the City Council, and made a brief address, in which he extended the greetings of the southern city and an invitation to all of Los Angeles to attend the exposition there.

Councilman Roberts is to be the principal speaker at the meeting of the Teamsters' Benevolent Association Saturday evening in Burbank Hall. This is an association composed of men in the street department of the city.

The Park Commission has approved a work order covering the construction of an ornamental lighting system in Exposition Park at a cost of $4004.

THE OTHER MAN DEFENDS WIFE.

CANDID TALE RESULTS IN NO DIVORCE FOR ANYONE.

Alleged Home-breaker Denies Wrongdoing with Young Married Woman with Whom He Danced While Her Husband Minded Children at Home.

William O'Brien of Tulare county, charged by Milton A. Ott of Ferndale with breaking up his home, came to the defense of Mrs. Leslie Ott, the young wife, in Judge Monroe's court yesterday, and by his straightforward testimony shed light on suspicious circumstances linking his name with hers. The court stated the decree asked for by Mr. Ott, naming Mr. O'Brien as co-respondent, could not be granted on suspicion. The conduct of the wife, however, had been such that she did not escape without a scolding.

Neighbors had talked about Mrs. Ott and Mr. O'Brien. Mr. Ott had objected to the other going with his wife, and all things considered, Mrs. Ott had been imprudent. It was evident that Mrs. Ott, married at 16 to a husband thirteen years her elder, loved dancing. When the children, Allen and Beth came, she did not give them the care an older woman would. It appears Mr. Ott often stayed home and took care of the children while Mrs. Ott went out and enjoyed herself.

One day when Mr. O'Brien was the subject of Mr. Ott's remarks, Mrs. Ott left home. Mr. Ott said she deliberately abandoned the two children. She says he would not let her have them. Her statement that she met Mr. O'Brien in this city while she was en route to Long Beach was not accepted by the court. She then admitted she knew he was coming here.

Mr. O'Brien defended Mrs. Ott. He said she was merely a friend. He took her to dances because Mr. Ott had said she could go with him. The suspicious circumstances detailed in depositions from neighbors of the Otts were innocent things, he declared. He admitted answering two letters written to him by Mrs. Ott, but they referred to her children.

In the circumstances the court denied the decrees asked for by husband and wife. He held there was no proof of misconduct and no extreme cruelty.

The boy and girl, kidnaped by Mrs. Ott from the home of Mr. Ott's sister, will now be battled for. There was an affecting scene in the corridor as Mr. Ott took up and loved the children, reluctantly giving them back to his wife. Attorneys J. C. Thomas of Tulare and J. A. Shishmanian of Fresno will probably ask for their custody in behalf of the father. This will be resisted by Attorney Norman A. Bailie for the wife.

GET HOME BACK

AFTER FORCIBLE EJECTION.

The axiom that possession is nine-tenths of the law was put into practice by Mrs. Katie Weisheit and she thereby became a defendant in Judge McDaniel's court in a suit for forcible entry yesterday. The plaintiffs were Joseph Auerback and his wife, Louisa, whose furniture was taken out of the house they occupied at No. 859 East Fifty-third street and they themselves ejected from the premises.

The ejectment followed an exchange of properties, Mrs. Weisheit trading the Fifty-third-street property for a place owned by the Auerbacks at Belle Vernon. The parties entered into a verbal agreement without passing title, the deeds being placed in escrow. Mrs. Auerback moved into the Fifty-third-street house and the deal seemed to be binding when one night Mrs. Weisheit, accompanied by two sons, camped in Fifty-third street.

When a neighbor ran across the street to use the telephone, having entry, they swooped in, taking possession. The household effects were thrown on the lawn. Mrs. Auerback testified yesterday. Motorcycle Officer Hamilton was sent to quell what he supposed was a riot. He allowed the removal of the furniture to continue, believing Mrs. Weisheit had right of possession.

The Auerbacks put in a claim for a damaged piano and scratched furniture. The court allowed them possession of the property and cut the damages from $350 to $50.

TWO AFTERMATHS.

OF ONE COLLISION.

Two aftermaths of one auto collision occupied Judge Shenk's court yesterday afternoon and will be continued this morning. The defendant is sued for a total of $29,500 damages, and is suing to recover $100 damages to his own automobile.

R. N. Carter and Lowell C. Frost, driving in opposite directions, collided at Hollywood boulevard and Vista street, October 28, 1913. With Mr. Carter was Miss Florence Mackintosh.

Miss Mackintosh is suing Mr. Frost for $25,500 damages, alleging she was severely shaken up and seriously injured in the collision.

Mr. Carter is suing Mr. Frost for $400 damages to his machine. He alleges the defendant was driving rapidly on the wrong side of the street. In a cross-complaint, Mr. Frost demands $100 for what the other car did to his auto.

WINDFALL FOR WIFE.

"SMALL" CLAIM LARGE.

Mrs. Eva A. Hatfield, who was appointed guardian of her husband, Edward T. Hatfield, a Chicago attorney, adjudged mentally incompetent, received a windfall yesterday when money due her husband from a Texas sulphur company on a conditional contract was found to amount to $15,000.

Mrs. Hatfield, who resides at Long Beach, had believed that the money due represented only a small sum. When the matter was looked into by her attorneys, Hahn & Hahn, they were surprised to find it was a large amount. As guardian, Mrs. Hatfield had power to collect any money owing her incompetent husband, but the sulphur company, as a safeguard, asked the Probate Court for an order in settlement of the claim, which was issued by Judge Wilbur, sitting for Judge Rives yesterday. The estate, aside from the Texas sum, amounts to $125,000.

DIVORCE DENIED,

BUT SHE'LL TRY AGAIN.

Mrs. Christine Rhodes failed yesterday to obtain a divorce from John Cecil Rhodes, dancing teacher, man about town and dabbler in real estate, because the allegations of desertion and drinking were not sufficiently proved. Judge Monroe marked the case off calendar until an amended complaint can be filed alleging failure to provide by reason of idleness and profligacy.

Mrs. Rhodes said she did not know the whereabout of her husband, but alleged in her complaint that he is wanted for embezzlement. Mrs. C. B. Chusman swore out a complaint charging him with selling her an apartment-house which he did not own. He is said to have worked the same scheme on two other women.

Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes were married at Kansas City, March 26, 1905, and have a son, John Rhodes, 7 years old. They separated May 25, 1912.

WANTS COMMISSION.

FOR BIG LAND TRANSFER.

An agreement in a $250,000 trade of properties under which H. Stanley Benedict, "Progressive" Assemblyman, was to receive $25,000 commission, was under fire in the trial of Mr. Benedict's suit against Dr. L. E. Cross and A. W. Morton before Judge Hewitt yesterday. Under this agreement Mr. Benedict says he was employed by the defendants to effect an exchange of 6500 acres on Mare Island for 300 acres in San Diego county and the Alhambra apartments. Cross & Morton owned the Mare Island acreage and J. E. O'Donnell the San Diego and apartment-house properties.

Mr. Benedict received $15,000 commission and is seeking to recover the balance of $10,000. He is represented by E. H. Wilson. The defendants' counsel are Theodore Roche of San Francisco and Attorneys Dillon and De Garmo.

BOTH IN HOSPITAL.

HE CAN'T WORK FOR WIFE.

An order to show cause why Harvey Brown should not support his wife and two children was denied by Judge Monroe yesterday on the ground that Mr. Brown is physically unable to work. He is at the County Hospital for treatment. Mrs. Brown is at the Maternity Hospital, expecting a third child.

Relief for Mrs. Brown, who recently attempted to poison her children at her home in Antelope Valley, caused Georgia P. Bullock, her attorney, to push the case. The developments yesterday checked this. Marguerite and Dorothy, the children, 2 and 5 years old, are temporarily with their grandfather. The alleged cause for Mrs. Brown's rash act in endeavoring to destroy the girls was the loneliness of the home in the great valley, and despair.

Mr. Brown has filed a suit for divorce, alleging cruelty.

COURT PARAGRAPHS.

GETTING POINTERS. Judge Rogers of Ventura county, who succeeded Judge Clarke on the bench, was the latter's guest in this city yesterday. Judge Clarke is sitting for Judge Myers. Judge Rogers came down to meet the Superior Court judges of this county and to familiarize himself with the work which he will take up in January.

RAILWAY WINS. Judgment in the $15,000 damage suit of Mrs. Josephine Adams against the Pacific Electric resulted in judgment for the latter by a jury in Judge McCormick's court yesterday. Mrs. Adams testified that while she was alighting from a car at Long Beach it started suddenly, throwing her. A fracture of the left leg was the result and a long confinement in the hospital. The corporation set up contributory negligence.

DAMAGES AWARDED. The trial of the suit of Charles R. Price against the Bekins Van and Storage Company for the value of goods stored in a warehouse which was destroyed by fire closed yesterday in Judge Houser's court with judgment for Mr. Price. The goods were valued at $6884. A great number consisted of wedding gifts contributed by eminent actors and actresses. The jury awarded Mr. Price $5000 damages for the goods destroyed, a portion having been rescued. The question fought and decided was that the defendant was guilty of negligence.

INCORPORATIONS. Universal Coupon Corporation, incorporators Howard W. Seager, Homer W. Naylor, Boyle D. Lockard, Eugene S. Lack and E. A. Lane, capital stock $200,000, subscribed $250; Lomita Produce Company, incorporators Charles M. Smith, James A. Smith, Lottie B. HIDE RATES GO UP.

Notice that the railroads' proposed increase from 80 cents to $1.20 a hundred pounds on hides moving from Arizona and New Mexico points to Los Angeles had been held reasonable by the Interstate Commerce Commission was received yesterday by traffic men. The movement of hides to the city from these points totals about 100,000 pounds a year.

RHEUMATISM, NEURITIS, PARALYSIS AND HEMORRHOIDS YIELD TO AKOS

Mrs. Caroline Fisher, 124 W. 22nd Street, Says Remedy Relieved Her Ailments.

Mrs. Caroline Fisher of 124 West 22nd. street astonished many of her friends recently by appearing about her home without the aid of crutches, which rheumatism and paralysis had made imperative to use when she wished to get around at all. Mrs. Fisher did not hesitate in telling these friends that Akoz, the wonderful medicinal mineral, had worked the change in her condition. She says about her case:

"For years I had rheumatism in my legs, feet and right hip; neurits, hemorrhoids and a stroke of paralysis combined to make me almost helpless. When I could get about at all I had to use crutches. I suffered great pain and could not sleep at nights. The first part of the year I began taking Akoz for my rheumatism. The pain soon disappeared. I was surprised in a few weeks to find that the rheumatism was almost gone, that I was getting the use of my paralyzed limb. The neuritis was stopped, and I threw away my crutches. I could sleep with peace. I used the Akoz plasters; the Akoz compound; the Akoz suppositories; the Akoz mineral for making mineral water and the Akoz pills. I got more relief from Akoz than all the other remedies combined, which had cost me hundreds of dollars. I was told that I had gall stones, but since taking Akoz I find the symptoms of this painful ailment have entirely disappeared; and I give Akoz credit for the change. I still have a stiffness in my right leg joints, but am confident that a further course of the Akoz treatment will restore the limb to its useful flexibility."

Akoz has benefited thousands not only for the above ailments, but for diabetes, stomach trouble, Bright's disease, ulcers, catarrh, eczema, poison oak and other ailments. For sale at all leading drug stores, where further information may be had regarding this advertisement.
